Aid To Aged Cost To Rise

State niggardliness in lowering welfare payments for chronic care of the aged seems almost certain in Marin County to saddle a bigger eventual bill on the state, it was indicated before conty supervisors yesterday.

Meanwhile Marin nursing home operators agreed today that they will have to do "the best we can" with a modest increase in Medical Care for the Aged proposed by the state.

Acting Chairman William D. Fusselman drew a grim conclusion yesterday after Welfare Director Betty L. Presley had summed up results of the latest Sacramento gesture toward meeting Marin costs. His conclusion: It won't work.

In support of this Miss Presley said no more than $90 a month per payment could be added to the state's intended May 1 rates of $219 per month per patient for basic care, $272 for extensive care. No Marin nursing home is likely to qualify for the full $90, she added.

"Few will keep extensive care patients here at that rate, few if any will keep basic care patients," said Miss Presley, explaining that most Marin welfare patients fall into the "basic" category. The generally accepted Marin County minimum for such category is $350 a month.

"So we're really not much better off after all," commented Supervisor Peter Behr. "It's illusory so far as we're concerned."

Then Fusselman nailed down the probabilities: That most present nursing home patients must leave, and that because the state won't allow county supplementation of its Medical Assistance for the Aged program there seems nothing to be done about that.

The alternative, said Fusselman, will be to place these patients in acute-care hospital facilities because the state

BROTHERS LOST ON SHIP— 'BOTH MY SONS'

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—They were brothers, shipmates and neighbors. Each had four children.

They were aboard the nuclear submarine Thresher, believed lost in the Atlantic yesterday.

"Both my sons. Both my sons," grieved Mrs. Neil D. Shafer today. It was about all she could say.

Benjamin, 35, and John, 33, were electricians on the Thresher.

They and their families lived at a trailer park here, near the home of their parents.

Good Friday Services Are Set In Marin

Marin County churches will mark Good Friday tomorrow with services commemorating the death of Christ on Calvary.

Most retail stores and government offices in the county will be closed from noon to 3 p.m.

Three community services, under auspices of the Marin County Council of churches, will be held in San Anselmo, Anselmo, San Rafael and Terra Linda.

The First Baptist Church of San Anselmo will have services from 12:30 to 2 p.m. for its members of five other churches. The First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael will have services from 12:30 to 2 p.m. with three other churches taking part, and Christ Presbyterian Church in Terra Linda will have services from 1 to 2:30 p.m. with four other churches taking part.

Another community service, sponsored by the Youth for Christ of Marin County, will be held for six parishes at the First Baptist Church of San Rafael. Other churches taking part are Harmony Baptist Church, San Rafael; Assembly of God Church, San Rafael; Assembly of God Church, Mill Valley; Calvary Baptist Church, Mill Valley, and Corte Madera Baptist Church.

The combined choirs of six Novato churches will sing Theo-

Nuclear Vessel In Dive Off East Coast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy gave up hope today on the nuclear-powered submarine Thresher and the 129 men who rode her down into a mile and a half of water 220 miles off Boston yesterday.

Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, made the announcement more than 25 hours after contact was lost during a deep diving test of the recently overhauled vessel.

EPITAPH FROM PRESIDENT

"Very reluctantly I have come to the conclusion that the Thresher has indeed been lost," Anderson said.

And President John F. Kennedy, in a statement expressing his deep distress over the disaster, wrote an epitaph for the ship's complement of officers, enlisted men and civilians.

He compared them with "their forefathers who led the advance on the frontiers of our civilization.

"The future of our country will always be sure when there are men such as these to give their lives to preserve it."

Anderson said two main factors influenced his judgment:

The salvage vessel Recovery followed an oil slick detected yesterday and found bits of cork used in internal construction of submarines.

Even if there had been a communications failure or the Thresher had gotten out of position in relation to its escort ship, the Skylark, "surely in the interim there would have been opportunity for the Thresher" to have re-establish contact.

ORDERS TO OTHER SUBS

"I conclude with great regret and sadness that this fine ship with 129 souls aboard is lost," Anderson said.

He disclosed at the same time that orders had gone out to two other Thresher class submarines—the Permit and the Plunger—to limit the depth to which they dive pending determination whether there are metal faults in the hull or other weaknesses.

The naval chief said a court of inqury will investigate, among other things, work done on the Thresher during overhaul at the Portsmouth, N. H. naval yard since last July.

He noted that in the course of this overhaul and modernization, involving installation of new equipment, cuts as much as a yard wide had been made in the Thresher's hull.

He said tests were made to find out if there were

How It Feels As Sub Dives

(EDITOR'S NOTE—What's it like cruising under the sea in a nuclear submarine such as the Thresher? How does the crew react in a deep dive, in an emergency? Elton C. Fay, AP military affairs writer, tells about it by drawing on his first-hand observations during rides on atomic subs.)

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) —Whatever happened aboard the Thresher, there almost certainly was no panic.

Submariners have steel nerves. Years of training mean they react instantly and instinctively to orders, whatever the circumstance.

What is it like aboard a high-speed, deep-diving atomic submarine? Such a submarine as the Thresher, lost in the Atlantic, perhaps under hundreds of feet of ocean?

What is it like when a submarine goes down for hundreds of feet and then, for urgent reason, pushes past the red line marking on the depth indicator, beyond which mighty pressure builds up swiftly and dangerously?

You remember rides aboard nuclear submarines.

There is the calmness, the orderly way the ship is handled, the low-spoken commands and responses. Crewmen in the mess, drinking coffee, crewmen at the controls, crewmen in the machinery spaces, in the torpedo compartments. Submarins are quiet and nuclear submariners quieter.

There was the time aboard the Seawolf, second atomic submarine built.

Copter Plan 'Very Soon'

Helicopter service to Marin County can be established within three months of a grant of official premission, M. F. Bagan, president of San Francisco and Oakland Helicopter Airlines, Inc., said at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing in San Francisco yesterday.

Service would be to either San Rafael or Corte Madera by present plans, Bagan said in

X-15 Tests Photo Job At 2,500 MPH

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — An X-15 rocket ship with a camera sunk in the underside of its nose streaked an estimated 2,500 miles an hour today in its first test as an aerial mapping plane.

The flight was the record-smashing X-15's first in its new role of fringe-of-space workhorse, hauling scientific instruments to heights unreachable by most aircraft.

Eventually the X-15 will be used to perfect cameras more powerful than those in U-2 spy planes. It also will carry telescope designed to photograph stars from a vantage point high above the earth's dirty blanket of atmosphere.

The camera carried aloft today is a standard Army KC-1 used in aerial surveys and will be replaced later by equipment with stronger lenses.

Primary purpose of the flight was to measure how much distortion it caused 1) by the faster-than-sound shock waves generated by the speeding plane and 2) by the friction-heated air flowing past the fuselage.

Temperatures on the X-15's steel skin rose to 800 degrees Fahrenheit at times during today's flight to an estimated 70,000 feet.

Most Cafes Open Tomorrow

Most Marin restaurants will remain open all day tomorrow, but give their employees time off at different times to observe Good Friday.

Generally, other retail business in the county will be closed from noon to 3 p.m., the hours of meditation scheduled at many Marin churches.

Chamber of Commerce in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Mill Valley, Sausalito and Novato all said there would be no business from noon to 3 p.m.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Nine Airmen Die In Travis Crash

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—An Air Force C133 Cargomaster crashed in soggy marshland 3,000 feet from the landing strip here yesterday, killing all nine crewmen aboard.

The plane, a type which often carries missiles, was apparently attempting to land after a routine training flight, Air Force officials said. Officers said the plane carried no nuclear material.

The plane burst into flames on impact. It was virtually impossible for base firefighters to reach the wreckage through the marshland. An Air Force spokesman said the craft burned for nearly an hour after it crashed.

Citizen Churchill Off To Riviera

LONDON (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill, who was carried home from the Riviera aboard a stretcher last June, walked aboard an airliner today taking him back there for a vacation in the sun.

Churchill

The 88-year-old former prime minister packed away his new honorary American citizenship papers and displayed the tenacity which rallied Britain in two wars and won the hearts of men of all nations.

He scorned a London ariport official's suggestion that he be carried aboard the British European Airways jetliner taking him to the Mediterranean.

"I'll walk," Churchill growled around his cigar. And he did.

Missilemen In Two Successes

The series began in failure when the Navy had to destroy an errant Polaris A-3 missile launched from a surface vessel off the coast.

An Air Force-industry team fired a Minuteman "instant ICBM" more than 4,000 miles into the Atlantic.

A tiny rocket was launched on a weather data gathering mission in space to end the day on a successful note.

Egypt, Syria, Iraq To Unite As Nation

CAIRO (AP) — The rulers of Egypt, Syria and Iraq have agreed to unite their 38 million people in a new United Arab Republic with Cairo as the capital, but they are keeping most of the details secret.

After four days of unity negotiations, Egyptian Premier Aly Sabry announced last night that the new U.A.R. will have a single flag, a central military command and one nationality for all.

Sabry did not say who will head the unified state, but there seemed little doubt that Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser will hold the reins.

The three original states will be know as the Egyptian region, Syrian region and Iraqi region. Sabry's announcement indicated that the new U.A.R. will have a strong central government, controlling foreign affairs, defense, economic planning, currency, foreign trade, customs and taxes. But a source who was present at the negotiations said purely local affairs will be kept in local hands rather than under tight Cairo control as was the case in the previous abortive Syrian-Egyptian union.

Sabry said the new state will have central control of information and propaganda agencies and of education to insure "unified thought for the nationalist unionist trend."

With much still to be worked out the unity negotiators are continuing to meet in Cairo. Of major interest will be the provision for political parties. Egypt under Nasser is a one-party state, while control of the new revolutionary regimes in Iraq and Syria is shared by the moderate Ba'ath Socialists and Nasserites.

Another big question mark hangs over the future division of Iraq's rich oil revenues, the chief financial resource of the new nation.

There was no indication when the new republic will come into being.

On the heels of the unity announcement came a report that Egypt test fired two rockets last week from launching pads near Port Suez at the southern end of the 104-mile canal.

It was the first word of rocket firings since last July, when Nasser announced the presence of rockets in Egypt and allowed newsmen to witness launchings.

Nasser said at the time that Egypt was working on two types of ground-to-ground rockets, the larger with the range of 360 miles. Fired from Port Suez, the larger rockets could threaten all of Israel.

Senate Approves Kennedy Youth Work Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved President John F. Kennedy's program to put thousands of American youths to work on conservation and community projects.

But before the youngsters can be sent into parks and forests and into local hospitals and libraries, the House will have to give its approval. And this, administration lieutenants concede, is no sure thing.

Kennedy men in the Senate had promised to pass the youth employment bill before Easter. They made good last night, but it took a 12-hour session, longest of the year, before the 50-34 vote was rolled up.

Although the House Labor Committee has approved a bill close to the Senate version, House Republicans promise a stiff fight and Democratic leaders say they do not know if the bill will be passed.

It won't be called up for debate until the holiday recess ends April 22 and floor consideration is unlikely before May, said administration leaders in the House.

The legislation deals with two programs which, proponents say, will eventually provide up to 100,000 jobs a year to those in the 16-21 age bracket.

One would send youths into camps in a federal conservation corps patterned after the old CCC of the 1930s. The other would establish a state and community force to work on local public service projects.

The measure was cleared to the House with votes of 43 Democrats and seven Republicans. It was opposed by 20 Republicans and 14 Democrats, 12 of them Southerners.

Republicans centered their attack on the conservation corps section of the bill, its most attractive feature to many Democrats. GOP efforts to eliminate this failed by 47 to 41, the closest squeak for the bill in the floor fight.

Managers of the bill accepted a Republican amendment to ban any exclusions from the program on racial grounds. But they rejected others to prohibit segregation in the camps and to bar discrimination in the facilities on which the youths work.

The bill would authorize 50 million dollars each for the conservation camps and local public service projects in the first year of the program.

For the remaining four years covered by the bill, it would be up to the administration and Congress to decide how much money to go into it.

Science Knows Whys Of Cancer, Want To Find Out Where They Are

By DELOS SMITH

LA JOLLA (UPI)—Science is completely convinced it knows where the "whys" of cancer are. The question is, how soon will it be able to get its hands on those "whys" and how quickly will it be able to put them to life-saving use?

These whys, according to practically unanimous scientific opinion which is backed by much hard evidence, are strung along the double-dyoyribonucleic acid—DNA.

When Dr. I. S. Ravdin, president of the American Cancer Society, opened its annual science writers seminar on cancer research by saying the final answer to cancer would involve "the very secrets of life" he was referring to this molecule.

Every life starts with one. It comes into being in the fertilized egg and it contains not only the hereditary directions for the making of a new life but the directive means of operating this life once it is fully formed.

It contains the genes which dictate whether eyes will be brown or blue, whether the new individual will be tall or short and everything else derived from forebearers. It also has the chemical powers to unfold the templates against which all the body-operating proteins are formed.

This molecule could account for all the theorized "whys" of cancer. One of these theories holds that viruses cause cancer. Viruses could do it by "inserting" their own DNA or its subsidiary molecule, RNA, into human DNA or RNA and thereby pervert some of the millions of templates into cancer-operating proteins.

Another theory holds that the culprits are noxious substances, such as cigarette smoke, atmospheric pollutants such as automobile exhaust "products," and a whole host of chemical compounds that are proved cancer-causers.

If they could somehow get into DNA and RNA molecules and influence their operations, the results would be drastic changes in chemical procedures which could result in cancers.

SACRAMENTO DEADLOCK

Dangerous, Hypnotic Drugs Targets Of Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Sen. Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville) said today he's hopeful of sending a series of bills aimed at dangerous and hypnotic drugs to the Senate floor next week.

The measures include a controversial proposal to require a triplicate prescription to obtain the pain-killing "Percodan."

The committee, of which Regan is chairman, deadlocked 66 on the bill two weeks ago.

Regan said, however, that Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced) was absent from the hearing and he hopes to obtain the key vote when the committee meets again next Monday night.

Ten other bills are pending before the committee. All introduced by Regan, they are sponsored by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk and the Bureau of Narcotics Enforcement.

The legislation seeks to tighten controls on what are considered dangerous as well as hypnotic and amphetamine drugs. The program is supported by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Medical witnesses opposing the "Percodan" bill testified the harmful effects of the drug have been exaggerated.

Mosk told the committee that hundreds of Californians are becoming addicted to the drug.

Marin Relief To Be Modernized

By RANDALL GOULD

Endorsement of a modernized general relief program for Marin County was unanimously voted by a special meeting of three of Marin's five supervisors yesterday.

A motion approved by the board directed county counsel to prepare a detailed resolution covering the first revision since 1957.

Results, said Welfare Director Betty L. Presley, will include overdue reforms in the way of more streamlined procedures, recognition of a 14 per cent cost of living rise since price figures were set six years back, addition of certain relief items now considered essential, and a commonsense approach to many minor items now causing staff bother and individual privation.

Cost could increase 28 per cent in the next fiscal year if present caseloads give accurate indication of the future. But new state legislation now under consideration might materially reduce the burden to Marin County.

Under "eligibility" the permitted assessed valuation of real property would become $3,500 rather than the present $3,000, representing $15,000 market value, while the personal property figure would rise from $500 to $600. Both changes, said Miss Presley, "give a very modest recognition to rise in values and inflation during the 16 years since the formula was set up in 1947.

Major changes of philosophy concerning relief assistance reflect change from emergencies of the 1930s, said Miss Presley, and changes during the 1950s "leaving chronic pockets of unemployment, which make this approach of temporary emergency assistance on a short-term basis seriously inadequate."

She said there is now frequent or continued loss of income "among the unskilled or underskilled group who do not compete in a mechanized, prefabricated economic society."

Miss Presley spoke of a few families still on general relief rolls which were familiar names at the time she came to Marin County in 1951.

"They have lived and borne and raised their children on a standard of temporary stop-gap emergency relief for a large part of the intervening 12 years," she said.

"I have personally reviewed every pair of socks, or shorts, or haircut, for which we have paid over the past two years." Recipients are exhausted by efforts to get along with officialdom and inflation "yet they have to ask for every haircut," she declared.

Miss Presly summed up this situation as "time-consuming and degrading" for everybody concerned and backed lump-sum payments expended at the recipients' discretion.

"If there is any thought," said Miss Presley, "that an inadequate, limited standard of assistance is a deterrent to assistance and an incentive to spur people on to heights of self-sufficiency, our experience to date is ample evidence to the contrary."

Too much time wasted by social workers and clerks on such things as authorizing haircuts just means high administrative costs for needless controls while forcing recipients to beg for aid, she said.

Two bills now before the legislature will, if passed, "materially decrease our general relief caseloads so that we would be talking about fewer people and less dollars," she said.

After lengthy conference the board found Miss Presley's program commonsense and reasonable, and voted full support. This was her second clean sweep of the day, for earlier she had similarly won endorsement of proposals for gradual staff enlargement required by new federal and state rules providing for rehabilitation and other services.

tine trip to the New London, Conn., base. One day out a message came to join in a hunt for a suspected unknown submarine in the area, off the Florida coast.

The tempo changed. This wasn't practice; this was a hunt to see whether there was a Russian submarine hovering off the U.S. coast.

Hour upon hour, the submarine cruised, stopped now, moving then, listening on passive sonar, closing in towards an area in which planes and ships had reported the suspected presence of an unknown.

The focal point of the search was reached. The Seawolf hunted and listened high up, near the surface, then down deeper. The active sonar was turned on. It sent out its pinging notes and listened for echoes from a steel hull—or something. What was that ahead, down below?

Take her deeper. The diving officer, standing behind the planesman at the controls, called off the depth, "passing one hundred, passing two hundred," and more and more hundreds. The depth indicator needle crept steadily toward the red line, then passed it.

The submarine was below the depth for which its hull and fittings were tested. Submarines can do this. It is hard on the boat and tenses up the nerves, but it is done on occasions.

The captain had ordered: "Rig for quiet patrol" and in a moment "Rig for ultraquiet." A great stillness came. The ordinary white lights were off. The deep red of battle lights touched highlights on faces and instruments and control levers, left shadows in sable black.

If you watched closely, you caught crewmen stealing quick glances at rivets and hull fittings as the terrific pressure of deep water built up.

The understanding is that a submarine hull usually doesn't just crush inwards, although this probably has happened in some accidents.

What probably happens in most instances is that an intake valve or other fitting through the pressure hull gives way suddenly. A compartment floods and the pressure overwhelms the door and bulkheads into other compartments. Suddenly the boat is filled and the pressure equalizes. It goes down and down, until it rests on the bottom.

Hallinan Gets Setback In Fight With Church

Belvedere attorney Vincent Hallinan, avowed "roaring atheist," lost a round yesterday in his legal fight to upset the bequest of a $200,000 estate to Catholic charities.

Superior Court Judge Byron Arnold in San Francisco, ruling on a pre-trial interrogation by Hallinan, said that Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken didn't have to answer questions about the location or existence of Heaven, Hell or Purgatory.

Hallinan's client is his son Terence Hallinan, who bought the interest of John Smith of Corte Madera in the estate of the late David F. Supple, who died in August, 1961. Smith is a grand-nephew.

Hallinan contends that the Catholic Church pressured Supple into leaving his estate to church charities by threatening him with "Hell and Purgatory." In a hearing Jan. 24 he demanded that the court order the archbishop to answer 38 questions about church doctrine to prove there is a Heaven, Hell and Purgatory.

The judge ruled that the validity of religious doctrines and an individual's belief in them is outside the court's jurisdiction.

Hallinan said he'll take the decision to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

"The law will not help me find Hell," the attorney said. "I'm sometimes like Diogenes . . . I try to use the law as a lantern and the light goes out."

He said the church "teaches people they can get into Heaven or avoid Hell" by giving to the church.

"We have now arrived at a state of civilization and science where the court should no longer permit that kind of fraud," Hallinan declared. He said he will next file for a writ of mandate from the District Court of Appeals to get the answers from the Archbishop.

must pay 75 per cent though the care is beyond need and the rate much higher than nursing homes will take.

Miss Presley met for nearly two hours today with representatives of eight of the nine nursing homes in the county. They reviewed the rate modifications which were outlined this week by the state.

"I think that everybody realizes that we are at the point where we are going to get all we can expect at this time from the state," Miss Presley told the operators.

"There will not be a mass exodus of patients from nursing homes as we had feared two or three weeks ago," she added. "But some patients clearly will have to be moved to hospitals."

Portions of the $90 increase will be allowed under specific conditions such as the capital investment in each home and the cost for patient care.

"The real defect in the state's program," Miss Presley said, "is that the entire overhead problem is ignored. The rates are set up as to whether a patient requires basic or extensive care, and the cost of nursing home operation is not split up that way."

The home operators will report before next Monday to the Welfare Department on the extent to which they will qualify for the increased rates.

"We will know then just how many patients may have to be put in other institutions where more aid will be available from the state," Miss Presley said.

in the public interest as well," Kennedy said in a statement.

But he held open the prospect of administration acceptance of selective, rather than broad price boosts.

He said price adjustments up or down, as prompted by changes in supply and demand, "are not incompatible with a framework of general stability and steel price stability and are characteristic of any healthy economy."

The presidential statement followed a day and a half of intensive White House scrutiny of a selective price increase averaging $6 a ton on some items announced yesterday by Wheeling Steel Corp. No other company has announced a similar boost.

Civic Affairs Unit To Use Center

An Independent-Journal report yesterday of a Tuesday action before county supervisors erroneously said permission had been refused the Marin Council of Civic Affairs for free use of a Civic Center meeting room.

The supervisors in fact voted unanimously to allow the council to use its chamber without fee for the council's annual meeting April 28. Supervisor George Ludy expressed doubt that the council was sufficiently a "public body" to be entitled to such use without charge, but voted for the permission.

The headline said "No Center Use For Civic Affairs Unit" which council officials feel implies a refusal to allow use either gratis or for a fee. No such attitude toward the council has been expressed by the supervisors.

The Independent-Journal regrets these errors which were without malice, and resulted from condensation of an originally correct report.

Absentee Ballots Due Tomorrow

Deadline for returning absentee ballots for Tuesday's school trustee elections in Marin is tomorrow at 5 p.m.

About 150 absentee ballots have been requested, according to Asst. County Schools Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer. In order to be counted for the elections, absentee ballots must be received by the county schools office in the Civic Center before the 5 p.m. deadline, Kupfer said.

However, voters who obtained ballots from the Dixie or Kentfield school district offices, which will hold bond elections as well as trustee elections, must return ballots to the district offices.

$1.2 Million Apartments Passed

Sausalito planning commissioners last night approved a use permit for an 1.2-million-dollar apartment project in Marinship and heard a request for a use permit for a multi-million-dollar 180-unit apartment layout near Highway 101 in the Rodeo Avenue area.

Hearing on the latter request made by Ardilla Land Co. was continued to May 3 to permit the commission time to gain more information concerning architecture, the water problem, drainage and grades, chairman Mel Wax said today.

The project is in hilly area, Wax related, and would be reached only from the highway. It is in an area zoned for apartments but which is proposed to be duplex under the new zoning ordinance. "It will be the biggest apartment project in Sausalito," Wax said.

Applicants have allowed 2,500 square feet of land for each apartment unit, this figure being a requirement for duplex density. Apartments now require 1,250 square feet per unit as it is and the city proposes to up this to 1,500 square feet in the new ordinance.

The city council May 22, 1962 denied Ardilla a use permit to build a 422-unit apartment house in the same area, Rodeo Hill, disapproving of its sprawling nature, its density and citing traffic and fire protection protection problems.

The Marinship project will contain 33 apartments. George P. Rischmuller and Norman T. Johnson of Greenbrae, who sought the use permit, had had a permit first in 1961 and a renewal in 1962. It had expired and a new one was required. The developers have been kept from building awaiting approval of the Marinship master plan.

The Rischmuller-Johnson project, the first apartment complex to be approved in Marinship, is in five separate buildings. It complies with all Marinship recommendations, Wax said, except that apartments will have 1,250 square feet of land per unit rather than the recommended 1,500. This was allowed because applicants had had approval for 1,250 square feet in their original permit and have been held up through no fault of their own.

Rischmuller said today he hopes that an assessment district may be formed within six months to put in Harbor Drive to serve the project and that construction would begin immediately afterward.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply higher today on news of President John F. Kenneday's conciliatory attitude toward selective steel price increases.

Led by steels, the market ran up strongly immediately after Kennedy issued his statement before taking off for an Easter vacation in Florida.

U.S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Jones and Laughlin spurted to new 1963 highs.

Volume was estimated at 4.3 million shares compared with 5.91 million yesterday.

ALGIERS (AP) — Foreign Minister Mohammed Khemisti was gravely wounded in the head today by a pistol bullet fired by a young Moslem. The attacker was seized by police.

Pleads Guilty To Hamilton Burglary

Jones and Mitchell E. Spangler, 20, are accused jointly of the burglary in which more than $200 worth of jewelry, cameras and other items were taken.

Jones, of Concord, had been indicted originally on a first degree burglary charge. Today Asst. U. S. Atty. James Hewitt said the facts did not warrant such a serious charge. Second degree was substituted.

Both Jones and Spangler, who also pleaded guilty, will be sentenced April 25.

Heiress Loses $1.2 Million Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Heiress Joan Irvine Burt yesterday lost her 1.2-million dollar suit against the men who manage the land empire built up by her late grandfather.

Superior Judge Joseph Karesh dismissed the suit without comment.

Mrs. Burt had charged that directors of the Irvine family's widespread interests in Orange County had traded some land owned by the company for 1.2 million dollars less than it is worth.

Mrs. Burt owns 10 per cent of the stock in the company. Fifty-one per cent is owned by the Irvine Foundation, a charitable institution.

Easter Egg Hunt Set In Tiburon

The Tiburon Peninsula Club will hold its annual Children's Easter Egg Hunt for children 10 years and under on Saturday from 10 to 11 a.m.

As in previous years, the many-colored hard-cooked eggs will be hidden by "live" Easter bunnies throughout the TPC grounds. Children will hunt in small groups according to their age.

Pastries, doughnuts, hot chocolate and both Irish and American coffee will be available at the snack bar.

The hunt will be held "rain or shine" according to Mrs. Helen Issel, club manager. No reservations need be made.

Governor May Back End To Bridge Tolls

State Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) said yesterday that his bill to do away with tolls on the Golden Gate Bridge may receive strong backing from Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Collier's bill would dissolve the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and make the bridge part of the federal interstate highway system. The senator said that Brown "seemed very sympathetic" when he discussed the bill with him yesterday.

Senate In 1st Secret Session Since 1943

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate went into secret session today for the first time since World War II to debate the need for speeding development of an anti-missile missile.

The unusual closed session—first since 1943—was called to allow Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.), to use classified data in support of his claim that a possible Russian system of defense against missile might confront the United States with a new defense "gap".

Mill Valley Protests Subdivision On Tam

The Mill Valley City Council last night decided to protest to the Marin County Board of Supervisors about a proposed 15-acre subdivision by Roy M. Scott on Mount Tamalpais.

Dixie Voters Face $1.6 Million Bond Issue

A $1,600,000 bond issue to finance new schools in Dixie School District over the next five years will be asked of the district's voters in Tuesday's election.

The authorization must pass by two-thirds vote. If it fails to do so, it will be the first such failure in Dixie District's history.

The district has just issued the last of $950,000 in bonds authorized by voters in 1955, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis. That amount kept Dixie at its maximum legal bonded indebtedness over the eight years. The $1,600,000 authorization is expected to do the same for the next five years.

Besides the bond issue, the district has spent state loan money to build six schools since 1954 and purchase land for two more that are now on the drawing boards.

The bond issue will not increase tax rates, Willis said. The reason is that the state loan formula provides for reduction in loan retirement payments when districts must increase bond payments. Also, some of the first bonds sold will be paid off by the time the new bonds are drawing interest.

The tax rate this year is $2.82 per $100 assessed valuation.

All Parent-Teacher groups in the district have endorsed the proposed bond issue, and Superintendent Willis said he has not discovered any organized opposition to it.

Willis said the district has been growing at the rate of 300 to 400 new pupils a year, and he expects it to contiune at that rate.

The 1.6 million dollars will be needed, first, to build three new schools by January of 1965. These will be the Miller Creek Intermediate School on Las Gallinas Avenue, the Terra Linda Valley School near Terra Linda High School, and a new unnamed school in the Lucas Valley Eichler Tract west of the County Farm and Hospital.

New locations which the bond money would help pay for would be a site west of the new Lucas Valley Eichler Tract, another between Lucas Valley Road and Terra Linda, and a third in some area such as the Silveira or Smith Brothers' Ranches east of Highway 101.

According to the Dixie District Finance Committee, if the bond issue is not approved the district will face half-day sessions and over-crowded classrooms by September of 1964.

Legion Aide To Speak In Mill Valley

A Lee Oder, American Legion State Department commander, will speak at the Past Commanders' Night dinner at the American Legion Hall in Mill Valley April 21, post Commander Francis W. Mosher Jr. announced today.

It is the first visit of the legion's state chief in Marin for six years. About 150 post members and their wives are expected to attend. Past Commander Roy A. Ibach is program chairman. C. J. Denne of Boyes Springs, District 5 Americanism chairman, will present a national citation from the Legion to past Commander James McGuinness, Mill Valley post Americanism chairman for 1961-62.

A committee of wives and widows of past commanders headed by Mrs. Ibach will prepare a Swiss steak dinner to be served by the Mill Valley Bethel of Job's Daughters.

Skindivers Save Money In Taxes

The job ordinarily takes 12 hours but the skindiving crew has switched a prop in five minutes.

In 1962, the men changed 115 propellers, saving $6,000.

The Spaniards took over the Philippine Islands in the 16th Century, named them for Philip II and converted most of the coastal and valley people to the Catholic Church.

$125.5 Million State School Measure Faces Tough Going

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The bill to boost California school aid by 125.5 million dollars next year is on its way to the economy minded Assembly ways and means committee after breezing through the Education Committee.

Only one no vote was heard at the climax of a three and one-half hour hearing yesterday before an overflow audience of 5,000, most of whom remained until the 11:15 vote. Assemblyman John L. E. Collier (R-Los Angeles) opposed the measure.

The bill by Assemblyman Charles Garrigus (D-Reedley) faces much tougher going in ways and means.

That committee's chairman, Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda) has introduced a Brown administration bill to raise next year's money for education from kindergarten through junior college by 55 million dollars.

This measure hasn't yet come before the Education Committee, chaired by Garrigus.

The 126.5 million dollars in his bill would come from 101.5 million dollars in aid channeled to local school districts from state funds, and 25 million dollars raised in the districts by a countywide tax system.

The governor's proposal asks only 30 million dollars in added state aid, plus the 25 million dollars from the countywide tax. He has declared he won't accept the Crown bill without the countywide tax idea which was rejected in 1961.

The countywide tax system would require each property tax payer to pay at least $1.10 per each $100 assessed valuation for school aid. It would result in increasing the tax payments of a minority, however, since most Californians already fork over school taxes higher than $1.10.

The extra 25 million dollars raised would be taken from so called "rich" districts and given to "poor" districts in the same county.

San Jose, Costa Rica, with more than 102,000 population, stands in the central highland of Costa Rica 40 miles inland from the Pacific and 50 miles from the Caribbean.

Motorists Get Reminder On Gas

BEREA, Ohio (AP)—Motorists will receive some friendly advice upon entering the Ohio Turnpike during the next few weeks: "Make sure you have enough gasoline."

Entrance plaza personnel are being instructed to issue the reminder orally. Executive director C. W. Hartford says it's an expermient to try and reduce the number of vehicles stranded on the northern Ohio toll road with dry gasoline tanks.

Turnpike officials have posted reminder signs and are continuing to use them, but Hartford says "results are something less than dramatic."

Old Walnut Log Worth $2,365

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Look twice at any old logs you may have lying around your home place; a Louisville firm recently bought a black walnut log for $2,365.

The 24-foot long log was 38 inches in diameter, whereas a normal walnut log is only 12-14 inches in diameter.

The log, from the Pennsylvania Loyalsock Game Farm in Lycoming County, was figured to be 175-200 years old. The firm expected it to yield 70,000 veneer surface feet with a hoped-for price of about 25 cents a surface foot.

Food Investments

CHICAGO (UPI)—Food manufacturers have invested more than 10 billion dollars since 1946 in new equipment and in new and modernized plants, reports the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc.

Good Idea For Driving

SANFORD, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. J. Shelton Wicker was driving a station wagon with her children in the back seat when one of the youngsters suddenly reached forward and put his hands around her eyes, saying: "Guess who?"

After recovering from the shock of a near-accident she went home, took the side off a baby crib and tied it in the car to make a barrier between the front and back seats.

From this homemade gadget came the idea for making a "safety car fence." Now a Sanford furniture company and a local welder are turning out Mrs. Wicker's invention to be sold in auto accessory stores.

Prisoners Used As Fire Fighters

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky is taking a page from California by using carefully screened reformatory inmates for forest fire control in the eastern mountain area.

Warden David Davis of LaGrange Reformatory says the project is helping rehabilitation and giving the state extra manpower to combat fires.

California has 22 such forestry camps for prisoners.

Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ninety-nine traffic deaths were recorded in Illinois during January, according to the Division of Highways and the State police. It was a reduction of six deaths from the same month a year ago.

EASTER DISPLAY

8 Camp Fire Girls Police Bunny Houses

Eight Campfire Girls have been assigned to feed, water and police the Bunny House in Mill Valley's Lytton Square, part of the city's Easter display.

Their charges include rabbits, chickens and ducks loaned by Jerry Gooch of Sonoma with food being supplied by Wilton's Pet Supplies.

Two girls are watering the Easter flowers placed throughout Mill Valley commercial areas in garden carts, wishing wells and planter boxes under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce.

Persons interested in buying containers and flowers after Easter are invited to see Granville L. Beedle, secretary-manager of the Chamber at 85 Throckmorton Avenue. Proceeds are used by the chamber to pay part of next year's expenses.

Monastery May Go To Buddhists

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco's "invisible monastery" may become a house of worship for Buddhists in the High Sierra.

The monastery, hidden from view behind the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park, was a gift to San Francisco from William Randolph Hearst.

Mayor George Christopher has asked the museum trustees if they would be willing to give the monastery to a Buddhist congregation in Middlebar, a small town near Jackson.

No Work Left For Him To Do

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)— The Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission was sorting through a number of job applications when it came across this one.

The applicant had been asked why he left his previous job.

"Done all the work," was the answer written down.

Bonds Considered Best For Library

A bond issue was considered to be the most feasible means of raising money for the proposed new Mill Valley library by the city council and library board trustees at a joint meeting last night.

However, no date for an election can be set, councilmen said, until the property has been acquired. A date in court is awaited for condemnation proceedings underway for the largest portion of property owned by Roy A. Ibach between Miller and Presidio avenues. A smaller parcel, the Bedecarrax property, is being negotiated for by trustees.

Trustees said they would prefer to keep the amount of the bond issue in the neighborhood of $300,000 and that they prefer a special election to a general or regular city election. Councilman George Blackwell said he would not vote to set it for special election but gave no reason why.

Donn Emmons, library architect, reported that the cost to build the library is $230,000, which is lower than originally estimated at $280,000. The 11,655 square foot building would cost $230,000 at today's prices. Added to this would be $30,000 for site work and landscaping, $25,000 for furniture, $28,000 for fees for architect, landscape architect and landscape contractor and $1,200 for testing materials and soil. This would total $314,000 which might be reduced to $300,000 with the proposed sale of the old library at about $20,000.

"We had better get going," said Benjamin Draper, library board chairman "because $50,000 in (library) savings will be lapped up by the forces of inflation." He added that building costs go up about $1,000 per month.

Councilman Michael Wornum said it would be "silly" to have a special election until the proposed state assembly bill has been acted upon. The bill would change percentage of vote to pass a measure from the present 66 and two-thirds to 60 per cent. Results should be known by July, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said.

Council also heard from Draper that the board wants to continue the five-cent library tax in the 1963-64 budget. The council approved payments to Emmons of $2,000 for schematic plans for the site acquisition fund.

Police Chief Shot As 'Intruder'

SAVANNAH BEACH, Ga. (UPI) —Police Chief David McCutchen was shot to death last night by a schoolteacher who said he thought the officer was a prowler.

Police early today held Richard Godfrey, about 25, of Atlanta, and his wife for questioning but they were not immediately charged.

McCutchen was shot down as he was making a routine check of a summer house.

Godfrey told officers he thought McCutchen was a prowler and he fired a pistol through the door in an attempt to frighten him away.

Annual Rodeo Set In Novato

The fifth annual rodeo will be presented on June 16 as one of the main events of the Novato Western Weekend celebration.

In the past, the rodeo was a joint effort of the Novato Horsemen's Assn. and the Donald V. Westlund Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It has so grown in size that these two sponsoring organizations have asked the Novato Kiwanis Club to join them.

Co-chairmen of this year's rodeo are Ad Schwindt and Neil Cullins of the Novato Horsemen.

The Kiwanis Club will handle the program and the beer sales. George McDaniel will be in charge of the beer sales and Robert Carrow is heading the sale of the program advertising.

The sale of soft drinks, hot dogs and candy will be handled by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Leo Slodownick is chairman in charge of these concessions.

The queen of Western Weekend will also reign as the queen of the rodeo.

Cotton Rosser's Flying U Ranch again will furnish the stock for the rodeo. Some of this stock was used in the national finals last year.

The Novato rodeo is the only Rodeo Cowboys Assn. rodeo that gives local people the opportunity to see big name cowboys in action. In the past such cowboys as Casey Tibbs, Harley May and Jim Rodrigues Jr., have appeared in the Novato rodeo.

Sausalitan Pays Fine For Disturbing Peace

Dennis Michael Burkell, 23, of 515 Easterby Street, Sausalito, paid $26.25 fine yesterday for disturbing the peace at Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael last Sunday night.

Harry Edwin Brogioli, 25, of 218 Amicita Avenue, Mill Valley, who was arrested with Burkell, won a week's continuance yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

San Rafael police said Brigioli resisted arrest after creating a disturbance.

Burkell admitted he raised his voice in anger, asking police to be careful with Brogioli because Brogioli had suffered a broken neck in an accident two years ago. Burkell told Judge Harold J. Haley he did not use profane language in the presence of women. However, he pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace because he did raise his voice to warn officers about his friend's neck injury.

Petty Larceny?

Phones Get Strong Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— The Ohio Department of Highways feels that pay telephones are essential in roadside parks along Ohio's interstate superhighways, but phone companies have complained of coin box robberies and vandalism.

So the department is experimenting with strong steel cases for the phones.

The welded steel boxes were designed and produced by workers who understand what it takes to foil a thief, in workshops of Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus.

Marines Offering Six-Month Duty Tour

High school graduates from Marin County have a chance to join the Marines now as a special training group and go on six months active duty beginning this summer.

The new training program, designed to give high school graduates in Marin a chance to form a Marine company of their own classmates and friends, was announced today by Capt. C. G. Henry of the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center near the Marin County Civic Center.

The group will leave Marin on July 24 and return Jan. 25, 1964, in time for the spring college semester. The group will first fly to San Diego for training, then will move to Camp Pendleton for three months of advance Marine infantry instruction.

three months basic military

In charge of recruiting is Gunnery Sgt. R. F. Richmond. His address is Co. M, 23rd Marines, 4th Marine Division, U.S. Marine Corps Reserve.

"This program will insure uninterrupted college years or fulltime employment while completing military service," Sergeant Richmond explained. "If one feels he cannot devote three years to regular service, the six-month program is the way."

While at Camp Pendleton, the men will be trained in all infantry weapons including the new M-14 rifle and M-60 machine gun that uses the 7.62 NATO cartridge.

After the six-month active duty, the group will return to the Marin training center for acceptance into the reserve company and to start their civilian careers.

Lawmakers Seeking Opinion On Powers To Cut Budget For U.C.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislators — searching for new funds to meet rising state expenses—revealed plans today to ask their lawyer how much power they have to cut the giant University of California budget.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post said it will be the first time a legal authority has spelled out the lawmakers' right to challenge university budget demands.

The demand for an opinion from Legislative Counsel Angus C. Morrison came after an Assembly ways and means subcommittee yesterday trimmed 2.45 million from the 157.4 million dollars Gov. Edmund G. Brown requested for the state's contribution to U.C. operations next year.

It was made by Assembly Majority Leader Jerome R. Waldie (D-Antioch), who indicated the legislature might have more budget-cutting authority than it thinks.

Morrison's opinion may clear legal waters that have been muddied by conflicting provisions of the State Constitution.

Post said one article of the constitution specifically says the University of California Board of Regents has full power to operate the school, subject to legislative control over "the security of funds" or "to protect endowments."

But another provision says that each state agency and board—including the regents—must submit its budget to legislative approval.

Further complicating the situation is the fact that much of the university's funds come from private sources or federal grants.

Marin Legal Aid Society Elects Head

Richard A. Clarke, San Rafael attorney, is new president of the Legal Aid Society of Marin County, with headquarters in the Albert Building in San Rafael.

Clarke was elected by the board of directors last week to succeed outgoing President Wallace S. Myers. Other new officers for 1963 are Catherine C. Pike, vice president; Douglas J. Maloney, treasurer, and Mrs. Joseph G. Wilson, secretary.

Elected to the board of directors were:

French Food For Southern Troops

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gus Jaubert, a French member of Confederate Gen. John Hunt Morgan's cavalry, is credited with inventing burgoo—once a favorite food at Kentucky political rallies.

Jaubert, cook for Morgan's men, had to use blackbirds for food because provisions were scarce. He prepared a dish with the birds as the main ingredient.

Later, pork, beef and mutton were used in the dish other than blackbird.

Atomic Sub Missing With 129 Hands

any weaknesses and the indications were there were none.

Anderson disclosed that the oil slick was sighted again this morning at 10:20 and this confirmed the position of the sub.

Anderson, asked if any occupants of the sub might be alive, said:

"In my judgment, no."

Asked how long the men in the sub might have lived, the Navy's top admiral said a "very, very short time, perhaps a matter of minutes.

At least up to the time Anderson made his announcement the Navy had been fighting against the longest odds, compounded by foul weather and the depth of the water, and hoping for a miracle.

Ships were concentrated over the area with the latest search and rescue gear and more were speeding to the point where the Thresher cocked its bow planes yesterday morning at 9:17 and went down for a deep dive test.

But the admiral's words put all but the final seal on the Navy's worst peacetime submarine disaster, perhaps its worst of all time.

Anderson said the ocean research submarine Trieste, a deep-diving experimental craft, will be brought from San Diego by rail and sent down to try and locate the wreck to determine whether the Thresher collapsed and what might have happened to it. The Trieste is expected in perhaps a bit more than a week.

As he did last night, Anderson said he agreed with Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover, the Navy's leading atomic expert, that there is "no probability of any radiation contaminating the ocean" as a result of the Thresher disaster.

Anderson said the naval court of inquiry, meeting today in New London, Conn., will "certainly go into the possibility of sabotage." But he dismissed this possibility as remote.

He also said the court will consider whether there was any possible Russian action involved in the Thresher disappearance but he said "I certainly rule this out."

The area where the Thresher disappeared is one frequented by Soviet trawlers.

There were no Soviet submarines in the area "to the best of my knowledge" and no Soviet trawlers or other surface craft in the immediate area where the Thresher was test diving, the admiral said.

Anderson acknowledged that the roughly nine months the Thresher spent in the Portsmouth yard was "a little longer than usual."

But he explained this by saying the Thresher was the first of her class, and the shipyard was making certain improvements and metallurgical tests.

In the course of this work, Anderson said, the shipyard men cut into the hull. He said there were also t ps into the hull to add some external pieces of equipment.

"To the best of the knowledge of the personnel in the yard there were no defects to preclude carrying out the tests," Anderson said.

The naval chief ruled out any salvage of the Thresher from its probable resting place a mile and a half down in the Atlantic.

The search effort had gone ahead full force through yesterday and last night, even while hope was fading to the faintest flicker.

Del Mar Land Owners Form Association

The Del Mar Valley Property Owners Assn. was officially organized at a meeting last night at Del Mar School and voted to file articles of incorporation with the state.

The purpose of the association is to protect the rights and interests of the property owners in Del Mar, Pine Terrace and the projected Francisco Vista subdivision.

A general membership meeting will be held in May.

The following directors were elected to the board: Glidden R. Benefield, Henry J. Broderick, Tom T. Gray, Donald C. Mitchell, Kenneth Lucas, Alexander McDougal, Hildreth Stong, George White and Edward C. Pino.

Two men who subsequently became presidents, Calvin Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt, ran against each other for the office of vice president in 1920.

Passengers Injured In 3-Car Crash

Two passengers were slightly injured late yesterday in a three-car rear-end crash on Highway 101 about 600 feet north of the Hamilton Air Force Base main gate, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Beatrice O. Ellis, 39, of El Segundo, Los Angeles County, passenger in a car driven by William H. Ellis, 40, of the same address, was to see a private physician for bruises.

Lyle K. Ferbrache, 18, of Talmadge, Mendocino County, passenger in a 1960 sports car driven by Derek M. Francis, 17, Ukiah gas station attendant, was treated at Novato Hospital for a nose cut.

Officer John Courter said Francis, driving north ran into the rear of the halted car of Stuart B. Hart, 39, of New York, at about 4:40 p.m.

Hart's car then hit the rear of the Ellis car, which had halted for traffic. Francis said he was lighting a cigarette when the crash occurred.

San Marin Annex Is Nearing Reality

The annexation of San Marin to Novato, the 4,200 unit subdivision on the Freitas C Ranch just west of the city is coming closer to reality, Mayor M. E. Silva last night told the Novato City Council at an adjourned meeting.

"It looks very favorable that San Marin will annex," Silva said in a report to the council. He is chairman of the council's annexation committee.

"Many details remain to be worked out yet," Silva said, "but they are getting the map of the subdivision to the boundary commission."

"And that is a big important step," he added.

Councilman Howard Schoof said that it was one of the most important steps that the community of Novato has ever undertaken.

"It will change the complexion of the community by the addition of 12,000 people to it," Schoof said.

The council named Harding Associates of 56 Harbor Drive, San Rafael, as the soils testing firm for the San Jose Boulevard realignment project. Cost of the work to be done will be between $1,900 and $2,300 estimated.

An annual contract for unlimited dumping for $360 per year was approved by the council with the Redwood Sanitary Land Fill, Inc.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. reported to the council that legal steps in the rezoning for a 102 unit apartment house at Center Road and Diablo Avenue had been correct.

At its last meeting, the council had temporarily held up a building permit on the unit when the citizens of the area protested that they had not received their second notice. The council agreed that the building permit could be issued now.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Set wage scales to be paid for various types of labor before advertising for bids for the remodeling work to be done on the community house.

2. Approved a contract with the state to make a population estimate to see if Novato has gained enough population to qualify for state funds.

3. Heard a report from Joseph that 33 out of the 36 property owners on Center Road Project 1 had agreed to negotiate for the right-of-way for the widening of that street.

4. Accepted two drainage easements for a ditch between Tamalpais Avenue and Warner Creek with the provisions that the city get title insurance policy on the property.

5. Upheld the planning commission requirement on a lot split for three lots on which the city planning commission required widening of Marion Avenue and the installation of curbs and gutters.

Police Know How Olympic Skier Slain

RENO (UPI) — Police today knew how and when former Olympic skier Sonja McCaskie died, but still seemed far from identifying her killer.

A 30-inch length of thin Manila twine with a clothespin tied at each end was the instrument that snuffed out the life of the 24-year-old blonde beauty.

Dist. Atty. William Raggio and Police Chief Elmer Briscoe said that the twine, found in her apartment Friday, was shown to be the murder weapon through pathological and toxicological tests made on the victim's remains.

Raggio and Briscoe said that while their massive manhunt continued, they had no definite suspects in the murder. Two Reno men picked up for auto theft in West Virginia have been cleared of suspicion in the case, the official said.

Briscoe said investigators had questioned "10 or 15" more persons and given several lie detector tests with no results.

"The only way I can say the situation has improved is that more people have been eliminated as suspects," he said. "We are narrowing down the leads, not necessarily running out of suspects."

Test results show Sonja died sometime between 4 a.m. and noon Friday.

San Rafael Council To Canvass Election

The San Rafael City Council will meet at 11 a.m. tomorrow to canvass the results of Monday's election, City Clerk W. L. Morgan said today.

The meeting, which is expected to take about an hour, is required to be held on the Friday after election day under the city charter, Morgan said. Traditionally hardly anyone attends except duty-bound city officials.

TOKYO (UPI)—Japan will send 300 officers and enlisted men from its ground self-defense force to the United States in November for training in the handling and firing of Hawk missiles.

Hub Youths Arrested For Cycle Theft

Four San Anselmo youths who stripped down a stolen motorcycle, drilled the frame full of holes to lighten it and rode it up and down the trails on Mount Tamalpais were arrested by San Anselmo police last night.

The $325 motorcycle was stolen from the Fairfax home of William Weems, 120 Forrest Avenue, on March 23.

San Anselmo police made the arrest after a report that a 15-year-old youth was riding the motorcycle without any lights on Oak Avenue. The youth named two other boys, 14, and another, 13. They were cited to report to the probation office, the three older boys to answer charges of vehicle theft and the youngest, a charge of joy riding.

The motorcycle was damaged extensively, Fairfax police said.

Youth, 15, Burned By Gasoline Heater

Jerry Litzza, 15, of San Francisco received first and second degree burns on his face and neck when the flue in a gasoline heater flashed back at Rock Springs Camp on Mount Tamalpais yesterday afternoon, the Marin County Fired Department reported.

Litzza was treated at Marin General Hospital where he was taken by Marin Ambulance Service at 4:05 p.m.

MARIN PAINTING AT MEMORIAL MUSEUM

"Number 238," an oil painting by William Morehouse of Mill Valley, is currently on display at the M. H. De Young Memorial Museum in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park as part of an exhibit of 68 art pieces entered in the 1963 Phelan Awards competition. The art being shown was selected from 370 entries by 210 painters. The show continues through April 30. (Photo by Raymond Suen)

Tam Tax Measure Outlined

The Tamalpais Union High School District tax measure on next Tuesday's ballot is for retention of its $1.90 per $100 assessed valuation for operational expenses.

With 34 cents in override taxes for bond payment, personnel retirement and community services, the total district tax rate currently is $2.24.

The $1.90 operational rate will fall to $1.25 on June 30, 1964, if the measure fails.

In turn the $1.25 rate would fall to 75 cents (the legal minimum under state law without voter approval) on June 30, 1965.

Voters of the district approved raising the operational tax rate to $1.25 eight years ago for a 10-year period.

The district found the $1.25 rate insufficient, said board chairman Delman D. Smith, and in 1959 the voters approved an increase to the present $1.90 for five years.

Smith said the district after four years with the $1.90 rate has found it "a reasonable rate in accordance with the kind of program we wish to conduct, the enrollment growth in our high schools and the inflationary factor."

District officials said they are conducting the tax-retention campaign more than a year before the current rate would expire so as "not to be caught short." Smith gave three reasons:

1. This is a year in which by state law school elections are being held in April and June without special authorization.
2. "A matter of caution. If the measure should fail this year we could try again next year before the rate would expire and force us to curtail our program."
3. "If we win retention of the rate this year, it will assist us in advance budget planning."

Only 556 acres of the Pinot Noir grape, the leading wine grape of the Burgundy region of France, were growing in California in 1961.

Fairfax Attorney Says Solution To Problem Of Mudslides Near

Fairfax City Atty. Wallace S. Myers said today that he expects a satisfactory solution to the problem of slides at Frustuck Avenue to be made soon by San Rafael Associates.

Fairfax councilmen were told Monday night that excavation work for the firm's Sherwood Oaks Apartments was causing mud slides every time it rained. Myers and City Engineer Albert E. Siemer met with company representatives Tuesday and reviewed the report of Harding and Associates, engineers for San Rafael Associates.

The report said that the excavation along with poor subsurface for the street were responsible for the slides, Myers said. He said the firm will make a proposal within a few days to take care of its share of the responsibility.

Five In Race For Two Seats On West Marin Board

West Marin Elementary School District, which got a new superintendent this week, may get some new trustees next Tuesday.

Three members of the district whose terms expire are all seeking re-election, but they have opposition from two additional candidates.

Expiring are terms of Dr. Gordon J. Plattes, Donald J. McIsaac and Mrs. Suzanne Baty. Also in the race are Cecil R. Asman and Charles R. Reilley.

The board on Monday night gave Howard Brose, now superintendent of Foresthill in Placer County, a contract as superintendent starting July 1, succeeding George R. Stratton, who will become principal of two schools in Kentfield School District.

GORDON J. PLATTES

SUZANNE BATY

DONALD J. McISAAC

CHARLES R. REILLEY

Dr. Gordon J. Plattes, 43, who is now chairman of the board, has been practicing medicine in Point Reyes Station since 1948. He and his wife and two school-age children live at Silverhills in Point Reyes Station.

Plattes is completing his second term on the school board. He is a member of American and California Assns. and a former director and state delegate of the Marin Medical Society. He served in World War II as a Navy lieutenant (j.g.) in the Medical Corps and is a member of the American Legion.

He was born in St. Cloud, Minn., and completed his education at St. Cloud Teachers' College, St. John's University, and University of Minnesota, receiving his medical doctorate from the last institution.

Donald J. McIsaac, 46, has been a member of the West Marin board since the school district was formed 10 years ago, and was a trustee of the Olema School District five years before that. He and his wife, Lorraine, and four youngest children live in Olema. The eldest son is at Fort Hood, Tex.

McIsaac, a dairyman, is a director and former president for three years of the Marin County Farm Bureau. He is president of Western Dairymen's Co-op, Inc., a member of the San Francisco Milk Producer Control Board, a past president and 25-year member of Nicasio Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, and past president of the West Marin Lions Club. He is also a member of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce.

He was born in Nicasio and educated in the public schools of Marin County.

Suzanne G. Baty, 31, now serving on the board by appointment, is seeking a new four-year term. She is the wife of David R. Baty, judge of the Northwest Marin Judicial District. They and their three children live in Point Reyes Station.

Mrs. Baty has taught at Dominican Convent Upper and Lower Schools and at Katherine Branson School. She is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and took graduate studies at Stanford University. She was born in New York City.

She has been active in the Jennie Clarkson Home in New York, the San Francisco Junior League, and Marin Family Service Agency, Visiting Nurses Assn. and Young Women's Christian Assn. She is a member of the Point Reyes Cooperative Nursery School.

Cecil R. Asman, 38, is an income tax consultant with office in Novato. He and his wife, Mary Anne, and two school-age children live in Inverness.

Asman was active in civic affairs in Concord before moving to West Marin, being a charter member of the Gregory Gardens Improvement Assn., which established its own water system. He is on the executive council of the YMCA Y-Indian Guide program.

He was born in Chester, Va., and completed his schooling at University of Califorina. He served in the Navy during World War II.

Charles R. Reilley, 66, is perhaps best known of all the five candidates. He served as county fire chief for 11 years, retiring April 24, 1962, and earlier was a fire warden at Point Reyes Station for six years. He became a volunteer fireman in Point Reyes Station in 1930.

Reilley was born in Victor, Colo., worked in his youth in silver mines in Goldfield and Tonopah, Nev., and came to West Marin in 1925 to work for Radio Corp. of America. As a World War I soldier in Europe, he won the French Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism.

He is a past president of the Marin County Firemen's Assn. and a member of the Masoinc lodge of Tonopah, Nev., and of the Legion of Valor. He lives in Point Reyes Station, alone since the death of his wife in 1959.

New Hawthorne Assessments Cost: $215,000

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors Tuesday night confirmed that cost of the new Hawthorne Terrace sewer assessment district will be in the neighborhood of $215,000.

Of this $172,312 is to be for construction; the remainder is for engineering and attorney's fees and contingencies, according to Samuel A. Fletcher, secretary.

The overall figure is 16 per cent increase in what had been estimated earlier, owing to the fact that the lowest bid was $27,000 above the estimate by engineer J. Warren Nute. It is expected the contract for construction will be awarded sometime next week, Fletcher said.

Firm Is Asking More Tests On 'Smog Burner'

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

LOS ANGELES—American Machinery and Foundry Co. has submitted an application to the California Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board for testing a new version of its "smog burner" device.

The device incorporates a muffler idea that is claimed to make it more versatile and adaptable for mounting on automobiles.

L. C. Craigie, director of the smog burner program, said a special test station has been set up at Hawthorne. The facility will increase the capacity and time available to the state in its testing program, he said.

The "smog burner," known as the AMF/chromalloy, is a direct flame afterburner. It mixes air with the exhaust gases, which are then ignited and burned at high temperatures, thus reducing smog forming contaminants.

THISTOWN'SNAMEJUST GOESONANDONANDON . . .

LLANFAIRPWELLGWYNGYLLGOGERYCHWYRNDROBWLLLANTYSILIOGOGOGOCH, Wales (AP)—The curator of the Welsh National Folk Museum says the legendary name of this town—proudly claimed by generations of Welshmen as the longest place name in Britain—is a phony.

Llanfair etc., has lived on its tourist trade. Sentimental Welshmen suggested that the railroad station, due to be closed under a railroad modernization plan, be rebuilt in the museum grounds.

Curator Iorwerth Peate laughed at the idea. The station's real name, he said, is Llanfairpwell, meaning St. Mary by the Pool.

In the 19th Century, Peate explained, a local tailor added 46 letters to the name to make it St. Mary's Church in the Hollow of the White Hazel near to the Rapid Whirlpool of Llanty Silio of the Red Cave.

Mill Valley Streets 'Should Be Open'

Neighborhood streets in Mill Valley—all streets—should be kept open and passable.

This was the last word, made by Councilman George D. Monardo, at a hearing last night before the Mill Valley City Council on the a sub-committee report on "neighborhood streets." Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks had already said "we will maintain streets we have always maintained to the extent of the funds we have available."

The council took no action to adopt the report and continued discussion to April 25. At that time, Sheeks said, the council may have had time to look into the preliminary 1963-64 budget which he said, according to City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants' calculations, faces us with a possible 25 per cent increase in the tax rate.

Only Councilman Michael Wornum supported the subcommittee's report insofar as believing the city could afford to contribute five or 10 cents in tax money to a fund to improve streets through property owner assessment districts.

"Basically the city's function is fire, police and streets," said Wornum. But Sheeks countered saying "I question whether or not we will find funds to do this."

Wornum, a co-author of the report, also suggested eliminating alphabetical categories for streets and suggested that when an "A" street (one with improvements and accepted by the city) deterioriates to a "B" street (one unimproved and not accepted) people on the street should chip in and repair it. Now the city must repair them.

Monardo argued for retaining "A" through "D" categories and said "Let's maintain streets, keep them open and travelable, watch drainage and see what happens in one year." He also suggested a review every three or four years to set up a pattern of repairs.

"It's fair to set up a program of maintenance, I think," said Monardo, "Where these streets are maintained annually so no one has to get on the phone where the people who call the most get the most service and those who don't call don't get any service."

A small crowd of people made these comments: "I think it is the duty of the city to maintain its streets as it provides other services," said Jean Montgomery, an Ethel Avenue resident. "We're all entitled to city services on streets as any other kind of service. A great deal of the poor condition of our streets at present is due to lack of maintenance."

Edward Sykes, who said he lives on Rose Avenue, "A rutted cow trail," said "We get a grader once a year" and asked for "something more." Almcrants told Sykes that a lot of money is spent on culverts and drainage to keep streets such as Rose open and travelable and $15,000 was proposed to be spent on Rose next year but not for surfacing.

George C. Goheen Sr. told the council more people might go for assessment districts if they didn't fear that the improvement might take off their living room or garden which were built over city right of ways. City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said the city does not wish to destroy homes but he would like to see streets built so that when one car approaches another the two drivers could see each other.

Anita Suran commented "the more affluent property owner would be able to dip into the fund (proposed by Wornum) and I think the intent would be lost quickly among the more articulate property owners."

Tourist Gives Books To Library

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—Nogales city librarian Mrs. Ann Ashby was puzzled when a large box of books arrived. She couldn't remember placing an order for any new reading material.

She opened the box and found this note atop the books: "From a Cleveland tourist who passed by your beautiful new library building."

There was no name on the card.

Medic Program On FM Radio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Not all of the medical programs are on television this season. Ohio State University has one on FM radio.

Every other Wednesday at noon, some 1,150 doctors gather in a dozen hospitals in eight Ohio cities to participate in an hour's post-graduate training conducted by faculty members of Ohio State's College of Medicine. It is broadcast from the university's educational station and also from a commercial station.

The 12 hospitals are tied into the control center in Columbus by telephone line, so the audience may participate.

Circulation's wonderful! (30,017 families see to that)

The latest report on our circulation shows we get around. More than 30,000 families take us into their homes each evening.

That's on the best authority—the national Audit Bureau of Circulations. They've verified every copy . . . from Pt. Reyes to Sausalito and in between. Official figure: 30,017—the average for the past year, and the only ABC audited circulation of any newspaper in Marin County.

The point is not so much our growth as a newspaper but your response as a reader. For you have shown that if a newspaper tries to do a better job, you'll more than open the door. You'll open your mind to it.

And that's the most exciting "circulation" any paper can have.

This explains why we provide intensive news coverage of every area in Marin County. Why we've added new features, new columnists—and broader national coverage.

It explains why the I-J recently won 3 first awards against all major newspapers in California for Best Front Page, Best Editorial Page, and Best Typography. Each an attempt to serve you better.

Circulation then, is a measure of growth. The best measure, for advertisers, of value. And the only measure of your response as a reader.

To you then, 30,017 thanks. Circulation's wonderful!

Dixie Trustees Support Measure On County Tax

Dixie School District trustees last night unanimously adopted a resolution supporting Assembly Bill 888, which would authorize a county-wide tax plan.

The proposed law would raise about 30 millon dollars from school districts, to be redistributed according to need and would also require an additional 96 million dollars in state aid to education. The bill was reported out of the Assembly Education Committee yesterday.

Trustee Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. was appointed as legislative affairs representative of the board of Marin County School Boards Assn. He will send telegrams asking support of the Assembly bill to state legislators.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis was authorized by the board to file two National Defense Education Act applications for $8,947 for foreign language equipment and materials and $11,932 for science equipment.

The board also:

1. Approved installation of a civil defense warning system in all district schools and asked Willis to determine which system would be appropriate. Willis will make a recommendation at a future board meeting.

2. Directed Willis to post the seating capacity of each multi-use room in the district so that seating will not be in excess of fire safety rules.

3. Accepted the resignation, effective in June, of Miss Vicki Shorts, second grade teacher at Lucas Valley School and granted maternity leave to Mrs. Sally Wood, kindergarten teacher at Don Timoteo School.

4. Heard a report from Willis that the contract for construction of a kindergarten addition to the Lucas Valley School has been approved by the State Department of Finance and construction should begin next week.

5. Heard another report from Willis that bids for construction of four new classrooms, to serve as temporary district offices, at the Don Timoteo School should be opened May 8.

Gravel Firm Asks $200,000 From MMWD

A gravel excavation firm on Paper Mill Creek below the new Nicasio Reservoir Dam has filed a $200,000 claim against the Marin Municipal Water District, saying that the dam has caused a loss of gravel.

Joslin Bros., operators of the gravel plant, claim that the dam has reduced the flow of the creek and thus reduced the amount of available gravel at their excavation site.

The claim, filed by the San Rafael law firm of Bagshaw, Schaal, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan, was presented to MMWD directors at their meeting yesterday. Directors turned the claim over to their insurance company representatives, said William Seeger, chief engineer and general manager for the district.

In other action yesterday directors:

1. Authorized purchase of 1,750 copper meter couplings at $13,078.50 from Groniger Co. of Oakland, the lowest of four bidders.

2. Authorized purchase of 350 cast iron fittings at $6,532.12 from Republic Supply Co. of San Leandro, the lowest of four bidders.

3. Authorized purchase of a new booster pump at $4,994 from Worthington Pump Co. of San Francisco, the lowest of six bidders. The pump will increase the capacity at the Tiburon Pump Station.

4. Authorized retention of appraiser Edward P. Morphy of San Rafael to appraise additional land needed to expand the tank station north of San Rafael. Seeger said less than an acre is required.

5. Learned from the Sonoma County Flood Control and Conservation District that the engineering report on the Warm Spring project, a dam on the Russian River, will be completed in July. Marin Municipal Water District and the Sonoma district will develop the project jointly, with the Marin district getting about 42,000 acre feet a year in imported water, Seeger said.

Two Vacancies Filled On Boyd Museum Board

Two new directors were elected Tuesday night to fill vacancies on the board of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, president David N. Plant announced.

They were Carl W. Gabrielson, assistant to the president of the Robert Dollar Co. of San Francisco and president of the Exchange Garage Inc. of San Francisco, and Robert Loza, San Francisco public relations executive.

In other business, the board was informed that a request for $75,000 of National Defense Education Act funds to film plant and animal life of Marin County was submitted to Washington on April 1.

The project would be sponsored by the county schools office and carried out by the museum.

Author Joy Adamson, who wrote two books about her life with lions in Africa, will speak at the museum Feb. 28, 1964, Plant said.

PANEL SAYS MENTAL GROUP IS VALUABLE

Marin County's new Mental Health Foundation will provide a necessary low-priced local service valuable by either the humanitarian or the economic measuring-stick, a panel of four agreed today on the KTIM Marin Sounding Board.

"Mental health, like physical illness, should be treated within the community," declared Florence Scott, member of the foundation board and director of the Marin Council of Community Services. "People should be helped where they live."

Dr. Aaron Ungersma, president of the foundation, said that the question of many in need—"Where can I go?" henceforth will have a definite answer in Marin County.

He said people of extensive means can command private services while there are state institutions for the seriously disturbed but the non-profit foundation will meet a need between these two.

"Many can be spared an extended stay in a state facility if they can get care from such a local facility," Ungersma added.

Provision of the foundation represents a response to need in a fast-growing community, according to Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, psychiatrist. He stressed that prompt local treatment "makes sound sense" by facilitating a rapid return to normal life.

Such treatment has tended to become shorter with greater knowledge of how it should be handled, Stubblebine said. He cited a figure of an average 11.4-day stay at the psychiatric facility of Ross General Hospital, comparing favorably to surgical cases, and said an outpatient facility would lighten the overall burden of such care.

Speaking from an attorney's viewpoint Leland H. Jordan, a director of the foundation, said that he frequently finds legal complications arising from mental illness within a family.

Jordan said one American out of every 10 has treatment for mental illness at some time in his life. He stressed the progress made in treatment and said that rapid return of a patient to the community not only allows him to contribute rather than take, but gives him the benefit of normal community life as a valuable healing factor.

"It is important to see that treatment is given regardless of a person's means," said Jordan. "This is the cheapest thing for the community in dollars and cents. There is great humanitarian need for something such as the foundation, and also it helps toward the best financial solution.

Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer asked when the foundation will start to function and was told that an initial May 1 date probably will not be met, with prospects of another 30 to 60 days if present fund-raising is successful.

The program will be repeated by tape-recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Distributor Is Bilked Of Liquor

A man and a woman, working as a "husband and wife" team, bilked a San Rafael liq-distributor of two cases of liquor worth $104 two weeks ago, San Rafael police disclosed today.

Jim Regalia, owner of Trombetta Distributors at 715 Francisco Boulevard, reported the incident to Sgt. Earl Christensen yesterday afternoon.

On March 28 a "Mr. Walker" called up and ordered a case of gin. He said his wife would come after it and asked that she telephone him at a bar in South Marin where he allegedly works as bartender.

A short time later, "Mrs. Walker" entered Trombetta's. The clerk told he to call her husband. "Mrs. Walker" called a number, then asked the clerk for a case of whiskey in addition to the gin. Employees loaded the two cases into her car, and she drove away.

"Mrs. Walker" was described as under 30 years old, about five feet six inchest tall, and slim.

No Action Taken On Fired Teachers

No action was taken at a closed meeting yesterday of the Sausalito School District trustees at which time trustees sought "legal clarifications" from Douglas J. Maloney, assistant county counsel, on the dismissal of two Richardson Bay School teachers, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said today.

The teachers, who are to be fired at the end of the school year are Donald Venturini and Mrs. Evelyn J. Schoenfeld.

Baily's 'Slam' Wins; It's O'Dell Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants were still atop the young league standings today—thanks almost entirely to old pro Ed Bailey.

The left-handed Bailey came off the bench last night to deliver a pinch-hit grand slam homer and power the Giants past Houston 8-7.

San Francisco hoped to sweep its opening series tonight when it sent Billy O'Dell against Ken Johnson of the Colts.

Houston came out swinging last night against the Giants' Juan Marichal. Juan was touched for five runs in two plus innings although some shoddy fielding by the usually reliable Jimmy Davenport at third helped add to his miseries.

Gaylord Perry took over and slowed Houston down a little, but it was 6-1 after three and still 7-4 after five innings.

The Giants finally cooled off the hot Houston bats when relievers Jim Duffalo and Bob Bolin tossed the final innings.

Meanwhile, San Francisco's power brigade kept picking away at Colt starter Bob Bruce and reliever Don McMahon.

The red-hot Orlando Cepeda, who added three hits last night, doubled home Willie Mays in the first and Felipe Alou crashed a two-run homer in the fourth—his second fourmaster in as many days.

But going into the electric eighth, the Giants had been out-hit 15-7 as well as being three runs behind.

Willie Mays walked, but Willie McCovey forced him at second. Cepeda fouled out to third and things looked glum.

Later he said that he had been trying for a double.

In the dressing room, he laconically commented "I didn't go up there to get a base on balls. I was going to swing at anything close—a walk wouldn't have done much good. I was really going for a double, which might have tied it up."

"But he threw the fast ball, and over my career I've grown fond of that type of pitch."

CRUCIAL PLAY—This is the slide into home plate by Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers which resulted in his ankle injury Tuesday. He was thrown out on the play as Chicago Cubs catcher Dick Bertell puts on the tag. Wills may be out of action for 10 days. (AP Wirephoto)

SAFE AT SECOND—Houston's Bob Lillis (15) slides safely into second base on a successful steal when the throw from San Francisco's Tom Haller sailed over the head of second baseman Chuck Hiller. Jose Pagan, backing up the play, made the stop. (AP Wirephoto)

CONNOLLY

The old wheeze about Rabbit Maranville being afraid to walk through Kansas because he might get his ears shot off, applies, in a certain sense to Willie McCovey, the gangling S.F. Giant outfielder. If Willie continues to hit home runs he'll be mobbed every time he is recognized.

A most unusual claim is made for McCovey. His closest and best friends say he plays baseball because he loves the game and not just to make money. That may be stretching things a bit but it does indicate Willie's baseball devotion.

WHAT A contrast between McCovey, a seasoned hitter and a good one, signing a contract for $22,000, and Bob Garibaldi, the young college upstart who got $150,000 to sign a contract even before he shows whether or not he is a flash in the skillet.

"I'll back McCovey against any player on the Giant squad for contentment," one vet claims.. "Garibaldi got more money for signing than all the people got for signing the Declaration of Independence. And yet he isn't happy."

McCovey's humility is unequaled. While other members of the Giants are up bright and early to endorse breakfast food or cigarettes for radio or TV, "Lovey Dovey" McCovey doesn't give these items a rumble.

WHEN I make good, real good, I'll have time to make appointments for personal appearances," Willie says. "Right now I'm thinking only of baseball."

Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and other recognized stars of the Giants have a set price of $250 or $300 for appearances. And it isn't easy to get them signed up.

IT WAS comforting to McCovey boosters to see the big southpaw slugger allowed to hit against lefthand pitching. In the opener, after failing three times against righthanders, manager Alvin Dark let Willie face Brunet, a leftie, and Willie thanked his manager by whacking out two hits, one of them a home run.

McCovey, while serving his apprenticeship in the Pacific Coast League showed no glaring weakness against leftie pitching. But in the majors, he hasn't been too impressive. But let's face it, if Willie is to become a talented hitter, he has to swing at both types of pitching. So far skipper Dark is 100 per cent on the right track.

DOUG WILSON, the Marin Catholic High School star, signed by the Giants and who had a fine season in 1962 with Fresno, is being sent back to the Fresno team, according to an announcement yesterday.

Doug who was supposed to play with El Paso had an unfortunate spring. His legs troubled him and he wasn't able to do his best. But he may find himself in the California League and whizz back to El Paso or Tacoma before the year is out.

COMBINED A.P. & U.P.I.

The unbeaten Los Angeles Dodgers, despite a few prime aches and pains, savored their best possible spring tonic—the successful 1963 debut of strikeout artist Sandy Koufax.

Koufax, blazing stronger as the game progressed, shaded the Chicago Cubs 2-1 yesterday, striking out 10 and scattering 5 hits for his first victory and first full game since last midseason.

"The finger didn't bother me a bit and my shoulder stiffened just once," said the southpaw, whose forefinger on his pitching hand was clotted last season and he failed to win after July 12 and never completed a game after July 4.

Philadelphia erupted for eight runs in the seventh inning and walloped Cincinnati 10-7, Ray Washburn's four-hitter gave St. Louis a 4-0 victory over the New York Mets and Pittsburgh edged Milwaukee 3-2 on Don Clendenon's homer.

Maury Wills, injured in a play at home Tuesday, Tommy Davis, the league's defending batting and RBI champ, and Bill Skowron all missed action yesterday because of injury. Wills suffered a sprained ankle and could be out at least a week, although manager Walt Alston figures he could be back in four or five days.

The Dodger runs were donated by Cubs catcher Dick Bertell. Bertell threw wildly to let Willie Davis score in the first inning and permitted a Bob Buhl position in the fifth. Davis' single brought the run across.

The Phillies sent 11 men to the plate in the seventh, collecting six hits, including doubles by John Callison and Wes Covington and a two-run homer by Clay Dalrymple. Don Demeter's single snapped a 7-7 tie. Rookie Ray Culp was the winner in relief for his first major league victory. Bill Henry took the loss.

Washburn followed up Ernie Broglio's two-hitter against the Mets with his four-hitter, retiring 17 batters in order from the second to eighth innings. Julian Javier scored the only run Washburn needed in the fifth when he was hit by a pitch, took second on a balk by loser Al Jackson, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored ahead of Al Moran's wide throw home on Curt Flood's grounder.

Clendenon's leadoff homer against Bob Shaw in the eighth broke a 2-2 tie and got the job done for the Pirates. Shaw drove in both Milwaukee runs with a fourth inning single. Don Cardwell got credit for the victory with Bob Veale's ninth inning relief help.

Seals On Home Ice Tonight In Playoff

Having broken the jinx held over them by the Portland Buckaroos, the San Francisco Seals battle to make it two in a row when the teams meet tonight in San Francisco's Cow Palace in the third game of their Western Hockey League Southern Division playoff, 8 o'clock.

Portland had won seven straight at Portland from San Francisco before the Seals came out on top 5-2 Tuesday night, squaring their playoff at one game apiece.

"Now we get them on our home ice," declared Len Haley of the Seals after that victory.

It also inspired ticket buyers and the advance sale picked up with 8,000 or more expected at the Cow Palace for this third game in the best-of-seven series.

Portland had won the opener 6-3 as Gerry Goyer, Bill Saunders and Arlo Goodwin all scored in th efirst period sending the Buckaroos into their insurmountable lead. And that was the seventh game in a row in which the Buckaroos had beaten the Seals in Portland.

The goal tending in this series matches the veteran Don Head of Portland against San Francisco's fine rookie Jim McLeod. In the Tuesday game, Head made 30 saves and McLeod 31—the latter with a brilliant third period in which he turned back 13 shots.

Starting times for the San Francisco games, tonight and Saturday, will be 8 p.m.

Defenseman Moe Mantha will be able to return to the Seals' lineup tonight after 10 days absence. He suffered a fractured cheekbone during the final series of the regular season.

NOVATO GOLF STAR CHOSEN PREP OF WEEK

Barry Hackmyer, Novato High School's ace golfer, has been selected as Prep of the Week by the Independent-Journal for his play in two matches last week.

Hackmyer, a junior, shot an even par 36 against San Rafael, April 2, to help his team take a 4-2 verdict at Indian Valley Golf Course.

Then the following Thursday Hackmyer again shot even par as the Hornet golf team downed the linksters from Tamalpais High School 4-2, again at Indian Valley.

Another Annie Oakley In Bay Area? Fishing Prospects Should Improve

STEVENS

We wonder if we have another Annie Oakley here in the Bay Area. Dimpled Lois Montgomery again retained her State Pistol Championship at Sunday's Fort Ord shoot. Bully for you, Lois!

The Oakland Pistol Club, of which Lois is a member, sure did themselves proud at the Fort Ord meet. The Master Team won out over all participants in the .45 caliber pistol shoot, and Offutt Pinnion won first place in the International Slow Fire for civilians as well as the rapid-fire event.

IT WOULD seem that this year's crop of angling addicts is of sterner stuff than ever. In spite of wind, rain and rough water, a flock of the hardy souls went fishing over the past stormy few days. Alice Quan of China Camp reported a good showing on Saturday and not so good on Sunday, and improvement on Monday and Tuesday.

"Nearly an average of four bass per boat on Saturday," said Alice. A. Santos landed a 42-inch sturgeon. Prospects are much brighter than for the past few weeks.

IN THE Upper San Pablo the quantity of fish wasn't unusual, but the quality was. On Saturday, the boat Sunfish, out of Crockett, had only four bass but they were all large—to 23 pounds; the Happy Days came in with seven bass to 13 pounds. Sunday the Sunfish unloaded five stripers to 20 pounds, and on Monday brought in two 25-pounders for the two passengers. On Sunday, the Happy Days netted limits to 14 pounds for its three fishermen.

The lower bay areas also reported improved fishing. The trollers working the Alcatraz sector made the grade with bass to eight pounds; the Alameda Flats and the area under the Bay Bridge yielded some nice, fresh-run, eight and nine-pounders to the live-bait boys.

THERE HAS been a slight improvement in salmon trolling, but it can hardly be called better than fair. The high boat out of Caruso's at Sausalito on Monday was the Jennie C with 13 salmon to 15 pounds. That's not bad, but not hot, either.

The season for commercial fishing of salmon opens next Monday, and will continue through Sept. 29. There is no bag limit, but no Kings less than 26 inches, nor silvers less than 25 inches, will be allowed.

Listening to my Halicrafter recently, I gather that the ocean is calm, the weather perfect and the fishing better now than over the weekend.

Celts Win Eastern Division NBA Title

BOSTON (AP)—Shortly before noon yesterday a lonely-looking figure was practicing on the Boston Garden basketball court. First he'd shoot a basket from 25 feet, then he'd walk to the other side, shoot again, then to another spot and shoot again.

Ten or 15 minutes later Sam Jones of the Boston Celtics, satisfied he had sharpened up his shooting eye, walked off the floor.

Some 10 hours later when Sam Jones next walked off the Boston Garden floor, a crowd of 13,909 howling, delirious Boston fans also was sure his eye was sharp.

For Jones had left behind him a prodigious 47 points—second highest output by a Boston player in Celtics history. More important those 47 points paced the Celtics to a 142-131 victory over the Cincinnati Royals and gave Boston the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division final playoffs, four games to three.

Boston's next foe as it hopes for a fifth straight world championship will be the winner of the Los Angeles-St. Louis series. That seventh and deciding game is set for Los Angeles tonight.

"Give the credit to Bob Cousy," grinned the 29-year-old Jones, a North Carolina college graduate. "Cooz kept working the ball in deep and I was able to come off him to score."

Golf Stars Tee Off In Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — When Sam Snead won the inaugural Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament back in 1938 Gary Player couldn't have cared less. He was two years old and lived in Johannesburg, South Africa.

But today, Player and every other man in the field of 156 was arrayed against Snead as the 24th annual GGO, now carrying a minimum $35,000 purse, got under way.

Snead, who'll be 51 next month, has been here for 22 tournaments, winning seven from 1938 through 1960 and finishing no lower than tied for third on eight other occasions.

Player, a professional for 10 of his 27 years, hasn't played here since his fifth place finish three years ago. In two earlier bids he tied for third in 1957, his first year on the American tour, and tied for seventh in 1958.

State Medical Association Pledges Aid In Boxing Study

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Medical Assn. has pledged its help today in achieving "the greatest degree of safety in boxing."

Dr. Samuel R. Sherman, president of the association, said yesterday he wrote to Dr. Dan Kilroy of Sacramento, a member of the State Athletic Commission who had asked the medical association's assistance.

The association's committee on medical aspects of sports is ready to work with the commission "at any time it feels we can give service," Sherman said.

The committee already has begun an investigation of safety and physical standards for boxers, he said.

Its members have met with attorney Sol Silverman, who was appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to study boxing hazards following the death last month of fighter Davey Moore after a Los Angeles bout.

Wildcats Nip Riordan 6-5

Marin Catholic's Wildcat baseball team nipped Riordan High School Tuesday 6-5 in a practice game on the Marin Catholic diamond.

Winning pitcher was Dave Beswick who pitched the first five innings and allowed only one hit. He was relieved by Bill Shine and Ron O'Connell, as coach Bernie Schneider wanted to use all his pitchers in the practice game, the first game for the Wildcats in two weks.

Marin's hitting attack was led by Beswick who hit a home run and a single in three trips to the plate. Dan Abballo hit a double and a single and John Odetto cracked a pair of singles.

Covering for the human foot?!! Shoes have changed since Webster walked. For a case in point, take this Airborne cushion shoe by Roblee. It pampers your foot—cradles it in a sponge soft cushion that gives mellow comfort and extra support. You almost feel airborne.

And "cloth uppers"? Not any more! Roblee features only top grained calfskin uppers for matchless appearance as well as fit. Take our word for it, you won't find a better looking shoe for twice the price.

Whatever you do, don't take Webster's word. Come in and look up Roblee's new definition of quality shoes—at a price that's easy to pay.

695 Series, 288 Game Top Play At Country Club Bowl

Rich Curry of the 900 Classic League topped all bowlers for the week at Country Club Bowl with a crashing 695 series made up of games of 269, 214 and 212.

Curry came back in the Pederson Point Trio League to roll a 621 series which included a 224 game.

But the high game honors for the week went to Mel Piper of the San Rafael Elks League. Mel was breathing down the neck of a 300 game when he strung out 10 straight strikes. But on his first extra shot, he left the nine and 10 pins. He picked them up on the next ball for a fine 288 game.

Piper is from the old school and is one of the few keglers who use a two-fingered ball.

Another fine score was turned in by Fran Wells of the Adult-Junior League, a 625 series which included games of 246 and 231.

Bobbie Lister led the women this week with a 595 (212-215-168) series in the Keglerettes League. Bobbie's 215 game was high for the gals, with Dolly Manzi of the 775 Invitational close behind with 212.

MARIN PROPWASH

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

Lake Berryessa Features Boating, Fishing, Swimming And Recreation

Lake Berryessa is 24 miles north of Napa. If you leave Marin County early in the morning, you'll be launching your boat in approximately two hours. Before the trek home, you'll have a long day's enjoyment — especially with the happy advent of daylight saving again.

Or, if you're a weekend camper, you'll find good facilities for overnighting or picnicking. Those more sophisticated can rent motels, cottages or mobile homes. Restaurants, grocery and bait supplies are handy, too.

This lake holds an "eeny-meeny-miny-mo" variety of fish. If you don't own a boat but love this facet of the fun, just rent a craft and equipment.

ON THE lake front we came upon a straw-hatted, elderly man and his wife. They were skinning catfish. Here was a chance to ask about the area. Washing his knife blade, he started the conversation. "Wife and I used to live right over there." He pointed, but it seemed to us that he was indicating a spot in the middle of the lake.

"Dad's telling you the honest truth," the tanned fisher-lady insisted. She put the fish into a portable ice chest. "Our old place is down under, good and deep. I guess you haven't heard how it all happened, though. Even the town of Monticello is down there in the weeds and fish . . . post office . . . store . . . everything's gone—"

SUDDENLY the sun felt less warm as the wind of remembering blew with an eerie chill. It started in 1955. Newspapers, magazines and television spoke of the huge federal water reclamation project. Monticello dam was to be started. It would form a lake 22 miles long, and two and one-half to three miles wide, with 165 miles of shoreline. At first these long-time residents wouldn't believe they had to evacuate. Next they firmly resisted. But finally they became resigned, and taking their government checks, fastened down their suitcases and trucked out their possessions.

Three years later the dam was completed. Water from Putah Creek, its tributaries and some lesser run-offs soon over ran their banks. Water crept first over pastures, through areas where formerly fruit orchards and yellow-lichened rail fences had been. It flowed in requiem over concrete foundations—all that was left of the buildings—until it reached the approved level on the face of the dam.

To paraphrase an old saying, it's an ill-wind that blows no blessing at all. Now it is a boater's paradise. The valley is warm, making ideal skiing conditions. The boater should take note though, that only the western and southern shores are dedicated to public recreation. At the present time, the other shores are restricted to private use only.

If you haven't already done so this year, you must register your boat before launching. Napa County has set a fee of $3 for the year. This can be purchased at Lake Berryessa Park Headquarters, or at any resort. Boat launching will be found at all resorts, but the one at Putah Creek is exceptionally wide with a nice easy grade. The creek can be explored to an approximate distance of 10 miles. Many fishermen seem to particularly approve this area.

THE SHORE-PADDLER who gradually infiltrates into the water for a swim won't like it overly much. Fast boats stir up the sediment and it's a bit slimy. Diving from a boat or a board further out though, is perfect. Imported sand may eventually find its way here as it has with other areas.

During season, fire permits are a must. In a few areas, they are not granted. All fishing spots are marked 5 to 15 mph. Swimming places are well-defined. Napa County has also an established and efficient lake patrol.

We wondered about the winds on the lake, getting an answer from Bob Cooper of San Rafael. "All big bodies of water whip it up now and then. This one's no exception. They come up mostly late afternoon or just before sundown . . . sometimes all night. I lay listening, and it sounds like the ocean . . . goes down around dawn.

TO GET TO Lake Berryessa from San Rafael, go north on Highway 101 taking the Blackpoint cut-off, then the Sears Point cut-off that takes you past Napa on Hwy. 37. Keep on to Muscowite Corners that junctions with Hwy. 128. From that point on there are plenty of signs to get you into the resort area.

'Crucial Series' Already In A. L.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League pennant race is only three days old, and we've got a crucial series already.

The Baltimore Orioles and the New York Yankees, the only unbeaten teams in the league, square off today for a three-game set at Yankee Stadium. The Yankees were the Pennant pick, with the Orioles drawing a lot of support.

CLEAN SLATE

The Orioles kept their slate clean yesterday with a 3-2 victory over the Washington Senators, fashioned with the aid of some erratic Washington base running.

The Yankees kept pace with a 5-3 pounding of the Kansas City Athletics, as Mickey Mantle hit his first homer of the year.

In other American League games, Detroit beat the Chicago White Sox 2-1, Minnesota topped Cleveland 5-3 and the Boston Red Sox toppled the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

DUEL

Claude Osteen for Washington and Robin Roberts for Baltimore hooked up in an 0-0 duel for six innings, until Don Lock and Larry Osborne of the Nats hit successive doubles in the seventh. Then, with two out, Ed Brinkman singled Osborne home. When Osteen singled, Roberts departed.

Pinch hitter Jim King hit a drive to right field off reliever Dick Hall which would have scored Brinkman, but Osteen failed to touch second base on his way by, and was out, to end the inning.

The Orioles got all three runs in the ninth, Jackie Brandt homored, and Osteen walked Robinson. Steve Hamilton, the loser, came on and gave up two singles and a walk to tie the score. A sacrifice fly by Jerry Adair chased in the winning run.

Mantle and Elston Howard hit two-run homers for the Yankees, as Bill Stafford sailed along in fine style on the mound, until he was forced to leave in the seventh with an elbow injury. The A's got all their runs in the ninth, off his successors. Two walks, two singles and a sacrifice fly brought them in, until Jose Tartabull hit into a double play to end it.

Hank Aguirre, the 1962 AL earned run leader set the White Sox down with seven hits, while his Tiger mates bunched three of their four hits for two runs in the first inning. A double by Billy Bruton, singles by Al Kaline and Dick McAuliffe, plus a passed ball and sacrifice fly, got the runs over. Floyd Robinson singled home the White Sox run in the first inning.

Harmon Killebrew weighed in with his first homer of the campaign, the key blow in the Twins victory over the Indians. Jim Kaat, who led the league's lefthanders last year with 18 victories, went all the way for Minnesota. Gene Green ruined his shut out in the eighth with a homer, and Mike de La Hoz doubled home the other two runs in the ninth.

Right-hander Earl Wilson, who threw a no-hitter against the Angels last season, set them down with six hits. Leon Wagner singled home the Los Angeles run in the first. Boston gots all its runs in the third inning, with Carl Yastrzemski's two-run double the key blow.

We are not concerned over the barbs leveled at us by other dealers, however. Mr. And Mrs. Poetz Entertain At Dinner For Philadelphians

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Bernhardt Poetz of Del Mesa entertained at a dinner party Tuesday night honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Bayer of Erie, Pa. It was given at the World Trade Club in San Francisco. All of the 16 guests were from San Francisco where Mr. and Mrs. Poetz lived before they came to Marin. Monday night Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson (Bettye Poetz) and her husband entertained at a dinner honoring her father, Mr. Poetz on his seventy-seventh birthday. The dinner, at the Ferguson home in Kent Woodlands, was attended by family members and a few long time friends. Mr. Poetz is a retired real estate broker.

A couple, belonging to widely known Marin families, are giving a reception for their recently married daughter and husband tomorrow. Entertaining are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Cartamo (Phyllis Steele) who now live in Concord. Their daughter, Janet Allene Cartamo was married Saturday to Robert Och Jr., who is stationed at Travis Air Force Base. The ceremony took place at Park Wedding Chapel in Reno. The senior Mr. and Mrs. Robert Och live in Arroyo Grande, Calif. Janet is the granddaughter of Mrs. George Steele of San Rafael and the late Mr. Steele and Mr. and Mrs. John Cartamo fo Fairfax.

About 50 relatives and friends have been invited to the reception.

ENJOYING Easter week on the ski slopes at Sugar Bowl is Nancy Appel of Mill Valley, a student at San Francisco State College. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Appel.

Arnold J. Oehler has just returned to Mill Valley from a cruise on the President Polk that took him to many colorful ports of the world.

He left on Jan. 10 and returned last week to the Oehlers' home, "Blithe Hill."

One of his experiences of interest to many people in Marin was a visit with Dr. and Mrs. John Milton Kelly in Bangkok. Doctor Kelly was formerly head of the department of sacred music at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. He is now music consultant for the Churches of Christ of Southeast Asia. "The Kellys seem very happy," Mr. Oehler said, "for the people take to music avidly and Dr. Kelly has a large chorus.

"Bangkok was exceptionally colorful because everything was decorated for the visit of the King and Queen of Greece, something the way we do for Christmas.

"Another highlight of my trip was seeing a Japanese wedding party in elaborate dress being photographed at a park in Kioto, Japan, one of the few bright scenes as at that time of year in Japan no flowers were in bloom nor trees in leaf.

"Still another was attending the funeral of a millionaire on Penang Island. It was like a county fair with big tents containing 30 to 40-foot long tables loaded with food.

"It was explained that the millionaire had three children and 100 grandchildren. Only two of the widows were legitimate. The funeral ended with a big procession."

On the ship Mr. Oehler was elected and served throughout the voyage as tournament chairman for deck and indoor sports.

Other ports of call included Honolulu, Yokohama, Saigon, Singapore, Cochin, Bombay, Suez, Alexandria, Naples, Marseilles, Nice and Geneva. At several ports he disembarked for sightseeing trips.

After leaving Leghorn, Italy, Mr. Oehler went to New York and spent some time there before taking the train to the West Coast.

REALISTIC LOOK

No Formula For Marriage

TORONTO (AP) — There's no cut and dried formula for a successful marriage, but a realistic look at the practicalities, responsibilities and necessary adjustments will help.

This is the feeling of the Social Planning Council of Metropolitan Toronto which is conducting an experimental community-wide non-denominational marriage education program for those "just married" or "thinking about it."

HAROLD C. KNIGHT, in charge of the program, says he is amazed at the number of first year marriages "that go on the rocks because people have no idea of what they are getting into."

The six-session course includes discussion by experts of the social changes affecting marriage today, the relationship of the family in the community, personality, emotions, finances and home management as well as medical knowledge.

BARBARA CHISHOLM, a Toronto social worker participating in the program, described the period before and in the early months of marriage as "a very vulnerable time at which it not easy to sit back and coolly analyze."

Yet that is the very time a couple should decide exactly what they expect from their new relationship and whether or not this agrees with what they expect from life in general, she said.

"OUR SOCIETY has oversold romance frightfully—taken it out of balance. Marriage takes work, not romance."

Many young girls who complain they are bored and have lost interest in their marriage are just hiding the fact that they don't have the practical skills, such as knowing how to wax floors and make casseroles, Miss Chisholm has discovered through her work.

SHE ALSO SAID "marriage is not postponed for economic reasons the way it once was." Young couples feel they have to have everything—furniture, car and all the other things which make life easy—right away, and the pressure from this feeling often leads to trouble in early marriage.

Mary Jury, a social worker with Toronto's Family Service Assn., has found that "because there are so many intercultural, religious and racial marriages today, young couples often cannot use their parents' marriages, no matter how happy, as a pattern for their own."

Marin Women

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"Sorry to look so unkempt—but I'm doing a shaving commercial on television tonight."

Royal Dutch Treat Coming For Visit

THE HAGUE (AP)—The princess will be different on this visit to the United States.

Four years ago Crown Princess Beatrix confessed to newsmen during a tour of New York: "My hands tremble when I read a speech."

NOW she's a self-confident, poised young woman. Outwardly at least, there is nothing jittery these days about the future Dutch queen when she makes public appearances.

On this trip she'll visit Japan, stop briefly at Hawaii, and then go on to the United States and Canada. She's resuming a trip cut short last year by the death of her grandmother, the late Queen Wilhelmina.

BEATRIX is keenly interested in foreign lands and peoples, and like her father, Prince Bernhard, she loves to travel.

On the eve of her departure, she ordered a briefing at her home for a small group accompanying her to Japan and astounded them with her knowledge of the history, culture and religions of this country.

She takes pain in studying the problems of developing countries and sponsors European youth groups which prepare for work in the newly independent countries of Asia and Africa.

APART from a luncheon with President Kennedy in Washington on April 18, she will devote much time in the capital studying the set-up of the American Peace Corps.

Since she successfully completed her law studies at Leyden University 1½ years ago, Beatrix has shown great interest in European institutions and made working visits to the European Parliament in Strassbourg, NATO headquarters in Paris, European Common Market headquarters in Brussels and the coal and steel community in Luxembourg.

EARLY this year the princess moved from the royal palace of her parents into her private 1,250 acre property, an enchanting octangular castle, called "Drakestein" (Dragonstone). It is surrounded by a moat and Holland's greenest parks. She runs her own modest royal household but drops in occasionally at her former home, the nearby Soestdyk Royal Palace.

Two weeks ago Holland's blue-eyed "Princess Smile" was hostess at a house-warming party for some 20 good friends. She showed herself disarmingly proud of her own home which she furnished entirely to her own taste, antique hunting whenever she found time.

IF THERE is any romance in her life, it is deeply shrouded. A romance with a fellow-student, commoner Bob Steensma, reportedly died a quiet death.

STEENSMA, son of a notary public in Eindhoven, dated the princess for some time. About the prospect of their marrying, government officials pronounced: "Princess Beatrix knows better."

A few years before while on a tour of the United States, Prince Bernhard told American reporters that his daughter could marry any man she loved so long as he was a decent person and she was really in love with him.

BEATRIX is described by those close to her, as a practical, enterprising young woman who efficiently divides her interests between fun and work. She likes sailing in her yacht "Groene Draeck" (Green Dragon), is a fair skier and horsewoman but drives her Swedish Saab car very fast.

In Japan the princess will be received by Emperor Hirohito and tour the country for 10 days. Her main interest will be in the life of Japanese youth and students.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

MRS. ALMA DENNY

Wife Should Accept With Grace Husband's Offer To Decorate Home

OSCAR H.—She won't let me say a thing about furniture.

MARIAN H.—I've put more thought into it than he. He should trust me.

OSCAR H.—We're married 11 years and are about to tap our savings for a complete refurnishing binge of every room except our son's. It will be a joy to get rid of the odds and ends and make-shifts we brought into our home when we started out. I want to get into the act now but Marian says leave it all to her. I don't have time to do all the shopping, but I have my own taste and I want to use it.

MARIAN H. — Fortunately Oscar isn't arguing with me about the costs. We've both worked to build up a fund for this purpose and he knows I'll keep within it. But he wants a man's house, with leather chairs and hunting-prints and that sort of thing. I've been dreaming of dainty French Provincial, white carpeting, tole lamps—something that can suit us both. Decorating is the woman's province. He should leave it to me.

THE COUNCIL: On the carpet, we have Marian. Look here, girl. There's not better interior decoration for any home than a man in it! Start with that. Further, think how much worse off you'd be if you were married to one of the many male members of the A.I.D. (the decorators' elite). You'd need (and probably could afford) at least two homes to get a chance to give any of your own ideas free play.

Be grateful for present blessings—a man who has a few modest decorating yens of his own, and those yens in the bank to implement a his-hers-our blending of decor, instead of bemoaning Oscar's interest as intrustion in a woman's domain (bosh!).

She should be glad that he doesn't leave it all up to her. Alone, "all" is too much. As to "a man's house," we pass along Glenn Ford's tip that there's where a woman looks best. He likes to set a wraith of a female, he says, against a stone fireplace with a hunting-trophy above.

Cropped Hair-Dos Belong On Poodles

NEW YORK (AP)—"We have never admired the layered haircuts given to children in orphanages who could do nothing about it, so why is the Oliver haircut promoted for American women?" asks veteran hairdresser John Bernard of New York.

"Cropped and chopped hairdos should never be worn by a well-groomed woman," he says, "even though she is told she can look elegant in the evening by adding some silly spiral hairpiece. The result is a soaring hairdo of some sort that looks like a cartoon.

"A woman's hair should be shaped to reveal the contours that are most flattering to her, particularly the nape of the neck. It should be swept to the side or softened across the head in some way," he says.

"Shape and contour are the most important things in styling hair. A haircut can be designed for madame, madamoiselle, and the jeune fille. You should not have to change it morning, noon and night," he says. "The hair should be from ½ to 2½ inches at the nape."

His favorite cut has an unlayered top with large sweeps of soft hair and revealing an ear lobe. "It is an ideal style for hats, and jewelry," he says, and besides "it is correct and feminine."

Other styles that have been around—straight bangs and straight hair can make a pretty woman look hideous, he says.

"The Cleopatra look should not be worn by women in their 40s," Bernard points out. "It will age them. And they should particularly avoid the hard makeup that goes with it, such as the black eyebrows and white pasty skin. And the brown tones in makeup are utterly ridiculous. It even makes the teeth look yellow.

Masque Unit To Present Indian Story

Ceremonial dances and drums, teepees and chants will be parts of "Better Than A Boy", a play about a mythical Indian tribe presented by Junior Theatre of Marin. It will be produced by the Masque Unit of Junior Theatre, on April 20, at 10 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. at the San Rafael High School. The show is the final one of the winter season of five professional plays brought to Marin by Junior Theatre.

The colorful play, full of dance and music and bright costumes and sets has a cast of fourteen with 11 assistants. It is directed by Mrs. Woodward Melone of Novato, who directed last year's play, and Mrs. Gordon Dunn of San Rafael.

The play is adapted from an original by Mrs. Phyllis McCullum, the same author who wrote last year's winter season, "The Pale Pink Dragon". Mrs. McCullum will come from her home at Manhattan Beach to see the premiere of her play.

"BETTER THAN A BOY" is about two Indians born about the same time, one a boy and one a girl. Indians always want their first child to be a boy, so the girl in this play is called "Wrong One". However, "Wrong One" soon proves she is "better than a boy" by learning both to cook and sew and to hunt and trap.

Costumes adapted from Indian histories were designed by Mrs. Kirk Frederick of San Rafael. Much of the costuming and sets were suggested from books used by the Boy Scouts of America and follow the detail of the originals, the committee announced.

Sets were designed and executed by Mrs. James Heynemann assisted by Preston Jones and Mrs. Richard Bettini.

Special assignments were completed by Mrs. Paul Atkins, prompter; Mrs. John B Wilcutt Jr. and Mrs. Edward French, makeup and wigs; Mrs. R. J. MacLaury, music; Mrs. Frederick, costumes.

In the cast of 14 are Mrs. John Bridgman of Corinthian Island, as Thunderhead, the adult male lead; Mrs. Donald Westerbeke of Mill Valley, Big Medicine; Mrs. George Stevenson of Mill Valley, Meadow Flower; Mrs. George Caldwalader of Belvedere, Swift Arrow; Miss Nancy Majors of Belvedere, Wrong One; Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of San Rafael, All Thumbs; Mrs. E. S. Kilgore Jr. of Tiburon, Tom Foolery; Mrs. Richard Casey of Ross, Annie Lou; Mrs. Theodore Theiss of Mill Valley, Bear; Mrs. L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of San Rafael, Eagle; Mrs. Jules Becker of Ross, and Mrs. Charles D. McPherson of San Rafael, Squaws; Mrs. Henry B. Grandin Jr. of Ross, and Mrs. Richard Beamish of Fairfax, Warriors.

Members of the cast have backgrounds related to theater work, speech, writing, directing, acting, fashion modeling or television work.

Co-director Mrs. Dunn, a speech major at Northwestern who was active throughout college in all phases of theater work. She is presently president of the Loch Lomond Guild of Sunny Hills and is associated with the American Assn. of University Women. Mrs. Cadwalader had her own radio show on CBS for two years in Alaska and she has acted in little theater.

Mrs. Casey was in college at Borat at Lake Forest, Ill. She was a speech major and has since taught dramatics at Sacred Heart Convent here. She has done summer stock comedy work in Indiana. The mother of five children, Mrs. Casey has done numerous television commercials.

MISS MAJORS has been in little theater work in Los Angeles, with the Pasadena Playhouse in lead parts and the Little Children's Theatre of Los Angeles. She attended Pine Manor Junior College in Wellsley and the University of California, majoring in English. Miss Majors is a fashion model and photographic model. In New York she was an assistant fashion buyer, was merchandising editor on Vogue magazine, was accounting executive with a fashion agency and later was public relations director for a community apartment in San Francisco. She has written, produced and commentated fashion shows here and in New York.

Mrs. Bridgman, author of "Love Is a Place," has also written numerous short stories published in leading national magazines.

The group has been rehearsing twice a week, not without incident. They were burned out of their rehearsal hall, Brown's Hall, and had to move to Scout Hall, San Rafael.

TERRIBLE DANGER threatens Annie Lou (Mrs. Richard Casey) and Tom Foolery (Mrs. E. S. Kilgore Jr.) as Swift Arrow (Mrs. George Cadwalader) runs true to his name and Thunderhead (Mrs. John Bridgman) beats an awesome pair of tom-toms. But it's all in fun, that is, until the performance of the play "Better Than A Boy" which the Masque Unit will present for youngsters April 20 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. (Independent-Journal photo)

Dominic Bobbio Plans Speech To Awareness Group

Dominic Bobbio, principal of Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School, will be the speaker at Monday's luncheon meeting of the Awareness Group in the home of Mrs. Edmond Gross.

Following a sandwich luncheon starting at 11:30 a.m., Bobbio will speak on changes to be mad next year in the school's program. These will be concerned, he said, with "retreat from over-departmentalization to the block system in the language arts and social studies area so that a child will feel more secure through being with one teacher for a longer part of the day."

He will also discuss plans for some relaxation of homogeneous ability grouping.

Newest Coiffure

The hair stylist who often does Mrs. John F. Kennedy's coiffure says his newest trim is the shell. Kenneth Battelle observed that he'd found a new beauty spot for American women—the back of the neck. He's eliminated the elaborate bouffant, and shaped the hair, shell-fashion, in against the head and back of the neck. The Syracuse-born hairdresser who often travels to Washington to do the First Lady's brunette locks has just opened his own house of beauty in New York. He formerly was with Lilly Dache.

Plea For Helicopter Link In Marin Merits Support

Proposals for a helicopter link between the San Rafael area and the sprawling San Francisco airport would seem to make sense, and merit the support of forward looking civic groups.

With the importance of air travel in our economy gaining momentum almost daily, and with rapid transportation a vital factor in the growth of every community, there is reason to believe that a large number of Marinites would welcome the projected service.

The sponsors, SFO Helicopters, Inc., had their day in court this week, in a formal hearing before the Civil Aeronautics board on the application for federal certification of the service.

Helicopter service has been effectively operated in several major cities of the nation. It could be a boon to air travelers of Marin County, who almost daily, embark on flights to Seattle, Los Angeles, the East Coast, and many foreign cities.

It would provide Marin business men with fast, safe and comfortable travel between a Marin heliport and the international airport south of San Francisco. The cost of the service should be no barrier to air travelers. Considering the cost and time involved in driving to the San Francisco International Airport, and storing the auto, the whirly-bird commuters would about break even. Major airlines would certainly absorb part of the 'copter commuter cost, as they now do for travelers using the service from Berkeley and Oakland to the airport.

Further, the 'copter link could meet the needs of Marin air travelers until such time as an airfield site could be selected, and an adequate operating plant built, which will have to be done before too many years.

Meanwhile, a heliport could be operated on a small piece of land—possibly an acre or so, and facilities erected for as little as $10,000—just a small fraction of cost of a modern airfield.

Further evidence of the value of such service would extend to Marin residents is the fact that a number of people are driving to Berkeley to board the 'copter for the S.F. International Airport. And, after taking 15 or 20 minutes on the trek to Berkeley, they are reaching the big peninsula airfield in much less time than it would take to drive through San Francisco to the airfield at the height of traffic.

We believe the project is sound, and hope that it will receive the blessing, and a green-light from Uncle Sam.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HELP YOURSELF BY HELPING OTHERS

An airborne traveler came to a lady's rescue during a snowstorm last winter in Wyoming.

The woman's automobile had bogged down in a deep snow drift. She was doing her best to shovel her way out when she heard the roar of an airplane engine.

The pilot, spotting her while flying his light plane, landed on a bare stretch of ground near the car. He took over the shovel and soon the grateful motorist was on her way.

Be ever on the lookout for opportunities to be of service to others and you will add a new dimension to your own life.

By the very nature God has given you, you live a fuller, more meaningful life if you try to share the problems of others rather than avoid them.

This is a difficult lesson for human beings to learn because they do not understand the paradox of love; i.e., that one enriches his own life by enriching those of others.

"The Son of Man has not come to be served but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many." (Matthew 20:28)

Allow me to be Your instrument, O divine Savior, in communicating Your love to countless persons.

Women May Be Smoking More —But Men Enjoying It Less

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals for the American male is the problem of taking care of the lady smoker.

It isn't enough today, in a woman's world, that a man open doors for the ladies, doff his bonnet in an elevator to them, give up his seat in a bus to them, and bring his paycheck home in his mouth to the fairest of them all.

No, indeed. One of the fringe benefits of manhood—and the sternest test of gallantry — is the privilege of helping the girls through the ceremonial rites of the nicotine habit.

Here are some types of lady smokers familiar to most men:

"Sandra Showoff" — This female powerhouse likes ostentation as well as attention. She waits until she's at the far corner of the room before pulling out her cigarette, thus forcing you to gallop over before everybody to ignite it.

"Golddigger Gertie" — No matter where you meet her, whether at a cocktail party or atop the Statue of Liberty, the cigarette she pulls out is always her very last one. Somehow, somewhere, you have to manage to get her another pack immediately — if you're any kind of man at all.

"Thelma Twitchy" — The gabby type. Keeps talking as you try to light her up, and the cigarette bobs around in all directions like a weathervane. When the match finally burns your fingers and you cry "Ouch!", she asks loudly, "What's the matter? Got the shakes again? Maybe you'd better lay off the stuff for a while."

"Exotic Erica"—Can't stand anything except highly perfumed Oriental cigarettes which she puffs from the near end of a two-foot black and silver holder. After half an hour by her, you reel away smelling like an old Chinese temple.

"Bertha Beatnik" — She's the Bohemian type. Thinks cigarettes are strictly for the cowbirds at the party. Prefers an imitation corncob pipe encrusted with rhinestones. Gets ashes on rug by knocking pipe against her shoe heel. One nice thing about Bertha: Your wife never invites her back again.

"Smudge-Pot Nell" — This human chimney is a chain smoker who feels socially insecure unless she has at least three cigarettes going for her at all times. A man really needs a blow torch to keep her lit up.

"Independent Inez"—Ruggedly self-reliant. Waits until a man gets his lighter out, then chills his chivalry with the cold remark, "Oh, I'm a big girl now. I'm quite able to light my own cigarette." The man, crestfallen, withdraws his lighter, silently wishing he could cram it down her proud throat.

"Critical Kitty"—She blows smoke rings in your face for an hour. But when you light up a cigar yourself in self-defense, she wails, "Please put it out, won't you? I simply can't stand the smell of those awful things."

Dames like these are enough to give any fellow nicotine narcosis. They help explain why women may be smoking more today — but men are enjoying it less.

Internal Disputes Grip Rival Political Parties

By DE VAN L. SHUMWAY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's major political conventions, now part of the record book for 1963, showed one thing clearly: both Republicans and Democrats have their interparty troubles.

For the Democrats, it's the professionals versus the volunteers.

One other obvious fact: The climb upward already is beginning in both major parties for a successor to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, especially if he does not run for re-election in 1966.

Looking ahead only one year, this is the presidential situation:

The Republicans have a number of likely candidates —New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton and Michigan Gov. George Romney.

WITHIN THE Republican Party, supporters of Rockefeller and Goldwater already are trying to test the sentiment. In the two major rounds already fought—in the Young Republicans organization and at the state central committee—it was a standoff, with each side winning a victory.

A Goldwater for President group has begun moving around the state trying to get signatures on a petition to show the Arizona senator how much grassroots support he can expect should he bid for President.

Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight opened a Rockefeller headquarters in Los Angeles but closed it within a couple of days at the request of the New York governor. State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael also has left no doubt that he's a Rockefeller supporter and hopes eventually to speak for the governor in California.

ON THE BASIS of statements from party leaders, both on and off the record, the 1966 governorship race in California lines up like this:

—If Governor Brown tries for a third term — and no Democrat has ever been elected three times—he could very well have opposition within his own party in the Primary Election.

—If Brown does not bid for another term, and many Democrats think he will not, there could very well be a bitter primary fight. It might be a four-way battle between Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, Controller Alan Cranston, Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson and, possibly, Atty. Gen. Stanley A. Mosk. But there are persistent rumors that Mosk will be appointed to the State Supreme Court.

—THE REPUBLICANS hope during the next four years to develop a candidate for governor on their own side of the aisle. Sources looking over the field come up with nearly a blank so far.

But a few names have been tossed around — Former Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, McCarthy and Casper W. Weinberger, a former assemblyman who now is the party's central committee head.

At the most recent convention, the California Democratic Council in Bakersfield, there was one startling development: a denunciation of Unruh.

The next political convention is months away — the Democratic Central Committee in August. Unruh claims far more backers on this group.

Woman Questions Teacher Firing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have read with dismay several I-J articles . . . relative to the dismissal of two teachers in the Sausalito schools . . . Could it not be that the management there may be at fault since one of your first articles indicated that still a third teacher had been dismissed from that very same area last year?

This letter is prompted by the fact that only a year ago, while on an outing in Tomales Bay with my family, we had the pleasure of meeting one of these teachers with a group of his pupils. They were having a delightful time and we were struck by the teacher's interest and sincerity with these children. He told us that he did this on the weekends, giving all of the pupils a turn. My husband and I commented at the time on how wonderful it was to know that this type of teacher still existed.

And now we read he is being dismissed! What is going on? Is this how we destroy incentive in our dedicated teachers?

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A backwoods circuit rider in Kentucky had one vanity: a spirited, superb horse on which he made all his rounds. One morning a follower asked him jovially, "Parson, no offense, but how come your horse's coat always looks so much better than yours?"

"That's an easy one," shot back the circuit rider. "You see, I take care of my horse; my congregation takes care om me!"

Three short shorts from Minneapolis' jokester laureate, Mox Lindquist:

1. "This coffee," a waitress explained to a customer born in Sweden, "comes here from a place even further away than Sweden. It is imported from Brazil." "What do you know?" marveled the Swede. "It's still warm!"

2. A very stout lady at a seaside resort noticed a weighing machine with a sign attached proclaiming, "I speak your weight." She put a nickel in the slot and stepped on the platform. Sure enough, a voice spoke up: "One at a time, please!"

3. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Borge met Sonja Henie, the retired skating queen, at a party recently. "My!" whispered Mrs. Borge. "Doesn't she look young?" "Why not?" countered Victor. "She's been on ice most of her life."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Marin's Muggsy Spanier Hits Jazz High Mark In New Album

SO MANY Marin residents have asked what's new with Muggsy Spanier that I am happy to report his new Ava album, "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," is a rollicking package of big-band jazz.

Before my I-J Marin Magazine profile on the master jazzman a lot of people didn't realize he'd been a Sausalito resident since 1957; the profile brought good words from numerous, including County Administrator Alan Bruce, who went out of his way to comment, and Corte Madera Councilman Norm Barnett.

Arthur Godfrey reviewed the profile on his national radio show and reported happy anticipation for Muggsy's album.

So it's a pleasure to report it's a thoroughly enjoyable collection of jazz numbers. Old time fans probably will particularly enjoy "The Lonesome Road," a 6.21-minute track of a tune long associated with Muggsy, "I'm Coming, Virginia" and "Blues in the Night," all featuring his biting plunger mute.

BUT THERE are other swinging numbers, such as the title tune, which Deane Kincaide scored for Muggsy the day after Pearl Harbor, and "You Are My Sunshine," a chestnut brought here to surprising life. Also "Royal Garden Blues," which will compete with anybody's version, and a stirring "Blue Skies."

Muggsy's wife Ruth says trumpeter Shorty Sherock was anchor man of the big band but the stars I enjoy most besides Muggsy are tenorist Eddie Miller and trombonist Moe Schneider.

Bud Oden, proprietor of Marin Triumph, Inc., San Rafael, reports Arthur Godfrey quoted the I-J again last week, reading from my column on past nudism in Marin. Here's inviting Monsoor Godfrey, if he visits Marin, to join me in hunting nudists and digging Muggsy's music.

THE LARKSPUR City Council is at it again, though its meeting last week ran only three hours and 20 minutes contrasted to the Corte Madera Town Council session two nights earlier of four and one-half hours. I covered both.

Councilmen Lesly A. Daveler and Robert J. Smith now are split with the others over a Larkspur retirement plan. Daveler says he feels employees "adequately taken care of" though Councilmen Daniel Allen, Neil R. Brixon and James J. Lienkaemper hold pay is about the lowest in Marin, and Larkspur and Belvedere are the only cities without a plan.

Smith says he doesn't want it to cover service before the plan starts. City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper says the state plan, which is favored, requires coverage for prior service. Passage requires four votes.

Allen said angrily, "We're only talking about one man" (who has heavy prior service). After the meeting I learned he means Police Chief Howard Clark—of 22 years service. Old timers say Clark has turned down better offers to stay in Larkspur.

Allen said the council suffers from "commuters" (Daveler and Smith, who work in San Francisco) who don't know as he does how employees serve "beyond the call of duty."

Daveler takes over as mayor next Wednesday. Larkspur's struggles will be interesting—if painful—to watch.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Forecast On End Of State's Government in U. S. Questioned

WASHINGTON — In his new book, "The Coming World Transformation," Prof. Ferdinand Lundberg of New York University, makes a forsecast which will startle and dismay most people.

He sees the total disappearance of state government.

"Government in the United States," he says, "will be completely centralized at the expense of local and state governments; each state will become an administrative department of Washington's."

Ouch!

We know, of course, that for the past 30 years — from F.D.R. to J.F.K.—there has been a massive flow of political power to the Federal government. But Prof. Lundberg is the first to foresee complete federalization, though most of us will not be around to check up on him. He gives his predictions a time span of 25 to 150 years to mature.

Prof. Lunberg may not be wrong.

THE TREND, which began by popular demand in the terrible years of the depression, has continued almost unabated under both Democratic and Republican Presidents.

It has continued for two reasons:

Because in our complex industrial society, many new social and economic problems have arisen which could only be met on a national basis.

Because the state governments failed to perform needed and popularly demanded public services, and the voters turned to Washington.

I suggest that if there is to be any fair chance of averting Prof. Lunberg's forecast, the governments of our 50 states must put themselves in a better position to perform better services to their people than they are now doing.

Fortunately, the foremost ingredients for creating animate, activist, responsive state governments is at hand —and already at work. This ingredient is the accelerated re-districting of the state legislatures to remove the grievous descrimination against urban voters. This was required by a Supreme Court decision little more than a year ago and recently reaffirmed in a ruling upsetting the county-unit system of counting votes in Georgia in statewide Democratic primaries.

ELECTIONS OR primaries, the principle is the same. The right to vote carries with it the right to have your vote count equally with every other vote. When it takes ten times as many voters to nominate or elect a candidate in Atlanta as it does in one of the rural Georgia counties, that is denying the right to vote by diluting it.

In varying degrees this condition has prevailed in every state for many years. Most state constitutions provide for redistricting the legislature every ten years in order to reflect changes in population and its distribution. Most of the legislatures have ignored this requirement.

How can the citizens of Burlington or Atlanta, or Los Angeles, or any biy city refrain from turning to Washington for some recognition of their needs when their state legislatures are stacked against them?

Through the impact of the Supreme Court decision, 15 state legislatures have been reapportioned in one year; 17 others are at the point of reapportionment.

When state legislatures again become responsive instruments of government, there will be a declining incentive—and need—for voters to turn to Washington because their votes aren't being counted in their own states.

Try Today's Hand And You Won't Be Scornful Of Queens

Do you know the difference between one queen and another? "It doesn't matter except to a king," you think.

Try today's hand, and you won't be so scornful of queens.

Opening lead — ♣ K

The opening lead puts you in dummy with the ace of clubs. You plan to return a red card from dummy, finessing with a red queen from your hand. But which red queen?

LEAD HEART

The correct play is to lead a heart from dummy. When you win with the queen, lead a spade to dummy and repeat the finesse. Now you can draw trumps, giving up one trump trick in the process.

This is all you lose, and your slam is safe.

You go down if you rely on the queen of diamonds instead of the queen of hearts. After you have taken two successful finesses you still have to give up a diamond trick; you have done all your work for nothing.

TWO REASONS

What's more, you can reach dummy only once for a heart finesse and you wind up losing tricks to both red kings.

William Root, who presented this hand in the recent Intercollegiate Bridge Championships, gives two reasons for preferring the heart finesse:

1. If the heart finesse works the contract is made. If the trump finesse works, the trumps must divide favorably as well.

2. West might well hold off with the king of diamonds (if he had it) to induce South to waste an entry on a losing finesse.

West would have to be clairvoyant to hold off with the king of hearts since South might have started with only two hearts, and West would then never get a trick with his king.

In short, heart tricks are more permanent than diamond tricks and you're less likely to be deceived by a tricky opponent.

Today is Thursday, April 11, the 101st day of 1963.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1814, French Emperor Napoleon decided to abdicate and signed a proclamation to that effect.

A thought for the day—Mark Twain said: "Soap and education are not as sudden as a massacre, but they are more deadly in the long run."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Emotional Conflicts Can Do More Damage To Person Than Anything

VAN DELLEN

Emotional conflicts can disrupt life more completely than can many organic diseases. What are the most frequent causes of anxiety, frustration, and other forms of nervousness? A little insight along this line goes a long way in the prevention and understanding of these psychiatric problems.

Most of the origins of psychic upsets center about daily living. The individual often knows what is bothering him but he won't recognize it or be overcompensates for his problem.

WHEN WE MARRY, we promise to love and honor, but a good many spouses don't like each other after a year or two of marital bliss. But they stick together for various reasons. A man may be in constant torture when at home with his wife yet tells everyone how he adores her and how talented she is. This is overcompensation and, under hypnosis or the truth serum, he will admit it. But the majority bear their fate with resignation or develop symptoms of tension.

Three is a crowd is another factor. Many of the men and women who are involved in a love triangle suffer from feelings of guilt. Sexual frustration is another cause of tension, provided it bothers the individual. Sex has been emphasized beyond reason by our entertainment media, so that many people become unhappy about their humdrum lot.

FINANCIAL PROBLEMS are a well known source of mental unrest because of the tendency to keep up with the Joneses. Children can be devastating to peace of mind when they rule the roost. Many parents hesitate to exert their authority and become disturbed when they must discipline their youngsters.

Family dominance by the husband may upset the wife and vice versa. This includes the little whining woman who is full of hostility and the wife beater who rules by sheer force. Business dominance also is a factor, particularly when the man dislikes his work or his boss. But he cannot quit because he is hog-tied by company benefits or fears that he cannot get another job.

Overdependence on others also can be frustrating, especially in people who don't like to make decisions for themselves. Religion usually is a source of help but not when the person becomes a fanatic in an attempt to cover up his fears. This makes him a nuisance to himself and everyone else.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

Easter In Greece Is Most Colorful

By PHILIP DOPOULOS

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Easter is the most colorful of Greek holidays. And the Lenten season that precedes it opens new vistas for gourmets.

This year Greeks will celebrate their Orthodox Easter April 14, the same Sunday as the rest of the Christian world. Normally they lag by several weeks.

Through the 48 days of Lent there is fasting.

For the monks of Mount Athos and other monasteries that dot this Mediterranean country, it means a diet of hardly anything but boiled dandelions and wild mountain grass.

For others there are gastronomic delights.

A typical menu for fasting Greeks for Clean Monday, as the first day of Lent is called, consists of dishes fully approved by the 12-member Holy Synod, ruling body of the Greek Orthodox Church.

The dishes are usually cold and can easily be packed into a picnic basket for the family sortie into the countryside. They must consist of plants or bloodless creatures. This excludes fish as well as meat, poultry and eggs.

A Frenchman, hearing this while visiting Greece at the beginning of Lent, frowned and prepared himself for the worst.

His Greek host served him vine leaves stuffed with rice, black and green olives, caviar, boiled crab and lobster and oysters and clams. This was followed by octopus a la marsala, baby squid fried in olive oil, hearts of lettuce and spring onions and fish roe paste to be eaten with crisp, brown unleavened bread named lagana.

Chilled white wine was served, and to top the meal, there was dessert consisting of halvah with almonds, raisins and shaltsounia—crescent-shaped concoctions of mashed almonds and sugar sprinkled with rosewater and powdered with sugar icing.

The Frenchman waved away fruit salad, and sighed: "Oue, a pity that Lent lasts only 48 days."

After gorging themselves on the opening of Lent, the Greeks generally eat no meat on Wednesdays and Fridays and the religious fast seriously during the Holy Week. Most Greeks eat nothing on Good Friday.

The evening of Good Friday there are religious processions from every parish church. The parish priest, attired in robes and mitre, is followed by a gilded, flower-bedecked cupola under which lies a white cloth, embroidered with the body of Christ in gold.

The most colorful of these processions takes place in Athens, when members of the Greek royal family, Greek government leaders and diplomatic corps, attend services at the cathedral with the Orthodox prelate presiding. Street lamps are shrouded in black veils as a sign of mourning for the Saviour. A band plays a funeral march.

Churches throughout the land are packed with worshippers for Easter services.

Easter Sunday the country is covered by a pall of smoke which might perplex travelers sailing along the coast. It is the cumulative effect of tens of thousands of baby lambs on a spit slowly roasting over open charcoal fires in almost every back yard and village square.

'IS IT GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT?'

Nuclear, Space Age Spawn New Type Of Officer In Blue

By LOU ARMIJO

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The nuclear and space ages have spawned a new breed of Air Force officers who man laboratories instead of warplanes.

Seventy per cent of the Air Force's Nuclear Effects Research Laboratory staff of 200 is in uniform and half of those hold masters' degrees or doctorates in several fields of physics.

The nuclear laboratory at Kirkland Air Force Base also is brand new. The lab is expected to produce answers to such questions as what effect a nuclear explosion has on a rocket warhead in space; how vulnerable U.S. underground and above ground rocket launching sites are and what can be done to protect personnel.

The lab now has 2.5 million dollars' worth of equipment to simulate nuclear shock and blast and more will be added.

The man who keeps the lab well stocked with brain power is Col. David Jones, a veteran flyer with a scientific background which gives him an edge when recruiting newly graduated scientists.

Jones, chief of the physics division at Kirkland, says a large share of his "blue suiters"— phrase applied to the entire Air Force program for science specialists — come into the Air Force through college reserve officer training programs. Others are professional Air Force officers with enough promise to be sent back to school for advanced training. Still others are young men wooed and won in competition with business and other government laboratories.

The average age of the blue suiters at Kirkland is 27.

"Operationally oriented research," Jones says, is the aim of the Air Force in creating a place for research scientists. That means the researchers will work on problems of urgent interest to the military and with a military point of view.

Most of the blue suiters will spend only three years in the service. While the Air Force would like to keep many longer, perhaps as career officers, the three years is usually enough to produce useful research, Jones says.

"The Air Force research problems are attractive to newly graduated scientists," Jones says. Most can be solved within three years and a civilian core in the laboratory provides for continuity on some projects that take more time.

In the Air Force, Jones says, the research personnel can expect to be given much more responsibility than their beginner civilian counterparts.

To make the Air Force more attractive as a career field the attitude toward specialists is changing, Jones says. In the past there was little room for the specialist on the promotion ladder. He was confined to his specialty and within that specialty there was room for only so many generals, colonels and other ranks.

"In the past an officer was expected to be qualified for any job," Jones said. "But with warfare and weapons becoming more and more complex, that can't be true any more."

They Went To The Horses For Wigs

Wigs may be all the rage, but when producers of the Tamalpais Valley "Rhubarb Revue" found them to be above their budget they turned to horses' tails.

Director Laurie Tusup said human hair was found too expensive for wigs for the comedy show's eight beautiful models.

"My kids were collecting horsehair off fences but they couldn't get enough. So, we hopped into the car and went to a pet food place in Santa Rosa. Actually, we ended up at a slaughterhouse.

"We paid $1.25 for four horsetails, then we washed them in salt water and cut the bones out of them. Then they were washed in hot, soapy water and hung outside in the sun for two weeks.

"My mother (Leonora Jones) and Ollie Smith constructed the wigs, putting them on frames made of wire and buckram, and sewed them with strong thread. Then they sprayed them. We've been knee-deep in horsehair for weeks. But," she continued, "they don't smell any more. They're delightful."

Mrs. Tusup said her mother once made wigs in her native New Zealand but not professionally.

Mrs. Tusup will direct the ninth annual Rhubarb, "Showbiz Daze," to open April 19 and run for three weekends at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Clubhouse. It is Mrs. Tusup's seventh year as director.

Esther Allen, Fran Crebassa, Jack Adams, Don Cantin and Glassner wrote the comedy skits; Cheryl Bock plays piano; Art Crebassa and Clyde Prebble are music arrangers; Midge Hamburg, business manager and a combo is made up of Ray Truman, Dick and Paul Dunn.

On April 17 the club will be host to the San Rafael Chapter of the Indoor Sports Club.

Proceeds go toward the club's building fund. Tickets are available through Mrs. Robert Glessner, 42 Live Oak Drive.

THREE WITH A DERBY—Donning golden derbies for the ninth annual Rhubarb Revue in Tamalpais Valley are Fran Crebassa (left), Shirley Taldo and Benita Truman. The show will play April 19, 20, 26, 27 and May 3 and 4 at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club on Maple Street. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Sea Launching For Satellite?

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy is studying feasibility of launching military satellites from shipboard. Sea launches would provide flexibility, possibility of increased payload and tactical advantage.

Many satellites fired from Cape Canaveral must sacrifice payload weight in favor of added guidance equipment to steer the rocket to a precise position for the desired orbit. If this position were above an ocean area, a ship stationed beneath it could launch the rocket onto the intended trajectory without first dog-legging or otherwise jockeying it on course.

Dormitory Life Can Be Exciting

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Six Defiance College men get their quarters free and are paid a dollar a night besides. They're serving as night firemen and living in the city's fire stations.

But it also means an extra class. The six must attend a regular Monday evening class for all firemen.

One of the six, John Fetter of Napoleon, Ohio, says the job is as exciting as playing football or going to a prom "especially when you tumble out of bed to go to a fire and it's below zero."

Future Park Is Not Dump

MILFORD, Conn. (AP)—Don't call it a dump, George C. Lay, executive secretary of the Milford Planning and Zoning board, warned Mayor Charles R. Iovino.

Lay wrote Iovino that any plans to use low lands first as dumps and later to develop them as parks should be labeled "parks under construction."

"This problem has been pointed out many times during the past 10 years," he wrote. "Several land-acquisition proposals were presented, but the mention of the word dump seems to put a dead stop to any consideration of any new site."

IN PLAYHOUSE ROLE — Donna Pittsey of San Rafael is playing the role of Marie Rose, one of Alfie Nathan's girl friends in the California playhouse production of "A Family Affair," now playing on weekends until June 29 in Oakland.

Word 'Tourism' Called Bad Form

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — "Tourism," the word generally used for the business of selling services and commodities to tourists, ought to be replaced.

That's the opinion of Larry Monthey, recreation industries specialist with the University of Wisconsin.

"All 'ism' words have gained a derogatory connotation, like fascism or momism," Monthey says.

He has started a campaign to revive usage of a word recognized by Webster: "touristry."

Dairy Consumption

NEW YORK (UPI)—Americans rank 16th in per capita consumption of milk and cream among the 17 major producers of these products. We are eleventh in consumption of cheese. The Finns drink the most milk and cream and the Italians eat the most cheese.

Hotel Service

NEW YORK (UPI)—Guests of a Park Avenue hotel are met at the airport by a chauffeured Rolls-Royce equipped with a bar and other appurtenances.

Outside Help To Put On Play

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Small theaters often need outside help to put on plays. The Pittsburgh Playhouse certainly had it for its production of "Anna Kleiber."

Dania Talborg, who had the title role, is from Latvia. Another actor, Laszlo Bogi, was born in Hungary and a third, Ralph Scarpino, is from Italy. Tom Peacock, the director, is a native of Canada.

The play, which takes place in Spain, France and Germany, was written by Alfonso Sastre, a Spaniard, and was first produced in Greece.

White Duck Has Dark Time

Three days later, Voegtli heard a scratching in the exhaust pipe leading from the oil furnace to the chimney.

A plumber opened the pipe and found Mummy—now black and hot.

Less Forest Fires

NEW YORK (UPI) — Forest fires burned less than 3 million acres of national, state and private timberlands last year, government figures showed. This was the lowest toll on record and far below the 47.7 million peak acreage blackened in 1936.

3 New Cherry Varieties Told

BERKELEY (AP)—Three new cherry varieties were released by the University of California for commercial propagation.

Grown in San Joaquin County test plots for 10 years, they were given numbers instead of names until they are approved.

Farm adviser Fred Charles said U.S. 26-15, an excellent dark red cherry, may replace Bing. U.C. 23A-3a is a beautiful cream colored Royal Ann and U.C. 30-9a is considered a black Tartarian replacement.

Penguins Are Everywhere

MIAMI (AP)—A Miami dentist lives with a thousand penguins —collected from curio shops throughout the world.

Marble, wood, iron, tin and glass penguins in assorted colors and sizes roost on dressers and tables and stand on the floor in Dr. Gonzalo Jose Gallegos' seventh floor hotel room on Biscayne Boulevard.

"Every time I pass a curio shop, I browse for new penguins," said Dr. Gallegos, who came to Miami from his native Costa Rica 30 years ago.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Northgate Center Won't Make Ghost Town Of San Rafael

For every action there is an opposite reaction. This has proved true in urban growth and retail business development where complications of downtown traffic and parking have given rise to the erection of huge shopping centers in areas removed from these problems.

It doesn't necessarily follow that "downtown" then automatically goes out of business. Actually it would be difficult to find a place today where such a thing has taken place unless other factors were involved. The process of action and counteraction continues. When traffic stresses are eased, a measure of patronage flows back and somewhere a "balance" is struck.

DOWNTOWN San Rafael is no different in this respect than any other growing city that has had to face the same problem, and its merchants should not panic with thoughts of Northgate Shopping Center making it a ghost town. Stonestown did not scuttle San Francisco, and though the Emporium built a new store in one it also started to negotiate renewal of its lease with the Parrott Estate in the other long before the expiration date.

It was the observation of an executive of one incoming Northgate firm that the major occupants of the Stanford Shopping Center in Palo Alto should be looked upon as representing potential tenants at Northgate. It's logical to assume, therefore, that such names as Roos-Atkins, Hastings, I. Magnin, Joseph Magnin, Macy's, Lerner and others are on the probability list.

But University Avenue in Palo Alto (though wider than San Rafael's Fourth Street) is still a busy thoroughfare and certainly devoid of neither shopping opportunities nor customers.

In spite of all its drawbacks, downtown San Rafael is still a habit and convenience spot for many Marinites. Merchants should not be complacent about it and the competitive challenge from Northgate may be just what is needed. It's still possible to hold on to a good share of the retail business when thousands of people walk by their stores everyday by making values and buying attractive to them.

SURFWOOD ESTATES, a 640-acre area south of Russian Gulf State Park and fronting on the Mendocino County coast is being developed in one-acre residental sites by a Marin group made up of Leslie Hood, David Van Pelt, Felix Warburg, Francis Newton, John Rockwell, Leslie Smith, Joseph Burton and H. Nicholas Cam.

The property, purchased around the first of the year, consists of 400 to 500 acres of level ground suitable for homesites and the balance is forest. The group is setting aside a large parcel along the scenic ocean front for recreational development, restaurant and inn and possible future quasi-commercial use. A water system is now being developed from a creek on which water rights are owned. Construction on a dam may follow later. About 32 lots are already laid out and approved; another 23 will be ready in the next few months.

Early pilgrims in Asia may have "invented" felt. Using sheep's wool to line their hide shoes, pilgrims on long treks created enough pressure in the shoe to cause the fibers to interlock and become felt.

NAVY GIVES UP HOPE FOR SUB LOST AT SEA WITH 129 HANDS

Aid To Aged Cost To Rise

State niggardliness in lowering welfare payments for chronic care of the aged seems almost certain in Marin County to saddle a bigger eventual bill on the state, it was indicated before conty supervisors yesterday.

Meanwhile Marin nursing home operators agreed today that they will have to do "the best we can" with a modest increase in Medical Care for the Aged proposed by the state.

Acting Chairman William D. Fusselman drew a grim conclusion yesterday after Welfare Director Betty L. Presley had summed up results of the latest Sacramento gesture toward meeting Marin costs. His conclusion: It won't work.

In support of this Miss Presley said no more than $90 a month per payment could be added to the state's intended May 1 rates of $219 per month per patient for basic care, $272 for extensive care. No Marin nursing home is likely to qualify for the full $90, she added.

"Few will keep extensive care patients here at that rate, few if any will keep basic care patients," said Miss Presley, explaining that most Marin welfare patients fall into the "basic" category. The generally accepted Marin County minimum for such category is $350 a month.

"So we're really not much better off after all," commented Supervisor Peter Behr. "It's illusory so far as we're concerned."

Then Fusselman nailed down the probabilities: That most present nursing home patients must leave, and that because the state won't allow county supplementation of its Medical Assistance for the Aged program there seems nothing to be done about that.

The alternative, said Fusselman, will be to place these patients in acute-care hospital facilities because the state

BROTHERS LOST ON SHIP— 'BOTH MY SONS'

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—They were brothers, shipmates and neighbors. Each had four children.

They were aboard the nuclear submarine Thresher, believed lost in the Atlantic yesterday.

"Both my sons. Both my sons," grieved Mrs. Neil D. Shafer today. It was about all she could say.

Benjamin, 35, and John, 33, were electricians on the Thresher.

They and their families lived at a trailer park here, near the home of their parents.

Good Friday Services Are Set In Marin

Marin County churches will mark Good Friday tomorrow with services commemorating the death of Christ on Calvary.

Most retail stores and government offices in the county will be closed from noon to 3 p.m.

Three community services, under auspices of the Marin County Council of churches, will be held in San Anselmo, Anselmo, San Rafael and Terra Linda.

The First Baptist Church of San Anselmo will have services from 12:30 to 2 p.m. for its members of five other churches. The First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael will have services from 12:30 to 2 p.m. with three other churches taking part, and Christ Presbyterian Church in Terra Linda will have services from 1 to 2:30 p.m. with four other churches taking part.

Another community service, sponsored by the Youth for Christ of Marin County, will be held for six parishes at the First Baptist Church of San Rafael. Other churches taking part are Harmony Baptist Church, San Rafael; Assembly of God Church, San Rafael; Assembly of God Church, Mill Valley; Calvary Baptist Church, Mill Valley, and Corte Madera Baptist Church.

The combined choirs of six Novato churches will sing Theo-

Nuclear Vessel In Dive Off East Coast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy gave up hope today on the nuclear-powered submarine Thresher and the 129 men who rode her down into a mile and a half of water 220 miles off Boston yesterday.

Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, made the announcement more than 25 hours after contact was lost during a deep diving test of the recently overhauled vessel.

EPITAPH FROM PRESIDENT

"Very reluctantly I have come to the conclusion that the Thresher has indeed been lost," Anderson said.

And President John F. Kennedy, in a statement expressing his deep distress over the disaster, wrote an epitaph for the ship's complement of officers, enlisted men and civilians.

He compared them with "their forefathers who led the advance on the frontiers of our civilization.

"The future of our country will always be sure when there are men such as these to give their lives to preserve it."

Anderson said two main factors influenced his judgment:

The salvage vessel Recovery followed an oil slick detected yesterday and found bits of cork used in internal construction of submarines.

Even if there had been a communications failure or the Thresher had gotten out of position in relation to its escort ship, the Skylark, "surely in the interim there would have been opportunity for the Thresher" to have re-establish contact.

ORDERS TO OTHER SUBS

"I conclude with great regret and sadness that this fine ship with 129 souls aboard is lost," Anderson said.

He disclosed at the same time that orders had gone out to two other Thresher class submarines—the Permit and the Plunger—to limit the depth to which they dive pending determination whether there are metal faults in the hull or other weaknesses.

The naval chief said a court of inqury will investigate, among other things, work done on the Thresher during overhaul at the Portsmouth, N. H. naval yard since last July.

He noted that in the course of this overhaul and modernization, involving installation of new equipment, cuts as much as a yard wide had been made in the Thresher's hull.

He said tests were made to find out if there were

How It Feels As Sub Dives

(EDITOR'S NOTE—What's it like cruising under the sea in a nuclear submarine such as the Thresher? How does the crew react in a deep dive, in an emergency? Elton C. Fay, AP military affairs writer, tells about it by drawing on his first-hand observations during rides on atomic subs.)

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) —Whatever happened aboard the Thresher, there almost certainly was no panic.

Submariners have steel nerves. Years of training mean they react instantly and instinctively to orders, whatever the circumstance.

What is it like aboard a high-speed, deep-diving atomic submarine? Such a submarine as the Thresher, lost in the Atlantic, perhaps under hundreds of feet of ocean?

What is it like when a submarine goes down for hundreds of feet and then, for urgent reason, pushes past the red line marking on the depth indicator, beyond which mighty pressure builds up swiftly and dangerously?

You remember rides aboard nuclear submarines.

There is the calmness, the orderly way the ship is handled, the low-spoken commands and responses. Crewmen in the mess, drinking coffee, crewmen at the controls, crewmen in the machinery spaces, in the torpedo compartments. Submarins are quiet and nuclear submariners quieter.

There was the time aboard the Seawolf, second atomic submarine built.

X-15 Tests Photo Job At 2,500 MPH

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — An X-15 rocket ship with a camera sunk in the underside of its nose streaked an estimated 2,500 miles an hour today in its first test as an aerial mapping plane.

The flight was the record-smashing X-15's first in its new role of fringe-of-space workhorse, hauling scientific instruments to heights unreachable by most aircraft.

Eventually the X-15 will be used to perfect cameras more powerful than those in U-2 spy planes. It also will carry telescope designed to photograph stars from a vantage point high above the earth's dirty blanket of atmosphere.

The camera carried aloft today is a standard Army KC-1 used in aerial surveys and will be replaced later by equipment with stronger lenses.

Primary purpose of the flight was to measure how much distortion it caused 1) by the faster-than-sound shock waves generated by the speeding plane and 2) by the friction-heated air flowing past the fuselage.

Temperatures on the X-15's steel skin rose to 800 degrees Fahrenheit at times during today's flight to an estimated 70,000 feet.

Most Cafes Open Tomorrow

Most Marin restaurants will remain open all day tomorrow, but give their employees time off at different times to observe Good Friday.

Generally, other retail business in the county will be closed from noon to 3 p.m., the hours of meditation scheduled at many Marin churches.

Chamber of Commerce in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Mill Valley, Sausalito and Novato all said there would be no business from noon to 3 p.m.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Nine Airmen Die In Travis Crash

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—An Air Force C133 Cargomaster crashed in soggy marshland 3,000 feet from the landing strip here yesterday, killing all nine crewmen aboard.

The plane, a type which often carries missiles, was apparently attempting to land after a routine training flight, Air Force officials said. Officers said the plane carried no nuclear material.

The plane burst into flames on impact. It was virtually impossible for base firefighters to reach the wreckage through the marshland. An Air Force spokesman said the craft burned for nearly an hour after it crashed.

Citizen Churchill Off To Riviera

LONDON (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill, who was carried home from the Riviera aboard a stretcher last June, walked aboard an airliner today taking him back there for a vacation in the sun.

Churchill

The 88-year-old former prime minister packed away his new honorary American citizenship papers and displayed the tenacity which rallied Britain in two wars and won the hearts of men of all nations.

He scorned a London ariport official's suggestion that he be carried aboard the British European Airways jetliner taking him to the Mediterranean.

"I'll walk," Churchill growled around his cigar. And he did.

Missilemen In Two Successes

The series began in failure when the Navy had to destroy an errant Polaris A-3 missile launched from a surface vessel off the coast.

An Air Force-industry team fired a Minuteman "instant ICBM" more than 4,000 miles into the Atlantic.

A tiny rocket was launched on a weather data gathering mission in space to end the day on a successful note.

As commander of the 3rd Infantry Division at Fort Lewis, Wash., between 1938 and 1939, he had helped train three young officers named Dwight D. Eisenhower, George Marshall and Mark Clark.

Egypt, Syria, Iraq To Unite As Nation

CAIRO (AP) — The rulers of Egypt, Syria and Iraq have agreed to unite their 38 million people in a new United Arab Republic with Cairo as the capital, but they are keeping most of the details secret.

After four days of unity negotiations, Egyptian Premier Aly Sabry announced last night that the new U.A.R. will have a single flag, a central military command and one nationality for all.

Sabry did not say who will head the unified state, but there seemed little doubt that Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser will hold the reins.

The three original states will be know as the Egyptian region, Syrian region and Iraqi region. Sabry's announcement indicated that the new U.A.R. will have a strong central government, controlling foreign affairs, defense, economic planning, currency, foreign trade, customs and taxes. But a source who was present at the negotiations said purely local affairs will be kept in local hands rather than under tight Cairo control as was the case in the previous abortive Syrian-Egyptian union.

Sabry said the new state will have central control of information and propaganda agencies and of education to insure "unified thought for the nationalist unionist trend."

With much still to be worked out the unity negotiators are continuing to meet in Cairo. Of major interest will be the provision for political parties. Egypt under Nasser is a one-party state, while control of the new revolutionary regimes in Iraq and Syria is shared by the moderate Ba'ath Socialists and Nasserites.

Another big question mark hangs over the future division of Iraq's rich oil revenues, the chief financial resource of the new nation.

There was no indication when the new republic will come into being.

On the heels of the unity announcement came a report that Egypt test fired two rockets last week from launching pads near Port Suez at the southern end of the 104-mile canal.

It was the first word of rocket firings since last July, when Nasser announced the presence of rockets in Egypt and allowed newsmen to witness launchings.

Nasser said at the time that Egypt was working on two types of ground-to-ground rockets, the larger with the range of 360 miles. Fired from Port Suez, the larger rockets could threaten all of Israel.

Senate Approves Kennedy Youth Work Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved President John F. Kennedy's program to put thousands of American youths to work on conservation and community projects.

But before the youngsters can be sent into parks and forests and into local hospitals and libraries, the House will have to give its approval. And this, administration lieutenants concede, is no sure thing.

Kennedy men in the Senate had promised to pass the youth employment bill before Easter. They made good last night, but it took a 12-hour session, longest of the year, before the 50-34 vote was rolled up.

Although the House Labor Committee has approved a bill close to the Senate version, House Republicans promise a stiff fight and Democratic leaders say they do not know if the bill will be passed.

It won't be called up for debate until the holiday recess ends April 22 and floor consideration is unlikely before May, said administration leaders in the House.

The legislation deals with two programs which, proponents say, will eventually provide up to 100,000 jobs a year to those in the 16-21 age bracket.

One would send youths into camps in a federal conservation corps patterned after the old CCC of the 1930s. The other would establish a state and community force to work on local public service projects.

The measure was cleared to the House with votes of 43 Democrats and seven Republicans. It was opposed by 20 Republicans and 14 Democrats, 12 of them Southerners.

Republicans centered their attack on the conservation corps section of the bill, its most attractive feature to many Democrats. GOP efforts to eliminate this failed by 47 to 41, the closest squeak for the bill in the floor fight.

Managers of the bill accepted a Republican amendment to ban any exclusions from the program on racial grounds. But they rejected others to prohibit segregation in the camps and to bar discrimination in the facilities on which the youths work.

The bill would authorize 50 million dollars each for the conservation camps and local public service projects in the first year of the program.

For the remaining four years covered by the bill, it would be up to the administration and Congress to decide how much money to go into it.

Science Knows Whys Of Cancer, Want To Find Out Where They Are

By DELOS SMITH

LA JOLLA (UPI)—Science is completely convinced it knows where the "whys" of cancer are. The question is, how soon will it be able to get its hands on those "whys" and how quickly will it be able to put them to life-saving use?

These whys, according to practically unanimous scientific opinion which is backed by much hard evidence, are strung along the double-dyoyribonucleic acid—DNA.

When Dr. I. S. Ravdin, president of the American Cancer Society, opened its annual science writers seminar on cancer research by saying the final answer to cancer would involve "the very secrets of life" he was referring to this molecule.

Every life starts with one. It comes into being in the fertilized egg and it contains not only the hereditary directions for the making of a new life but the directive means of operating this life once it is fully formed.

It contains the genes which dictate whether eyes will be brown or blue, whether the new individual will be tall or short and everything else derived from forebearers. It also has the chemical powers to unfold the templates against which all the body-operating proteins are formed.

This molecule could account for all the theorized "whys" of cancer. One of these theories holds that viruses cause cancer. Viruses could do it by "inserting" their own DNA or its subsidiary molecule, RNA, into human DNA or RNA and thereby pervert some of the millions of templates into cancer-operating proteins.

Another theory holds that the culprits are noxious substances, such as cigarette smoke, atmospheric pollutants such as automobile exhaust "products," and a whole host of chemical compounds that are proved cancer-causers.

If they could somehow get into DNA and RNA molecules and influence their operations, the results would be drastic changes in chemical procedures which could result in cancers.

SACRAMENTO DEADLOCK

Dangerous, Hypnotic Drugs Targets Of Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Sen. Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville) said today he's hopeful of sending a series of bills aimed at dangerous and hypnotic drugs to the Senate floor next week.

The measures include a controversial proposal to require a triplicate prescription to obtain the pain-killing "Percodan."

The committee, of which Regan is chairman, deadlocked 66 on the bill two weeks ago.

Regan said, however, that Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced) was absent from the hearing and he hopes to obtain the key vote when the committee meets again next Monday night.

Ten other bills are pending before the committee. All introduced by Regan, they are sponsored by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk and the Bureau of Narcotics Enforcement.

The legislation seeks to tighten controls on what are considered dangerous as well as hypnotic and amphetamine drugs. The program is supported by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Medical witnesses opposing the "Percodan" bill testified the harmful effects of the drug have been exaggerated.

Mosk told the committee that hundreds of Californians are becoming addicted to the drug.

Marin Relief To Be Modernized

BENJAMIN DRAPER
To talk on writing

By RANDALL GOULD

Endorsement of a modernized general relief program for Marin County was unanimously voted by a special meeting of three of Marin's five supervisors yesterday.

A motion approved by the board directed county counsel to prepare a detailed resolution covering the first revision since 1957.

Results, said Welfare Director Betty L. Presley, will include overdue reforms in the way of more streamlined procedures, recognition of a 14 per cent cost of living rise since price figures were set six years back, addition of certain relief items now considered essential, and a commonsense approach to many minor items now causing staff bother and individual privation.

Cost could increase 28 per cent in the next fiscal year if present caseloads give accurate indication of the future. But new state legislation now under consideration might materially reduce the burden to Marin County.

Under "eligibility" the permitted assessed valuation of real property would become $3,500 rather than the present $3,000, representing $15,000 market value, while the personal property figure would rise from $500 to $600. Both changes, said Miss Presley, "give a very modest recognition to rise in values and inflation during the 16 years since the formula was set up in 1947.

Major changes of philosophy concerning relief assistance reflect change from emergencies of the 1930s, said Miss Presley, and changes during the 1950s "leaving chronic pockets of unemployment, which make this approach of temporary emergency assistance on a short-term basis seriously inadequate."

She said there is now frequent or continued loss of income "among the unskilled or underskilled group who do not compete in a mechanized, prefabricated economic society."

Miss Presley spoke of a few families still on general relief rolls which were familiar names at the time she came to Marin County in 1951.

"They have lived and borne and raised their children on a standard of temporary stop-gap emergency relief for a large part of the intervening 12 years," she said.

"I have personally reviewed every pair of socks, or shorts, or haircut, for which we have paid over the past two years." Recipients are exhausted by efforts to get along with officialdom and inflation "yet they have to ask for every haircut," she declared.

Miss Presly summed up this situation as "time-consuming and degrading" for everybody concerned and backed lump-sum payments expended at the recipients' discretion.

"If there is any thought," said Miss Presley, "that an inadequate, limited standard of assistance is a deterrent to assistance and an incentive to spur people on to heights of self-sufficiency, our experience to date is ample evidence to the contrary."

Too much time wasted by social workers and clerks on such things as authorizing haircuts just means high administrative costs for needless controls while forcing recipients to beg for aid, she said.

Two bills now before the legislature will, if passed, "materially decrease our general relief caseloads so that we would be talking about fewer people and less dollars," she said.

After lengthy conference the board found Miss Presley's program commonsense and reasonable, and voted full support. This was her second clean sweep of the day, for earlier she had similarly won endorsement of proposals for gradual staff enlargement required by new federal and state rules providing for rehabilitation and other services.

3 Marin WritersTo Take Part In Conference Panel

Three Marinites will participate in panel discussions of the ninth annual California Writers' Conference April 19 and 20 in Oakland.

Benjamin Draper of Mill Valley, a radio and television script-writer and executive producer of the "Science in Action" television series, will take part in the non-fiction session, one of four sessions involving top writers, editors and publishers.

Rosalie Moore Brown of Fairfax and Lillian Pohlmann of Mill Valley will be on a panel of authors discussing writing for young people.

Mrs. Brown and her husband have collaborated on several books for children. Mrs. Pohlmann is the author of the Myrtle Albertina series for children and more recently "Calypso Holiday."

Turkey Crop Is Up Except California

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In spite of decreases in turkey production in California, the national turkey crop will be larger than in 1962.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said turkey growers nationwide have announced intentions to produce 3 per cent more heavy breed turkeys and 2 per cent more light breed birds than in 1962.

tine trip to the New London, Conn., base. One day out a message came to join in a hunt for a suspected unknown submarine in the area, off the Florida coast.

The tempo changed. This wasn't practice; this was a hunt to see whether there was a Russian submarine hovering off the U.S. coast.

Hour upon hour, the submarine cruised, stopped now, moving then, listening on passive sonar, closing in towards an area in which planes and ships had reported the suspected presence of an unknown.

The focal point of the search was reached. The Seawolf hunted and listened high up, near the surface, then down deeper. The active sonar was turned on. It sent out its pinging notes and listened for echoes from a steel hull—or something. What was that ahead, down below?

Take her deeper. The diving officer, standing behind the planesman at the controls, called off the depth, "passing one hundred, passing two hundred," and more and more hundreds. The depth indicator needle crept steadily toward the red line, then passed it.

The submarine was below the depth for which its hull and fittings were tested. Submarines can do this. It is hard on the boat and tenses up the nerves, but it is done on occasions.

The captain had ordered: "Rig for quiet patrol" and in a moment "Rig for ultraquiet." A great stillness came. The ordinary white lights were off. The deep red of battle lights touched highlights on faces and instruments and control levers, left shadows in sable black.

If you watched closely, you caught crewmen stealing quick glances at rivets and hull fittings as the terrific pressure of deep water built up.

The understanding is that a submarine hull usually doesn't just crush inwards, although this probably has happened in some accidents.

What probably happens in most instances is that an intake valve or other fitting through the pressure hull gives way suddenly. A compartment floods and the pressure overwhelms the door and bulkheads into other compartments. Suddenly the boat is filled and the pressure equalizes. It goes down and down, until it rests on the bottom.

$1.2 Million Apartments Passed

Sausalito planning commissioners last night approved a use permit for an 1.2-million-dollar apartment project in Marinship and heard a request for a use permit for a multi-million-dollar 180-unit apartment layout near Highway 101 in the Rodeo Avenue area.

Hearing on the latter request made by Ardilla Land Co. was continued to May 3 to permit the commission time to gain more information concerning architecture, the water problem, drainage and grades, chairman Mel Wax said today.

The project is in hilly area, Wax related, and would be reached only from the highway. It is in an area zoned for apartments but which is proposed to be duplex under the new zoning ordinance. "It will be the biggest apartment project in Sausalito," Wax said.

Applicants have allowed 2,500 square feet of land for each apartment unit, this figure being a requirement for duplex density. Apartments now require 1,250 square feet per unit as it is and the city proposes to up this to 1,500 square feet in the new ordinance.

The city council May 22, 1962 denied Ardilla a use permit to build a 422-unit apartment house in the same area, Rodeo Hill, disapproving of its sprawling nature, its density and citing traffic and fire protection protection problems.

The Marinship project will contain 33 apartments. George P. Rischmuller and Norman T. Johnson of Greenbrae, who sought the use permit, had had a permit first in 1961 and a renewal in 1962. It had expired and a new one was required. The developers have been kept from building awaiting approval of the Marinship master plan.

The Rischmuller-Johnson project, the first apartment complex to be approved in Marinship, is in five separate buildings. It complies with all Marinship recommendations, Wax said, except that apartments will have 1,250 square feet of land per unit rather than the recommended 1,500. This was allowed because applicants had had approval for 1,250 square feet in their original permit and have been held up through no fault of their own.

Rischmuller said today he hopes that an assessment district may be formed within six months to put in Harbor Drive to serve the project and that construction would begin immediately afterward.

Hallinan Gets Setback In Fight With Church

Belvedere attorney Vincent Hallinan, avowed "roaring atheist," lost a round yesterday in his legal fight to upset the bequest of a $200,000 estate to Catholic charities.

Superior Court Judge Byron Arnold in San Francisco, ruling on a pre-trial interrogation by Hallinan, said that Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken didn't have to answer questions about the location or existence of Heaven, Hell or Purgatory.

Hallinan's client is his son Terence Hallinan, who bought the interest of John Smith of Corte Madera in the estate of the late David F. Supple, who died in August, 1961. Smith is a grand-nephew.

Hallinan contends that the Catholic Church pressured Supple into leaving his estate to church charities by threatening him with "Hell and Purgatory." In a hearing Jan. 24 he demanded that the court order the archbishop to answer 38 questions about church doctrine to prove there is a Heaven, Hell and Purgatory.

The judge ruled that the validity of religious doctrines and an individual's belief in them is outside the court's jurisdiction.

Hallinan said he'll take the decision to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

"The law will not help me find Hell," the attorney said. "I'm sometimes like Diogenes . . . I try to use the law as a lantern and the light goes out."

He said the church "teaches people they can get into Heaven or avoid Hell" by giving to the church.

"We have now arrived at a state of civilization and science where the court should no longer permit that kind of fraud," Hallinan declared. He said he will next file for a writ of mandate from the District Court of Appeals to get the answers from the Archbishop.

must pay 75 per cent though the care is beyond need and the rate much higher than nursing homes will take.

Miss Presley met for nearly two hours today with representatives of eight of the nine nursing homes in the county. They reviewed the rate modifications which were outlined this week by the state.

"I think that everybody realizes that we are at the point where we are going to get all we can expect at this time from the state," Miss Presley told the operators.

"There will not be a mass exodus of patients from nursing homes as we had feared two or three weeks ago," she added. "But some patients clearly will have to be moved to hospitals."

Portions of the $90 increase will be allowed under specific conditions such as the capital investment in each home and the cost for patient care.

"The real defect in the state's program," Miss Presley said, "is that the entire overhead problem is ignored. The rates are set up as to whether a patient requires basic or extensive care, and the cost of nursing home operation is not split up that way."

The home operators will report before next Monday to the Welfare Department on the extent to which they will qualify for the increased rates.

"We will know then just how many patients may have to be put in other institutions where more aid will be available from the state," Miss Presley said.

in the public interest as well," Kennedy said in a statement.

But he held open the prospect of administration acceptance of selective, rather than broad price boosts.

He said price adjustments up or down, as prompted by changes in supply and demand, "are not incompatible with a framework of general stability and steel price stability and are characteristic of any healthy economy."

The presidential statement followed a day and a half of intensive White House scrutiny of a selective price increase averaging $6 a ton on some items announced yesterday by Wheeling Steel Corp. No other company has announced a similar boost.

asking permanent certification as an unsubsidized carrier.

A communication from Marin County supervisors said that service to this county would be welcomed. The board recently voted support of the SFOHA application although it was decided not to become an active party in the case.

Objecting was Pacific Airways and Los Angeles Airways, operating a subsidized helicopter service from Los Angeles Airport and seeking certification to compete with SFOHA in the Bay area.

Civic Affairs Unit To Use Center

An Independent-Journal report yesterday of a Tuesday action before county supervisors erroneously said permission had been refused the Marin Council of Civic Affairs for free use of a Civic Center meeting room.

The supervisors in fact voted unanimously to allow the council to use its chamber without fee for the council's annual meeting April 28. Supervisor George Ludy expressed doubt that the council was sufficiently a "public body" to be entitled to such use without charge, but voted for the permission.

The headline said "No Center Use For Civic Affairs Unit" which council officials feel implies a refusal to allow use either gratis or for a fee. No such attitude toward the council has been expressed by the supervisors.

The Independent-Journal regrets these errors which were without malice, and resulted from condensation of an originally correct report.

Gardener Hurt; Hits Parked Car

A Ross gardener suffered face and leg injuries when he drove his pickup truck into a parked car on Sir Francis Boulevard just west of Ash Avenue in the Kentfield area early today, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Tadao Tsuneoka, 42, of 4 Lagunitas Road, told officer Gerald L. Walkup he must have fallen asleep when he drove westbound into a parked car owned by Louis Capella of 921 Sir Francis Drake, Kentfield, about 2:25 a.m.

Tsuneoka was admitted to Marin General Hospital for a cut lip and right knee injuries. His condition was "satisfactory."

Rev. Thelma Olsen, pastor of the local church will speak at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Sam Good, an artist from Sacramento, will speak at 8 p.m. Saturday, the final meeting in the church's series of talks this week.

Absentee Ballots Due Tomorrow

Deadline for returning absentee ballots for Tuesday's school trustee elections in Marin is tomorrow at 5 p.m.

About 150 absentee ballots have been requested, according to Asst. County Schools Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer. In order to be counted for the elections, absentee ballots must be received by the county schools office in the Civic Center before the 5 p.m. deadline, Kupfer said.

However, voters who obtained ballots from the Dixie or Kentfield school district offices, which will hold bond elections as well as trustee elections, must return ballots to the district offices.

STOCKS TODAY

Volume was estimated at 4.3 million shares compared with 5.91 million yesterday.

Pleads Guilty To Hamilton Burglary

Jones and Mitchell E. Spangler, 20, are accused jointly of the burglary in which more than $200 worth of jewelry, cameras and other items were taken.

Jones, of Concord, had been indicted originally on a first degree burglary charge. Today Asst. U. S. Atty. James Hewitt said the facts did not warrant such a serious charge. Second degree was substituted.

Both Jones and Spangler, who also pleaded guilty, will be sentenced April 25.

Heiress Loses $1.2 Million Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Heiress Joan Irvine Burt yesterday lost her 1.2-million dollar suit against the men who manage the land empire built up by her late grandfather.

Superior Judge Joseph Karesh dismissed the suit without comment.

Mrs. Burt had charged that directors of the Irvine family's widespread interests in Orange County had traded some land owned by the company for 1.2 million dollars less than it is worth.

Mrs. Burt owns 10 per cent of the stock in the company. Fifty-one per cent is owned by the Irvine Foundation, a charitable institution.

Easter Egg Hunt Set In Tiburon

The Tiburon Peninsula Club will hold its annual Children's Easter Egg Hunt for children 10 years and under on Saturday from 10 to 11 a.m.

Pastries, doughnuts, hot chocolate and both Irish and American coffee will be available at the snack bar.

The hunt will be held "rain or shine" according to Mrs. Helen Issel, club manager. No reservations need be made.

Governor May Back End To Bridge Tolls

State Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) said yesterday that his bill to do away with tolls on the Golden Gate Bridge may receive strong backing from Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Collier's bill would dissolve the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and make the bridge part of the federal interstate highway system. The senator said that Brown "seemed very sympathetic" when he discussed the bill with him yesterday.

Senate In 1st Secret Session Since 1943

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate went into secret session today for the first time since World War II to debate the need for speeding development of an anti-missile missile.

The unusual closed session—first since 1943—was called to allow Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.), to use classified data in support of his claim that a possible Russian system of defense against missile might confront the United States with a new defense "gap".

Mill Valley Protests Subdivision On Tam

The Mill Valley City Council last night decided to protest to the Marin County Board of Supervisors about a proposed 15-acre subdivision by Roy M. Scott on Mount Tamalpais.

Dixie Voters Face $1.6 Million Bond Issue

A $1,600,000 bond issue to finance new schools in Dixie School District over the next five years will be asked of the district's voters in Tuesday's election.

The authorization must pass by two-thirds vote. If it fails to do so, it will be the first such failure in Dixie District's history.

The district has just issued the last of $950,000 in bonds authorized by voters in 1955, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis. That amount kept Dixie at its maximum legal bonded indebtedness over the eight years. The $1,600,000 authorization is expected to do the same for the next five years.

Besides the bond issue, the district has spent state loan money to build six schools since 1954 and purchase land for two more that are now on the drawing boards.

The bond issue will not increase tax rates, Willis said. The reason is that the state loan formula provides for reduction in loan retirement payments when districts must increase bond payments. Also, some of the first bonds sold will be paid off by the time the new bonds are drawing interest.

The tax rate this year is $2.82 per $100 assessed valuation.

All Parent-Teacher groups in the district have endorsed the proposed bond issue, and Superintendent Willis said he has not discovered any organized opposition to it.

Willis said the district has been growing at the rate of 300 to 400 new pupils a year, and he expects it to contiune at that rate.

The 1.6 million dollars will be needed, first, to build three new schools by January of 1965. These will be the Miller Creek Intermediate School on Las Gallinas Avenue, the Terra Linda Valley School near Terra Linda High School, and a new unnamed school in the Lucas Valley Eichler Tract west of the County Farm and Hospital.

New locations which the bond money would help pay for would be a site west of the new Lucas Valley Eichler Tract, another between Lucas Valley Road and Terra Linda, and a third in some area such as the Silveira or Smith Brothers' Ranches east of Highway 101.

According to the Dixie District Finance Committee, if the bond issue is not approved the district will face half-day sessions and over-crowded classrooms by September of 1964.

Legion Aide To Speak In Mill Valley

A Lee Oder, American Legion State Department commander, will speak at the Past Commanders' Night dinner at the American Legion Hall in Mill Valley April 21, post Commander Francis W. Mosher Jr. announced today.

It is the first visit of the legion's state chief in Marin for six years. About 150 post members and their wives are expected to attend. Past Commander Roy A. Ibach is program chairman. C. J. Denne of Boyes Springs, District 5 Americanism chairman, will present a national citation from the Legion to past Commander James McGuinness, Mill Valley post Americanism chairman for 1961-62.

A committee of wives and widows of past commanders headed by Mrs. Ibach will prepare a Swiss steak dinner to be served by the Mill Valley Bethel of Job's Daughters.

Skindivers Save Money In Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four Coast Guard skindivers save money for taxpayers.

The job ordinarily takes 12 hours but the skindiving crew has switched a prop in five minutes.

In 1962, the men changed 115 propellers, saving $6,000.

The Spaniards took over the Philippine Islands in the 16th Century, named them for Philip II and converted most of the coastal and valley people to the Catholic Church.

$125.5 Million State School Measure Faces Tough Going

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The bill to boost California school aid by 125.5 million dollars next year is on its way to the economy minded Assembly ways and means committee after breezing through the Education Committee.

Only one no vote was heard at the climax of a three and one-half hour hearing yesterday before an overflow audience of 5,000, most of whom remained until the 11:15 vote. Assemblyman John L. E. Collier (R-Los Angeles) opposed the measure.

The bill by Assemblyman Charles Garrigus (D-Reedley) faces much tougher going in ways and means.

That committee's chairman, Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda) has introduced a Brown administration bill to raise next year's money for education from kindergarten through junior college by 55 million dollars.

This measure hasn't yet come before the Education Committee, chaired by Garrigus.

The 126.5 million dollars in his bill would come from 101.5 million dollars in aid channeled to local school districts from state funds, and 25 million dollars raised in the districts by a countywide tax system.

The governor's proposal asks only 30 million dollars in added state aid, plus the 25 million dollars from the countywide tax. He has declared he won't accept the Crown bill without the countywide tax idea which was rejected in 1961.

The countywide tax system would require each property tax payer to pay at least $1.10 per each $100 assessed valuation for school aid. It would result in increasing the tax payments of a minority, however, since most Californians already fork over school taxes higher than $1.10.

The extra 25 million dollars raised would be taken from so called "rich" districts and given to "poor" districts in the same county.

San Jose, Costa Rica, with more than 102,000 population, stands in the central highland of Costa Rica 40 miles inland from the Pacific and 50 miles from the Caribbean.

Motorists Get Reminder On Gas

BEREA, Ohio (AP)—Motorists will receive some friendly advice upon entering the Ohio Turnpike during the next few weeks: "Make sure you have enough gasoline."

Entrance plaza personnel are being instructed to issue the reminder orally. Executive director C. W. Hartford says it's an expermient to try and reduce the number of vehicles stranded on the northern Ohio toll road with dry gasoline tanks.

Turnpike officials have posted reminder signs and are continuing to use them, but Hartford says "results are something less than dramatic."

Old Walnut Log Worth $2,365

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Look twice at any old logs you may have lying around your home place; a Louisville firm recently bought a black walnut log for $2,365.

The 24-foot long log was 38 inches in diameter, whereas a normal walnut log is only 12-14 inches in diameter.

The log, from the Pennsylvania Loyalsock Game Farm in Lycoming County, was figured to be 175-200 years old. The firm expected it to yield 70,000 veneer surface feet with a hoped-for price of about 25 cents a surface foot.

Good Idea For Driving

SANFORD, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. J. Shelton Wicker was driving a station wagon with her children in the back seat when one of the youngsters suddenly reached forward and put his hands around her eyes, saying: "Guess who?"

After recovering from the shock of a near-accident she went home, took the side off a baby crib and tied it in the car to make a barrier between the front and back seats.

From this homemade gadget came the idea for making a "safety car fence." Now a Sanford furniture company and a local welder are turning out Mrs. Wicker's invention to be sold in auto accessory stores.

Prisoners Used As Fire Fighters

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky is taking a page from California by using carefully screened reformatory inmates for forest fire control in the eastern mountain area.

Warden David Davis of LaGrange Reformatory says the project is helping rehabilitation and giving the state extra manpower to combat fires.

California has 22 such forestry camps for prisoners.

Their charges include rabbits, chickens and ducks loaned by Jerry Gooch of Sonoma with food being supplied by Wilton's Pet Supplies.

Two girls are watering the Easter flowers placed throughout Mill Valley commercial areas in garden carts, wishing wells and planter boxes under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce.

Persons interested in buying containers and flowers after Easter are invited to see Granville L. Beedle, secretary-manager of the Chamber at 85 Throckmorton Avenue. Proceeds are used by the chamber to pay part of next year's expenses.

Monastery May Go To Buddhists

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco's "invisible monastery" may become a house of worship for Buddhists in the High Sierra.

The monastery, hidden from view behind the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park, was a gift to San Francisco from William Randolph Hearst.

Mayor George Christopher has asked the museum trustees if they would be willing to give the monastery to a Buddhist congregation in Middlebar, a small town near Jackson.

Bonds Considered Best For Library

A bond issue was considered to be the most feasible means of raising money for the proposed new Mill Valley library by the city council and library board trustees at a joint meeting last night.

However, no date for an election can be set, councilmen said, until the property has been acquired. A date in court is awaited for condemnation proceedings underway for the largest portion of property owned by Roy A. Ibach between Miller and Presidio avenues. A smaller parcel, the Bedecarrax property, is being negotiated for by trustees.

Trustees said they would prefer to keep the amount of the bond issue in the neighborhood of $300,000 and that they prefer a special election to a general or regular city election. Councilman George Blackwell said he would not vote to set it for special election but gave no reason why.

Donn Emmons, library architect, reported that the cost to build the library is $230,000, which is lower than originally estimated at $280,000. The 11,655 square foot building would cost $230,000 at today's prices. Added to this would be $30,000 for site work and landscaping, $25,000 for furniture, $28,000 for fees for architect, landscape architect and landscape contractor and $1,200 for testing materials and soil. This would total $314,000 which might be reduced to $300,000 with the proposed sale of the old library at about $20,000.

"We had better get going," said Benjamin Draper, library board chairman "because $50,000 in (library) savings will be lapped up by the forces of inflation." He added that building costs go up about $1,000 per month.

Councilman Michael Wornum said it would be "silly" to have a special election until the proposed state assembly bill has been acted upon. The bill would change percentage of vote to pass a measure from the present 66 and two-thirds to 60 per cent. Results should be known by July, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said.

Council also heard from Draper that the board wants to continue the five-cent library tax in the 1963-64 budget. The council approved payments to Emmons of $2,000 for schematic plans for the site acquisition fund.

Police Chief Shot As 'Intruder'

SAVANNAH BEACH, Ga. (UPI) —Police Chief David McCutchen was shot to death last night by a schoolteacher who said he thought the officer was a prowler.

Police early today held Richard Godfrey, about 25, of Atlanta, and his wife for questioning but they were not immediately charged.

McCutchen was shot down as he was making a routine check of a summer house.

Godfrey told officers he thought McCutchen was a prowler and he fired a pistol through the door in an attempt to frighten him away.

Annual Rodeo Set In Novato

The fifth annual rodeo will be presented on June 16 as one of the main events of the Novato Western Weekend celebration.

In the past, the rodeo was a joint effort of the Novato Horsemen's Assn. and the Donald V. Westlund Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It has so grown in size that these two sponsoring organizations have asked the Novato Kiwanis Club to join them.

Co-chairmen of this year's rodeo are Ad Schwindt and Neil Cullins of the Novato Horsemen.

The Kiwanis Club will handle the program and the beer sales. George McDaniel will be in charge of the beer sales and Robert Carrow is heading the sale of the program advertising.

The sale of soft drinks, hot dogs and candy will be handled by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Leo Slodownick is chairman in charge of these concessions.

The queen of Western Weekend will also reign as the queen of the rodeo.

Cotton Rosser's Flying U Ranch again will furnish the stock for the rodeo. Some of this stock was used in the national finals last year.

The Novato rodeo is the only Rodeo Cowboys Assn. rodeo that gives local people the opportunity to see big name cowboys in action. In the past such cowboys as Casey Tibbs, Harley May and Jim Rodrigues Jr., have appeared in the Novato rodeo.

Sausalitan Pays Fine For Disturbing Peace

Dennis Michael Burkell, 23, of 515 Easterby Street, Sausalito, paid $26.25 fine yesterday for disturbing the peace at Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael last Sunday night.

Harry Edwin Brogioli, 25, of 218 Amicita Avenue, Mill Valley, who was arrested with Burkell, won a week's continuance yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

San Rafael police said Brigioli resisted arrest after creating a disturbance.

Burkell admitted he raised his voice in anger, asking police to be careful with Brogioli because Brogioli had suffered a broken neck in an accident two years ago. Burkell told Judge Harold J. Haley he did not use profane language in the presence of women. However, he pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace because he did raise his voice to warn officers about his friend's neck injury.

Phones Get Strong Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— The Ohio Department of Highways feels that pay telephones are essential in roadside parks along Ohio's interstate superhighways, but phone companies have complained of coin box robberies and vandalism.

So the department is experimenting with strong steel cases for the phones.

The welded steel boxes were designed and produced by workers who understand what it takes to foil a thief, in workshops of Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus.

Marines Offering Six-Month Duty Tour

High school graduates from Marin County have a chance to join the Marines now as a special training group and go on six months active duty beginning this summer.

The new training program, designed to give high school graduates in Marin a chance to form a Marine company of their own classmates and friends, was announced today by Capt. C. G. Henry of the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center near the Marin County Civic Center.

The group will leave Marin on July 24 and return Jan. 25, 1964, in time for the spring college semester. The group will first fly to San Diego for training, then will move to Camp Pendleton for three months of advance Marine infantry instruction.

In charge of recruiting is Gunnery Sgt. R. F. Richmond. His address is Co. M, 23rd Marines, 4th Marine Division, U.S. Marine Corps Reserve.

"This program will insure uninterrupted college years or fulltime employment while completing military service," Sergeant Richmond explained. "If one feels he cannot devote three years to regular service, the six-month program is the way."

While at Camp Pendleton, the men will be trained in all infantry weapons including the new M-14 rifle and M-60 machine gun that uses the 7.62 NATO cartridge.

After the six-month active duty, the group will return to the Marin training center for acceptance into the reserve company and to start their civilian careers.

Lawmakers Seeking Opinion On Powers To Cut Budget For U.C.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislators — searching for new funds to meet rising state expenses—revealed plans today to ask their lawyer how much power they have to cut the giant University of California budget.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post said it will be the first time a legal authority has spelled out the lawmakers' right to challenge university budget demands.

The demand for an opinion from Legislative Counsel Angus C. Morrison came after an Assembly ways and means subcommittee yesterday trimmed 2.45 million from the 157.4 million dollars Gov. Edmund G. Brown requested for the state's contribution to U.C. operations next year.

It was made by Assembly Majority Leader Jerome R. Waldie (D-Antioch), who indicated the legislature might have more budget-cutting authority than it thinks.

Morrison's opinion may clear legal waters that have been muddied by conflicting provisions of the State Constitution.

Post said one article of the constitution specifically says the University of California Board of Regents has full power to operate the school, subject to legislative control over "the security of funds" or "to protect endowments."

But another provision says that each state agency and board—including the regents—must submit its budget to legislative approval.

Further complicating the situation is the fact that much of the university's funds come from private sources or federal grants.

Clarke was elected by the board of directors last week to succeed outgoing President Wallace S. Myers. Other new officers for 1963 are Catherine C. Pike, vice president; Douglas J. Maloney, treasurer, and Mrs. Joseph G. Wilson, secretary.

Elected to the board of directors were:

French Food For Southern Troops

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gus Jaubert, a French member of Confederate Gen. John Hunt Morgan's cavalry, is credited with inventing burgoo—once a favorite food at Kentucky political rallies.

Jaubert, cook for Morgan's men, had to use blackbirds for food because provisions were scarce. He prepared a dish with the birds as the main ingredient.

Later, pork, beef and mutton were used in the dish other than blackbird.

Atomic Sub Missing With 129 Hands

any weaknesses and the indications were there were none.

Anderson disclosed that the oil slick was sighted again this morning at 10:20 and this confirmed the position of the sub.

Anderson, asked if any occupants of the sub might be alive, said:

"In my judgment, no."

Asked how long the men in the sub might have lived, the Navy's top admiral said a "very, very short time, perhaps a matter of minutes.

At least up to the time Anderson made his announcement the Navy had been fighting against the longest odds, compounded by foul weather and the depth of the water, and hoping for a miracle.

Ships were concentrated over the area with the latest search and rescue gear and more were speeding to the point where the Thresher cocked its bow planes yesterday morning at 9:17 and went down for a deep dive test.

But the admiral's words put all but the final seal on the Navy's worst peacetime submarine disaster, perhaps its worst of all time.

Anderson said the ocean research submarine Trieste, a deep-diving experimental craft, will be brought from San Diego by rail and sent down to try and locate the wreck to determine whether the Thresher collapsed and what might have happened to it. The Trieste is expected in perhaps a bit more than a week.

As he did last night, Anderson said he agreed with Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover, the Navy's leading atomic expert, that there is "no probability of any radiation contaminating the ocean" as a result of the Thresher disaster.

Anderson said the naval court of inquiry, meeting today in New London, Conn., will "certainly go into the possibility of sabotage." But he dismissed this possibility as remote.

He also said the court will consider whether there was any possible Russian action involved in the Thresher disappearance but he said "I certainly rule this out."

The area where the Thresher disappeared is one frequented by Soviet trawlers.

There were no Soviet submarines in the area "to the best of my knowledge" and no Soviet trawlers or other surface craft in the immediate area where the Thresher was test diving, the admiral said.

Anderson acknowledged that the roughly nine months the Thresher spent in the Portsmouth yard was "a little longer than usual."

But he explained this by saying the Thresher was the first of her class, and the shipyard was making certain improvements and metallurgical tests.

In the course of this work, Anderson said, the shipyard men cut into the hull. He said there were also taps into the hull to add some external pieces of equipment.

"To the best of the knowledge of the personnel in the yard there were no defects to preclude carrying out the tests," Anderson said.

The naval chief ruled out any salvage of the Thresher from its probable resting place a mile and a half down in the Atlantic.

The search effort had gone ahead full force through yesterday and last night, even while hope was fading to the faintest flicker.

Del Mar Land Owners Form Association

The Del Mar Valley Property Owners Assn. was officially organized at a meeting last night at Del Mar School and voted to file articles of incorporation with the state.

The purpose of the association is to protect the rights and interests of the property owners in Del Mar, Pine Terrace and the projected Francisco Vista subdivision.

A general membership meeting will be held in May.

The following directors were elected to the board: Glidden R. Benefield, Henry J. Broderick, Tom T. Gray, Donald C. Mitchell, Kenneth Lucas, Alexander McDougal, Hildreth Stong, George White and Edward C. Pino.

Two men who subsequently became presidents, Calvin Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt, ran against each other for the office of vice president in 1920.

Passengers Injured In 3-Car Crash

Two passengers were slightly injured late yesterday in a three-car rear-end crash on Highway 101 about 600 feet north of the Hamilton Air Force Base main gate, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Beatrice O. Ellis, 39, of El Segundo, Los Angeles County, passenger in a car driven by William H. Ellis, 40, of the same address, was to see a private physician for bruises.

Lyle K. Ferbrache, 18, of Talmadge, Mendocino County, passenger in a 1960 sports car driven by Derek M. Francis, 17, Ukiah gas station attendant, was treated at Novato Hospital for a nose cut.

Officer John Courter said Francis, driving north ran into the rear of the halted car of Stuart B. Hart, 39, of New York, at about 4:40 p.m.

Hart's car then hit the rear of the Ellis car, which had halted for traffic. Francis said he was lighting a cigarette when the crash occurred.

San Marin Annex Is Nearing Reality

The annexation of San Marin to Novato, the 4,200 unit subdivision on the Freitas C Ranch just west of the city is coming closer to reality, Mayor M. E. Silva last night told the Novato City Council at an adjourned meeting.

"It looks very favorable that San Marin will annex," Silva said in a report to the council. He is chairman of the council's annexation committee.

"Many details remain to be worked out yet," Silva said, "but they are getting the map of the subdivision to the boundary commission."

"And that is a big important step," he added.

Councilman Howard Schoof said that it was one of the most important steps that the community of Novato has ever undertaken.

"It will change the complexion of the community by the addition of 12,000 people to it," Schoof said.

The council named Harding Associates of 56 Harbor Drive, San Rafael, as the soils testing firm for the San Jose Boulevard realignment project. Cost of the work to be done will be between $1,900 and $2,300 estimated.

An annual contract for unlimited dumping for $360 per year was approved by the council with the Redwood Sanitary Land Fill, Inc.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. reported to the council that legal steps in the rezoning for a 102 unit apartment house at Center Road and Diablo Avenue had been correct.

At its last meeting, the council had temporarily held up a building permit on the unit when the citizens of the area protested that they had not received their second notice. The council agreed that the building permit could be issued now.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Set wage scales to be paid for various types of labor before advertising for bids for the remodeling work to be done on the community house.

2. Approved a contract with the state to make a population estimate to see if Novato has gained enough population to qualify for state funds.

3. Heard a report from Joseph that 33 out of the 36 property owners on Center Road Project 1 had agreed to negotiate for the right-of-way for the widening of that street.

4. Accepted two drainage easements for a ditch between Tamalpais Avenue and Warner Creek with the provisions that the city get title insurance policy on the property.

5. Upheld the planning commission requirement on a lot split for three lots on which the city planning commission required widening of Marion Avenue and the installation of curbs and gutters.

Police Know How Olympic Skier Slain

RENO (UPI) — Police today knew how and when former Olympic skier Sonja McCaskie died, but still seemed far from identifying her killer.

A 30-inch length of thin Manila twine with a clothespin tied at each end was the instrument that snuffed out the life of the 24-year-old blonde beauty.

Dist. Atty. William Raggio and Police Chief Elmer Briscoe said that the twine, found in her apartment Friday, was shown to be the murder weapon through pathological and toxicological tests made on the victim's remains.

Raggio and Briscoe said that while their massive manhunt continued, they had no definite suspects in the murder. Two Reno men picked up for auto theft in West Virginia have been cleared of suspicion in the case, the official said.

Briscoe said investigators had questioned "10 or 15" more persons and given several lie detector tests with no results.

"The only way I can say the situation has improved is that more people have been eliminated as suspects," he said. "We are narrowing down the leads, not necessarily running out of suspects."

Test results show Sonja died sometime between 4 a.m. and noon Friday.

San Rafael Council To Canvass Election

The San Rafael City Council will meet at 11 a.m. tomorrow to canvass the results of Monday's election, City Clerk W. L. Morgan said today.

The meeting, which is expected to take about an hour, is required to be held on the Friday after election day under the city charter, Morgan said. Traditionally hardly anyone attends except duty-bound city officials.

To Train In U.S.

TOKYO (UPI)—Japan will send 300 officers and enlisted men from its ground self-defense force to the United States in November for training in the handling and firing of Hawk missiles.

Kenjiro Shiga, director of the defense agency, said yesterday the missiles, not equipped with atomic warheads, play a key role in Japan's defenses. He said ground forces specializing in missiles will be organized this month.

Hub Youths Arrested For Cycle Theft

Four San Anselmo youths who stripped down a stolen motorcycle, drilled the frame full of holes to lighten it and rode it up and down the trails on Mount Tamalpais were arrested by San Anselmo police last night.

The $325 motorcycle was stolen from the Fairfax home of William Weems, 120 Forrest Avenue, on March 23.

San Anselmo police made the arrest after a report that a 15-year-old youth was riding the motorcycle without any lights on Oak Avenue. The youth named two other boys, 14, and another, 13. They were cited to report to the probation office, the three older boys to answer charges of vehicle theft and the youngest, a charge of joy riding.

The motorcycle was damaged extensively, Fairfax police said.

Youth, 15, Burned By Gasoline Heater

Jerry Litzza, 15, of San Francisco received first and second degree burns on his face and neck when the flue in a gasoline heater flashed back at Rock Springs Camp on Mount Tamalpais yesterday afternoon, the Marin County Fired Department reported.

Litzza was treated at Marin General Hospital where he was taken by Marin Ambulance Service at 4:05 p.m.

Tam Tax Measure Outlined

The Tamalpais Union High School District tax measure on next Tuesday's ballot is for retention of its $1.90 per $100 assessed valuation for operational expenses.

With 34 cents in override taxes for bond payment, personnel retirement and community services, the total district tax rate currently is $2.24.

The $1.90 operational rate will fall to $1.25 on June 30, 1964, if the measure fails.

In turn the $1.25 rate would fall to 75 cents (the legal minimum under state law without voter approval) on June 30, 1965.

Voters of the district approved raising the operational tax rate to $1.25 eight years ago for a 10-year period.

The district found the $1.25 rate insufficient, said board chairman Delman D. Smith, and in 1959 the voters approved an increase to the present $1.90 for five years.

Smith said the district after four years with the $1.90 rate has found it "a reasonable rate in accordance with the kind of program we wish to conduct, the enrollment growth in our high schools and the inflationary factor."

District officials said they are conducting the tax-retention campaign more than a year before the current rate would expire so as "not to be caught short." Smith gave three reasons:

1. This is a year in which by state law school elections are being held in April and June without special authorization.
2. "A matter of caution. If the measure should fail this year we could try again next year before the rate would expire and force us to curtail our program."
3. "If we win retention of the rate this year, it will assist us in advance budget planning."

Only 556 acres of the Pinot Noir grape, the leading wine grape of the Burgundy region of France, were growing in California in 1961.

The council reviews street light requests only twice each year.

New lights approved last night were one at 655 Cherry Street, one at 1875 Marion Avenue, one at Truman and Jackson Drives, one at Tamalpais Avenue and Regent Court, one at Kristy Court and six in the Vineyard Terrace subdivisions.

Lights approved by the city without requests were: one for the intersection of Kristy Court and Center Road and to change from one 2,500 lumen light to two 8,000 lumen lights at the intersection of Tamalpais Avenue and Novato Boulevard.

Fairfax Attorney Says Solution To Problem Of Mudslides Near

Fairfax City Atty. Wallace S. Myers said today that he expects a satisfactory solution to the problem of slides at Frustuck Avenue to be made soon by San Rafael Associates.

Fairfax councilmen were told Monday night that excavation work for the firm's Sherwood Oaks Apartments was causing mud slides every time it rained. Myers and City Engineer Albert E. Siemer met with company representatives Tuesday and reviewed the report of Harding and Associates, engineers for San Rafael Associates.

The report said that the excavation along with poor subsurface for the street were responsible for the slides, Myers said. He said the firm will make a proposal within a few days to take care of its share of the responsibility.

'Anne Frank' In Russ

MOSCOW (AP)—A Moscow audience that included many Jews cheered and wept last night when an Italian theater troupe put on "The Diary of Ann Frank."

The play is based on the diary of the young Dutch girl who hid for months with other Jews during World War II. She left her diary behind when she was taken to a Nazi concentration camp where she died.

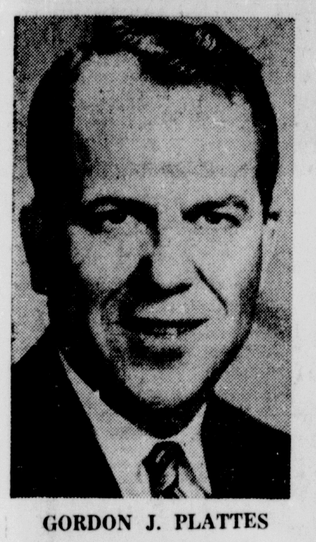
Five In Race For Two Seats On West Marin Board

West Marin Elementary School District, which got a new superintendent this week, may get some new trustees next Tuesday.

Three members of the district whose terms expire are all seeking re-election, but they have opposition from two additional candidates.

Expiring are terms of Dr. Gordon J. Plattes, Donald J. McIsaac and Mrs. Suzanne Baty. Also in the race are Cecil R. Asman and Charles R. Reilley.

The board on Monday night gave Howard Brose, now superintendent of Foresthill in Placer County, a contract as superintendent starting July 1, succeeding George R. Stratton, who will become principal of two schools in Kentfield School District.



GORDON J. PLATTES

SUZANNE BATY

DONALD J. McISAAC

CHARLES R. REILLEY

Dr. Gordon J. Plattes, 43, who is now chairman of the board, has been practicing medicine in Point Reyes Station since 1948. He and his wife and two school-age children live at Silverhills in Point Reyes Station.

Plattes is completing his second term on the school board. He is a member of American and California Assns. and a former director and state delegate of the Marin Medical Society. He served in World War II as a Navy lieutenant (j.g.) in the Medical Corps and is a member of the American Legion.

He was born in St. Cloud, Minn., and completed his education at St. Cloud Teachers' College, St. John's University, and University of Minnesota, receiving his medical doctorate from the last institution.

Donald J. McIsaac, 46, has been a member of the West Marin board since the school district was formed 10 years ago, and was a trustee of the Olema School District five years before that. He and his wife, Lorraine, and four youngest children live in Olema. The eldest son is at Fort Hood, Tex.

McIsaac, a dairyman, is a director and former president for three years of the Marin County Farm Bureau. He is president of Western Dairymen's Co-op, Inc., a member of the San Francisco Milk Producer Control Board, a past president and 25-year member of Nicasio Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, and past president of the West Marin Lions Club. He is also a member of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce.

He was born in Nicasio and educated in the public schools of Marin County.

Suzanne G. Baty, 31, now serving on the board by appointment, is seeking a new four-year term. She is the wife of David R. Baty, judge of the Northwest Marin Judicial District. They and their three children live in Point Reyes Station.

Mrs. Baty has taught at Dominican Convent Upper and Lower Schools and at Katherine Branson School. She is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and took graduate studies at Stanford University. She was born in New York City.

She has been active in the Jennie Clarkson Home in New York, the San Francisco Junior League, and Marin Family Service Agency, Visiting Nurses Assn. and Young Women's Christian Assn. She is a member of the Point Reyes Cooperative Nursery School.

Cecil R. Asman, 38, is an income tax consultant with office in Novato. He and his wife, Mary Anne, and two school-age children live in Inverness.

Asman was active in civic affairs in Concord before moving to West Marin, being a charter member of the Gregory Gardens Improvement Assn., which established its own water system. He is on the executive council of the YMCA Y-Indian Guide program.

He was born in Chester, Va., and completed his schooling at University of Califorina. He served in the Navy during World War II.

Charles R. Reilley, 66, is perhaps best known of all the five candidates. He served as county fire chief for 11 years, retiring April 24, 1962, and earlier was a fire warden at Point Reyes Station for six years. He became a volunteer fireman in Point Reyes Station in 1930.

Reilley was born in Victor, Colo., worked in his youth in silver mines in Goldfield and Tonopah, Nev., and came to West Marin in 1925 to work for Radio Corp. of America. As a World War I soldier in Europe, he won the French Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism.

He is a past president of the Marin County Firemen's Assn. and a member of the Masoinc lodge of Tonopah, Nev., and of the Legion of Valor. He lives in Point Reyes Station, alone since the death of his wife in 1959.

New Hawthorne Assessments Cost: $215,000

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors Tuesday night confirmed that cost of the new Hawthorne Terrace sewer assessment district will be in the neighborhood of $215,000.

Of this $172,312 is to be for construction; the remainder is for engineering and attorney's fees and contingencies, according to Samuel A. Fletcher, secretary.

The overall figure is 16 per cent increase in what had been estimated earlier, owing to the fact that the lowest bid was $27,000 above the estimate by engineer J. Warren Nute. It is expected the contract for construction will be awarded sometime next week, Fletcher said.

Firm Is Asking More Tests On 'Smog Burner'

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

LOS ANGELES—American Machinery and Foundry Co. has submitted an application to the California Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board for testing a new version of its "smog burner" device.

The device incorporates a muffler idea that is claimed to make it more versatile and adaptable for mounting on automobiles.

L. C. Craigie, director of the smog burner program, said a special test station has been set up at Hawthorne. The facility will increase the capacity and time available to the state in its testing program, he said.

The "smog burner," known as the AMF/chromalloy, is a direct flame afterburner. It mixes air with the exhaust gases, which are then ignited and burned at high temperatures, thus reducing smog forming contaminants.

All the people on Tristan da Cunha Island in the South Atlantic bear one of seven family names: Glass, Green, Hagan, Rogers, Swain, Lavarello and Repetto.

LLANFAIRPWELLGWYNGYLLGOGERYCHWYRNDROBWLLLANTYSILIOGOGOGOCH, Wales (AP)—The curator of the Welsh National Folk Museum says the legendary name of this town—proudly claimed by generations of Welshmen as the longest place name in Britain—is a phony.

Llanfair etc., has lived on its tourist trade. Sentimental Welshmen suggested that the railroad station, due to be closed under a railroad modernization plan, be rebuilt in the museum grounds.

Curator Iorwerth Peate laughed at the idea. The station's real name, he said, is Llanfairpwell, meaning St. Mary by the Pool.

In the 19th Century, Peate explained, a local tailor added 46 letters to the name to make it St. Mary's Church in the Hollow of the White Hazel near to the Rapid Whirlpool of Llanty Silio of the Red Cave.

Mill Valley Streets 'Should Be Open'

Neighborhood streets in Mill Valley—all streets—should be kept open and passable.

This was the last word, made by Councilman George D. Monardo, at a hearing last night before the Mill Valley City Council on the a sub-committee report on "neighborhood streets." Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks had already said "we will maintain streets we have always maintained to the extent of the funds we have available."

The council took no action to adopt the report and continued discussion to April 25. At that time, Sheeks said, the council may have had time to look into the preliminary 1963-64 budget which he said, according to City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants' calculations, faces us with a possible 25 per cent increase in the tax rate.

Only Councilman Michael Wornum supported the subcommittee's report insofar as believing the city could afford to contribute five or 10 cents in tax money to a fund to improve streets through property owner assessment districts.

"Basically the city's function is fire, police and streets," said Wornum. But Sheeks countered saying "I question whether or not we will find funds to do this."

Wornum, a co-author of the report, also suggested eliminating alphabetical categories for streets and suggested that when an "A" street (one with improvements and accepted by the city) deterioriates to a "B" street (one unimproved and not accepted) people on the street should chip in and repair it. Now the city must repair them.

Monardo argued for retaining "A" through "D" categories and said "Let's maintain streets, keep them open and travelable, watch drainage and see what happens in one year." He also suggested a review every three or four years to set up a pattern of repairs.

"It's fair to set up a program of maintenance, I think," said Monardo, "Where these streets are maintained annually so no one has to get on the phone where the people who call the most get the most service and those who don't call don't get any service."

A small crowd of people made these comments: "I think it is the duty of the city to maintain its streets as it provides other services," said Jean Montgomery, an Ethel Avenue resident. "We're all entitled to city services on streets as any other kind of service. A great deal of the poor condition of our streets at present is due to lack of maintenance."

Edward Sykes, who said he lives on Rose Avenue, "A rutted cow trail," said "We get a grader once a year" and asked for "something more." Almcrants told Sykes that a lot of money is spent on culverts and drainage to keep streets such as Rose open and travelable and $15,000 was proposed to be spent on Rose next year but not for surfacing.

George C. Goheen Sr. told the council more people might go for assessment districts if they didn't fear that the improvement might take off their living room or garden which were built over city right of ways. City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said the city does not wish to destroy homes but he would like to see streets built so that when one car approaches another the two drivers could see each other.

Anita Suran commented "the more affluent property owner would be able to dip into the fund (proposed by Wornum) and I think the intent would be lost quickly among the more articulate property owners."

Tourist Gives Books To Library

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—Nogales city librarian Mrs. Ann Ashby was puzzled when a large box of books arrived. She couldn't remember placing an order for any new reading material.

She opened the box and found this note atop the books: "From a Cleveland tourist who passed by your beautiful new library building."

There was no name on the card.

Medic Program On FM Radio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Not all of the medical programs are on television this season. Ohio State University has one on FM radio.

Every other Wednesday at noon, some 1,150 doctors gather in a dozen hospitals in eight Ohio cities to participate in an hour's post-graduate training conducted by faculty members of Ohio State's College of Medicine. It is broadcast from the university's educational station and also from a commercial station.

The 12 hospitals are tied into the control center in Columbus by telephone line, so the audience may participate.

Circulation's wonderful! (30,017 families see to that)

The latest report on our circulation shows we get around. More than 30,000 families take us into their homes each evening.

That's on the best authority—the national Audit Bureau of Circulations. They've verified every copy . . . from Pt. Reyes to Sausalito and in between. Official figure: 30,017—the average for the past year, and the only ABC audited circulation of any newspaper in Marin County.

The point is not so much our growth as a newspaper but your response as a reader. For you have shown that if a newspaper tries to do a better job, you'll more than open the door. You'll open your mind to it.

And that's the most exciting "circulation" any paper can have.

This explains why we provide intensive news coverage of every area in Marin County. Why we've added new features, new columnists—and broader national coverage.

It explains why the I-J recently won 3 first awards against all major newspapers in California for Best Front Page, Best Editorial Page, and Best Typography. Each an attempt to serve you better.

Circulation then, is a measure of growth. The best measure, for advertisers, of value. And the only measure of your response as a reader.

To you then, 30,017 thanks. Circulation's wonderful!

Dixie Trustees Support Measure On County Tax

Dixie School District trustees last night unanimously adopted a resolution supporting Assembly Bill 888, which would authorize a county-wide tax plan.

The proposed law would raise about 30 millon dollars from school districts, to be redistributed according to need and would also require an additional 96 million dollars in state aid to education. The bill was reported out of the Assembly Education Committee yesterday.

Trustee Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. was appointed as legislative affairs representative of the board of Marin County School Boards Assn. He will send telegrams asking support of the Assembly bill to state legislators.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis was authorized by the board to file two National Defense Education Act applications for $8,947 for foreign language equipment and materials and $11,932 for science equipment.

The board also:

1. Approved installation of a civil defense warning system in all district schools and asked Willis to determine which system would be appropriate. Willis will make a recommendation at a future board meeting.

2. Directed Willis to post the seating capacity of each multi-use room in the district so that seating will not be in excess of fire safety rules.

3. Accepted the resignation, effective in June, of Miss Vicki Shorts, second grade teacher at Lucas Valley School and granted maternity leave to Mrs. Sally Wood, kindergarten teacher at Don Timoteo School.

4. Heard a report from Willis that the contract for construction of a kindergarten addition to the Lucas Valley School has been approved by the State Department of Finance and construction should begin next week.

5. Heard another report from Willis that bids for construction of four new classrooms, to serve as temporary district offices, at the Don Timoteo School should be opened May 8.

Gravel Firm Asks $200,000 From MMWD

A gravel excavation firm on Paper Mill Creek below the new Nicasio Reservoir Dam has filed a $200,000 claim against the Marin Municipal Water District, saying that the dam has caused a loss of gravel.

Joslin Bros., operators of the gravel plant, claim that the dam has reduced the flow of the creek and thus reduced the amount of available gravel at their excavation site.

The claim, filed by the San Rafael law firm of Bagshaw, Schaal, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan, was presented to MMWD directors at their meeting yesterday. Directors turned the claim over to their insurance company representatives, said William Seeger, chief engineer and general manager for the district.

In other action yesterday directors:

1. Authorized purchase of 1,750 copper meter couplings at $13,078.50 from Groniger Co. of Oakland, the lowest of four bidders.

2. Authorized purchase of 350 cast iron fittings at $6,532.12 from Republic Supply Co. of San Leandro, the lowest of four bidders.

3. Authorized purchase of a new booster pump at $4,994 from Worthington Pump Co. of San Francisco, the lowest of six bidders. The pump will increase the capacity at the Tiburon Pump Station.

4. Authorized retention of appraiser Edward P. Morphy of San Rafael to appraise additional land needed to expand the tank station north of San Rafael. Seeger said less than an acre is required.

5. Learned from the Sonoma County Flood Control and Conservation District that the engineering report on the Warm Spring project, a dam on the Russian River, will be completed in July. Marin Municipal Water District and the Sonoma district will develop the project jointly, with the Marin district getting about 42,000 acre feet a year in imported water, Seeger said.

Two Vacancies Filled On Boyd Museum Board

Two new directors were elected Tuesday night to fill vacancies on the board of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, president David N. Plant announced.

They were Carl W. Gabrielson, assistant to the president of the Robert Dollar Co. of San Francisco and president of the Exchange Garage Inc. of San Francisco, and Robert Loza, San Francisco public relations executive.

In other business, the board was informed that a request for $75,000 of National Defense Education Act funds to film plant and animal life of Marin County was submitted to Washington on April 1.

The project would be sponsored by the county schools office and carried out by the museum.

Author Joy Adamson, who wrote two books about her life with lions in Africa, will speak at the museum Feb. 28, 1964, Plant said.

Gatov Reappointed To Pilot Commission

Albert W. Gatov, 55, of 21 Rancheria Road, Kentfield, was reappointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today to the Board of Pilot Commissioners for San Francisco, Suisun and San Pablo bays.

Gatov, a Democrat, is the husband of former U.S. Treasurer Elizabeth Smith Gatov. He is mangager of the inland Harbor Storage Co. of San Francisco and has been in the shipping business in California

PANEL SAYS MENTAL GROUP IS VALUABLE

Marin County's new Mental Health Foundation will provide a necessary low-priced local service valuable by either the humanitarian or the economic measuring-stick, a panel of four agreed today on the KTIM Marin Sounding Board.

"Mental health, like physical illness, should be treated within the community," declared Florence Scott, member of the foundation board and director of the Marin Council of Community Services. "People should be helped where they live."

Dr. Aaron Ungersma, president of the foundation, said that the question of many in need—"Where can I go?" henceforth will have a definite answer in Marin County.

He said people of extensive means can command private services while there are state institutions for the seriously disturbed but the non-profit foundation will meet a need between these two.

"Many can be spared an extended stay in a state facility if they can get care from such a local facility," Ungersma added.

Provision of the foundation represents a response to need in a fast-growing community, according to Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, psychiatrist. He stressed that prompt local treatment "makes sound sense" by facilitating a rapid return to normal life.

Such treatment has tended to become shorter with greater knowledge of how it should be handled, Stubblebine said. He cited a figure of an average 11.4-day stay at the psychiatric facility of Ross General Hospital, comparing favorably to surgical cases, and said an outpatient facility would lighten the overall burden of such care.

Speaking from an attorney's viewpoint Leland H. Jordan, a director of the foundation, said that he frequently finds legal complications arising from mental illness within a family.

Jordan said one American out of every 10 has treatment for mental illness at some time in his life. He stressed the progress made in treatment and said that rapid return of a patient to the community not only allows him to contribute rather than take, but gives him the benefit of normal community life as a valuable healing factor.

"It is important to see that treatment is given regardless of a person's means," said Jordan. "This is the cheapest thing for the community in dollars and cents. There is great humanitarian need for something such as the foundation, and also it helps toward the best financial solution.

Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer asked when the foundation will start to function and was told that an initial May 1 date probably will not be met, with prospects of another 30 to 60 days if present fund-raising is successful.

The program will be repeated by tape-recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Distributor Is Bilked Of Liquor

A man and a woman, working as a "husband and wife" team, bilked a San Rafael liq-distributor of two cases of liquor worth $104 two weeks ago, San Rafael police disclosed today.

Jim Regalia, owner of Trombetta Distributors at 715 Francisco Boulevard, reported the incident to Sgt. Earl Christensen yesterday afternoon.

On March 28 a "Mr. Walker" called up and ordered a case of gin. He said his wife would come after it and asked that she telephone him at a bar in South Marin where he allegedly works as bartender.

A short time later, "Mrs. Walker" entered Trombetta's. The clerk told he to call her husband. "Mrs. Walker" called a number, then asked the clerk for a case of whiskey in addition to the gin. Employees loaded the two cases into her car, and she drove away.

"Mrs. Walker" was described as under 30 years old, about five feet six inchest tall, and slim.

No Action Taken On Fired Teachers

No action was taken at a closed meeting yesterday of the Sausalito School District trustees at which time trustees sought "legal clarifications" from Douglas J. Maloney, assistant county counsel, on the dismissal of two Richardson Bay School teachers, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said today.

The teachers, who are to be fired at the end of the school year are Donald Venturini and Mrs. Evelyn J. Schoenfeld.

Baily's 'Slam' Wins; It's O'Dell Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants were still atop the young league standings today—thanks almost entirely to old pro Ed Bailey.

The left-handed Bailey came off the bench last night to deliver a pinch-hit grand slam homer and power the Giants past Houston 8-7.

San Francisco hoped to sweep its opening series tonight when it sent Billy O'Dell against Ken Johnson of the Colts.

Houston came out swinging last night against the Giants' Juan Marichal. Juan was touched for five runs in two plus innings although some shoddy fielding by the usually reliable Jimmy Davenport at third helped add to his miseries.

Gaylord Perry took over and slowed Houston down a little, but it was 6-1 after three and still 7-4 after five innings.

Meanwhile, San Francisco's power brigade kept picking away at Colt starter Bob Bruce and reliever Don McMahon.

The red-hot Orlando Cepeda, who added three hits last night, doubled home Willie Mays in the first and Felipe Alou crashed a two-run homer in the fourth—his second fourmaster in as many days.

But going into the electric eighth, the Giants had been out-hit 15-7 as well as being three runs behind.

Willie Mays walked, but Willie McCovey forced him at second. Cepeda fouled out to third and things looked glum.

Later he said that he had been trying for a double.

In the dressing room, he laconically commented "I didn't go up there to get a base on balls. I was going to swing at anything close—a walk wouldn't have done much good. I was really going for a double, which might have tied it up."

"But he threw the fast ball, and over my career I've grown fond of that type of pitch."

CRUCIAL PLAY—This is the slide into home plate by Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers which resulted in his ankle injury Tuesday. He was thrown out on the play as Chicago Cubs catcher Dick Bertell puts on the tag. Wills may be out of action for 10 days. (AP Wirephoto)

SAFE AT SECOND—Houston's Bob Lillis (15) slides safely into second base on a successful steal when the throw from San Francisco's Tom Haller sailed over the head of second baseman Chuck Hiller. Jose Pagan, backing up the play, made the stop. (AP Wirephoto)

CONNOLLY

The old wheeze about Rabbit Maranville being afraid to walk through Kansas because he might get his ears shot off, applies, in a certain sense to Willie McCovey, the gangling S.F. Giant outfielder. If Willie continues to hit home runs he'll be mobbed every time he is recognized.

A most unusual claim is made for McCovey. His closest and best friends say he plays baseball because he loves the game and not just to make money. That may be stretching things a bit but it does indicate Willie's baseball devotion.

WHAT A contrast between McCovey, a seasoned hitter and a good one, signing a contract for $22,000, and Bob Garibaldi, the young college upstart who got $150,000 to sign a contract even before he shows whether or not he is a flash in the skillet.

"I'll back McCovey against any player on the Giant squad for contentment," one vet claims.. "Garibaldi got more money for signing than all the people got for signing the Declaration of Independence. And yet he isn't happy."

McCovey's humility is unequaled. While other members of the Giants are up bright and early to endorse breakfast food or cigarettes for radio or TV, "Lovey Dovey" McCovey doesn't give these items a rumble.

WHEN I make good, real good, I'll have time to make appointments for personal appearances," Willie says. "Right now I'm thinking only of baseball."

Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and other recognized stars of the Giants have a set price of $250 or $300 for appearances. And it isn't easy to get them signed up.

IT WAS comforting to McCovey boosters to see the big southpaw slugger allowed to hit against lefthand pitching. In the opener, after failing three times against righthanders, manager Alvin Dark let Willie face Brunet, a leftie, and Willie thanked his manager by whacking out two hits, one of them a home run.

McCovey, while serving his apprenticeship in the Pacific Coast League showed no glaring weakness against leftie pitching. But in the majors, he hasn't been too impressive. But let's face it, if Willie is to become a talented hitter, he has to swing at both types of pitching. So far skipper Dark is 100 per cent on the right track.

DOUG WILSON, the Marin Catholic High School star, signed by the Giants and who had a fine season in 1962 with Fresno, is being sent back to the Fresno team, according to an announcement yesterday.

Doug who was supposed to play with El Paso had an unfortunate spring. His legs troubled him and he wasn't able to do his best. But he may find himself in the California League and whizz back to El Paso or Tacoma before the year is out.

COMBINED A.P. & U.P.I.

The unbeaten Los Angeles Dodgers, despite a few prime aches and pains, savored their best possible spring tonic—the successful 1963 debut of strikeout artist Sandy Koufax.

Koufax, blazing stronger as the game progressed, shaded the Chicago Cubs 2-1 yesterday, striking out 10 and scattering 5 hits for his first victory and first full game since last midseason.

"The finger didn't bother me a bit and my shoulder stiffened just once," said the southpaw, whose forefinger on his pitching hand was clotted last season and he failed to win after July 12 and never completed a game after July 4.

Philadelphia erupted for eight runs in the seventh inning and walloped Cincinnati 10-7, Ray Washburn's four-hitter gave St. Louis a 4-0 victory over the New York Mets and Pittsburgh edged Milwaukee 3-2 on Don Clendenon's homer.

Maury Wills, injured in a play at home Tuesday, Tommy Davis, the league's defending batting and RBI champ, and Bill Skowron all missed action yesterday because of injury. Wills suffered a sprained ankle and could be out at least a week, although manager Walt Alston figures he could be back in four or five days.

The Dodger runs were donated by Cubs catcher Dick Bertell. Bertell threw wildly to let Willie Davis score in the first inning and permitted a Bob Buhl position in the fifth. Davis' single brought the run across.

The Phillies sent 11 men to the plate in the seventh, collecting six hits, including doubles by John Callison and Wes Covington and a two-run homer by Clay Dalrymple. Don Demeter's single snapped a 7-7 tie. Rookie Ray Culp was the winner in relief for his first major league victory. Bill Henry took the loss.

Washburn followed up Ernie Broglio's two-hitter against the Mets with his four-hitter, retiring 17 batters in order from the second to eighth innings. Julian Javier scored the only run Washburn needed in the fifth when he was hit by a pitch, took second on a balk by loser Al Jackson, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored ahead of Al Moran's wide throw home on Curt Flood's grounder.

Clendenon's leadoff homer against Bob Shaw in the eighth broke a 2-2 tie and got the job done for the Pirates. Shaw drove in both Milwaukee runs with a fourth inning single. Don Cardwell got credit for the victory with Bob Veale's ninth inning relief help.

NOVATO GOLF STAR CHOSEN PREP OF WEEK

Barry Hackmyer, Novato High School's ace golfer, has been selected as Prep of the Week by the Independent-Journal for his play in two matches last week.

Hackmyer, a junior, shot an even par 36 against San Rafael, April 2, to help his team take a 4-2 verdict at Indian Valley Golf Course.

Then the following Thursday Hackmyer again shot even par as the Hornet golf team downed the linksters from Tamalpais High School 4-2, again at Indian Valley.

Seals On Home Ice Tonight In Playoff

Having broken the jinx held over them by the Portland Buckaroos, the San Francisco Seals battle to make it two in a row when the teams meet tonight in San Francisco's Cow Palace in the third game of their Western Hockey League Southern Division playoff, 8 o'clock.

Portland had won seven straight at Portland from San Francisco before the Seals came out on top 5-2 Tuesday night, squaring their playoff at one game apiece.

"Now we get them on our home ice," declared Len Haley of the Seals after that victory.

It also inspired ticket buyers and the advance sale picked up with 8,000 or more expected at the Cow Palace for this third game in the best-of-seven series.

Portland had won the opener 6-3 as Gerry Goyer, Bill Saunders and Arlo Goodwin all scored in th efirst period sending the Buckaroos into their insurmountable lead. And that was the seventh game in a row in which the Buckaroos had beaten the Seals in Portland.

The goal tending in this series matches the veteran Don Head of Portland against San Francisco's fine rookie Jim McLeod. In the Tuesday game, Head made 30 saves and McLeod 31—the latter with a brilliant third period in which he turned back 13 shots.

Starting times for the San Francisco games, tonight and Saturday, will be 8 p.m.

Defenseman Moe Mantha will be able to return to the Seals' lineup tonight after 10 days absence. He suffered a fractured cheekbone during the final series of the regular season.

Another Annie Oakley In Bay Area? Fishing Prospects Should Improve

STEVENS

We wonder if we have another Annie Oakley here in the Bay Area. Dimpled Lois Montgomery again retained her State Pistol Championship at Sunday's Fort Ord shoot. Bully for you, Lois!

The Oakland Pistol Club, of which Lois is a member, sure did themselves proud at the Fort Ord meet. The Master Team won out over all participants in the .45 caliber pistol shoot, and Offutt Pinnion won first place in the International Slow Fire for civilians as well as the rapid-fire event.

IT WOULD seem that this year's crop of angling addicts is of sterner stuff than ever. In spite of wind, rain and rough water, a flock of the hardy souls went fishing over the past stormy few days. Alice Quan of China Camp reported a good showing on Saturday and not so good on Sunday, and improvement on Monday and Tuesday.

"Nearly an average of four bass per boat on Saturday," said Alice. A. Santos landed a 42-inch sturgeon. Prospects are much brighter than for the past few weeks.

IN THE Upper San Pablo the quantity of fish wasn't unusual, but the quality was. On Saturday, the boat Sunfish, out of Crockett, had only four bass but they were all large—to 23 pounds; the Happy Days came in with seven bass to 13 pounds. Sunday the Sunfish unloaded five stripers to 20 pounds, and on Monday brought in two 25-pounders for the two passengers. On Sunday, the Happy Days netted limits to 14 pounds for its three fishermen.

The lower bay areas also reported improved fishing. The trollers working the Alcatraz sector made the grade with bass to eight pounds; the Alameda Flats and the area under the Bay Bridge yielded some nice, fresh-run, eight and nine-pounders to the live-bait boys.

THERE HAS been a slight improvement in salmon trolling, but it can hardly be called better than fair. The high boat out of Caruso's at Sausalito on Monday was the Jennie C with 13 salmon to 15 pounds. That's not bad, but not hot, either.

The season for commercial fishing of salmon opens next Monday, and will continue through Sept. 29. There is no bag limit, but no Kings less than 26 inches, nor silvers less than 25 inches, will be allowed.

Listening to my Halicrafter recently, I gather that the ocean is calm, the weather perfect and the fishing better now than over the weekend.

Celts Win Eastern Division NBA Title

BOSTON (AP)—Shortly before noon yesterday a lonely-looking figure was practicing on the Boston Garden basketball court. First he'd shoot a basket from 25 feet, then he'd walk to the other side, shoot again, then to another spot and shoot again.

Ten or 15 minutes later Sam Jones of the Boston Celtics, satisfied he had sharpened up his shooting eye, walked off the floor.

Some 10 hours later when Sam Jones next walked off the Boston Garden floor, a crowd of 13,909 howling, delirious Boston fans also was sure his eye was sharp.

For Jones had left behind him a prodigious 47 points—second highest output by a Boston player in Celtics history. More important those 47 points paced the Celtics to a 142-131 victory over the Cincinnati Royals and gave Boston the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division final playoffs, four games to three.

Boston's next foe as it hopes for a fifth straight world championship will be the winner of the Los Angeles-St. Louis series. That seventh and deciding game is set for Los Angeles tonight.

"Give the credit to Bob Cousy," grinned the 29-year-old Jones, a North Carolina college graduate. "Cooz kept working the ball in deep and I was able to come off him to score."

Golf Stars Tee Off In Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — When Sam Snead won the inaugural Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament back in 1938 Gary Player couldn't have cared less. He was two years old and lived in Johannesburg, South Africa.

But today, Player and every other man in the field of 156 was arrayed against Snead as the 24th annual GGO, now carrying a minimum $35,000 purse, got under way.

Snead, who'll be 51 next month, has been here for 22 tournaments, winning seven from 1938 through 1960 and finishing no lower than tied for third on eight other occasions.

Player, a professional for 10 of his 27 years, hasn't played here since his fifth place finish three years ago. In two earlier bids he tied for third in 1957, his first year on the American tour, and tied for seventh in 1958.

State Medical Association Pledges Aid In Boxing Study

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Medical Assn. has pledged its help today in achieving "the greatest degree of safety in boxing."

Dr. Samuel R. Sherman, president of the association, said yesterday he wrote to Dr. Dan Kilroy of Sacramento, a member of the State Athletic Commission who had asked the medical association's assistance.

The association's committee on medical aspects of sports is ready to work with the commission "at any time it feels we can give service," Sherman said.

The committee already has begun an investigation of safety and physical standards for boxers, he said.

Its members have met with attorney Sol Silverman, who was appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to study boxing hazards following the death last month of fighter Davey Moore after a Los Angeles bout.

The Junior Wightman practice has started and Auerbach announces the club will enter two teams in the girl's competition this year. He has urged the club's junior boys to sign up for Junior Davis play.

This year's officers are Walter Machette, president; John Himmelwright, vice president; Mrs. William Atchley, secretary, and Al Seidel, treasurer. Board members are Tom Clark, David Allen, Harry Colmery, Dr. Malcolm McIlroy and Mrs. William Ferguson.

W. R. D. Cuthbertson was named an honorary member of the board for a two-year term. He was honored in recognition of his efforts in helping to establish and develop the club.

Wildcats Nip Riordan 6-5

Marin Catholic's Wildcat baseball team nipped Riordan High School Tuesday 6-5 in a practice game on the Marin Catholic diamond.

Winning pitcher was Dave Beswick who pitched the first five innings and allowed only one hit. He was relieved by Bill Shine and Ron O'Connell, as coach Bernie Schneider wanted to use all his pitchers in the practice game, the first game for the Wildcats in two weks.

Marin's hitting attack was led by Beswick who hit a home run and a single in three trips to the plate. Dan Abballo hit a double and a single and John Odetto cracked a pair of singles.

695 Series, 288 Game Top Play At Country Club Bowl

Rich Curry of the 900 Classic League topped all bowlers for the week at Country Club Bowl with a crashing 695 series made up of games of 269, 214 and 212.

Curry came back in the Pederson Point Trio League to roll a 621 series which included a 224 game.

But the high game honors for the week went to Mel Piper of the San Rafael Elks League. Mel was breathing down the neck of a 300 game when he strung out 10 straight strikes. But on his first extra shot, he left the nine and 10 pins. He picked them up on the next ball for a fine 288 game.

Another fine score was turned in by Fran Wells of the Adult-Junior League, a 625 series which included games of 246 and 231.

Bobbie Lister led the women this week with a 595 (212-215-168) series in the Keglerettes League. Bobbie's 215 game was high for the gals, with Dolly Manzi of the 775 Invitational close behind with 212.

MARIN PROPWASH

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

Lake Berryessa Features Boating, Fishing, Swimming And Recreation

Lake Berryessa is 24 miles north of Napa. If you leave Marin County early in the morning, you'll be launching your boat in approximately two hours. Before the trek home, you'll have a long day's enjoyment — especially with the happy advent of daylight saving again.

Or, if you're a weekend camper, you'll find good facilities for overnighting or picnicking. Those more sophisticated can rent motels, cottages or mobile homes. Restaurants, grocery and bait supplies are handy, too.

This lake holds an "eeny-meeny-miny-mo" variety of fish. If you don't own a boat but love this facet of the fun, just rent a craft and equipment.

ON THE lake front we came upon a straw-hatted, elderly man and his wife. They were skinning catfish. Here was a chance to ask about the area. Washing his knife blade, he started the conversation. "Wife and I used to live right over there." He pointed, but it seemed to us that he was indicating a spot in the middle of the lake.

"Dad's telling you the honest truth," the tanned fisher-lady insisted. She put the fish into a portable ice chest. "Our old place is down under, good and deep. I guess you haven't heard how it all happened, though. Even the town of Monticello is down there in the weeds and fish . . . post office . . .store . . . everything's gone—"

SUDDENLY the sun felt less warm as the wind of remembering blew with an eerie chill. It started in 1955. Newspapers, magazines and television spoke of the huge federal water reclamation project. Monticello dam was to be started. It would form a lake 22 miles long, and two and one-half to three miles wide, with 165 miles of shoreline. At first these long-time residents wouldn't believe they had to evacuate. Next they firmly resisted. But finally they became resigned, and taking their government checks, fastened down their suitcases and trucked out their possessions.

Three years later the dam was completed. Water from Putah Creek, its tributaries and some lesser run-offs soon over ran their banks. Water crept first over pastures, through areas where formerly fruit orchards and yellow-lichened rail fences had been. It flowed in requiem over concrete foundations—all that was left of the buildings—until it reached the approved level on the face of the dam.

To paraphrase an old saying, it's an ill-wind that blows no blessing at all. Now it is a boater's paradise. The valley is warm, making ideal skiing conditions. The boater should take note though, that only the western and southern shores are dedicated to public recreation. At the present time, the other shores are restricted to private use only.

If you haven't already done so this year, you must register your boat before launching. Napa County has set a fee of $3 for the year. This can be purchased at Lake Berryessa Park Headquarters, or at any resort. Boat launching will be found at all resorts, but the one at Putah Creek is exceptionally wide with a nice easy grade. The creek can be explored to an approximate distance of 10 miles. Many fishermen seem to particularly approve this area.

THE SHORE-PADDLER who gradually infiltrates into the water for a swim won't like it overly much. Fast boats stir up the sediment and it's a bit slimy. Diving from a boat or a board further out though, is perfect. Imported sand may eventually find its way here as it has with other areas.

During season, fire permits are a must. In a few areas, they are not granted. All fishing spots are marked 5 to 15 mph. Swimming places are well-defined. Napa County has also an established and efficient lake patrol.

We wondered about the winds on the lake, getting an answer from Bob Cooper of San Rafael. "All big bodies of water whip it up now and then. This one's no exception. They come up mostly late afternoon or just before sundown . . . sometimes all night. I lay listening, and it sounds like the ocean . . . goes down around dawn.

TO GET TO Lake Berryessa from San Rafael, go north on Highway 101 taking the Blackpoint cut-off, then the Sears Point cut-off that takes you past Napa on Hwy. 37. Keep on to Muscowite Corners that junctions with Hwy. 128. From that point on there are plenty of signs to get you into the resort area.

San Rafael Youth Baseball Tryouts Will Be Saturday

The San Rafael Youth Baseball League will hold tryouts for the junior division — boys 13 and 14—Saturday starting at 10 a.m. at San Rafael's Albert Field.

San Rafael Swim Team Wins 82-13

Ed Meagor Wins Motorcycle Race

In the same race, Ralph Clymer of Mill Valley, also driving a Norton, placed third. Eric Dahlstrom of Sausalito finished in sixth place in the 350 cc division, driving a Honda.

Sausalito Tryouts

Tryouts for the minor league teams of the Sausalito Little League will be held Saturday starting at 10 a.m. at Richardson Bay School.

'Crucial Series' Already In A. L.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League pennant race is only three days old, and we've got a crucial series already.

The Baltimore Orioles and the New York Yankees, the only unbeaten teams in the league, square off today for a three-game set at Yankee Stadium. The Yankees were the Pennant pick, with the Orioles drawing a lot of support.

CLEAN SLATE

The Orioles kept their slate clean yesterday with a 3-2 victory over the Washington Senators, fashioned with the aid of some erratic Washington base running.

The Yankees kept pace with a 5-3 pounding of the Kansas City Athletics, as Mickey Mantle hit his first homer of the year.

In other American League games, Detroit beat the Chicago White Sox 2-1, Minnesota topped Cleveland 5-3 and the Boston Red Sox toppled the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

DUEL

Claude Osteen for Washington and Robin Roberts for Baltimore hooked up in an 0-0 duel for six innings, until Don Lock and Larry Osborne of the Nats hit successive doubles in the seventh. Then, with two out, Ed Brinkman singled Osborne home. When Osteen singled, Roberts departed.

Pinch hitter Jim King hit a drive to right field off reliever Dick Hall which would have scored Brinkman, but Osteen failed to touch second base on his way by, and was out, to end the inning.

The Orioles got all three runs in the ninth, Jackie Brandt homored, and Osteen walked Robinson. Steve Hamilton, the loser, came on and gave up two singles and a walk to tie the score. A sacrifice fly by Jerry Adair chased in the winning run.

Mantle and Elston Howard hit two-run homers for the Yankees, as Bill Stafford sailed along in fine style on the mound, until he was forced to leave in the seventh with an elbow injury. The A's got all their runs in the ninth, off his successors. Two walks, two singles and a sacrifice fly brought them in, until Jose Tartabull hit into a double play to end it.

Hank Aguirre, the 1962 AL earned run leader set the White Sox down with seven hits, while his Tiger mates bunched three of their four hits for two runs in the first inning. A double by Billy Bruton, singles by Al Kaline and Dick McAuliffe, plus a passed ball and sacrifice fly, got the runs over. Floyd Robinson singled home the White Sox run in the first inning.

Harmon Killebrew weighed in with his first homer of the campaign, the key blow in the Twins victory over the Indians. Jim Kaat, who led the league's lefthanders last year with 18 victories, went all the way for Minnesota. Gene Green ruined his shut out in the eighth with a homer, and Mike de La Hoz doubled home the other two runs in the ninth.

Right-hander Earl Wilson, who threw a no-hitter against the Angels last season, set them down with six hits. Leon Wagner singled home the Los Angeles run in the first. Boston gots all its runs in the third inning, with Carl Yastrzemski's two-run double the key blow.

WILL NEVER HURT US . . . Because nobody bothers to knock the dealer who is doing nothing. The car buying public has shown conclusively they like our brand of merchandising.

At Ames Ford, we keep breaking sales records month after month while our "competitive" dealers sit back, bemoan reducing sales, and deplore our methods to successfully sell automobiles.

We are not concerned over the barbs leveled at us by other dealers, however. The good people of Marin must like to buy at money-saving prices and terms—consistently—and they like the comfort of knowing they will get these values exactly as advertised, and not have to bring a magician or attorney along to decipher the deceptive come-on gimmicks so many of our competitors are fond of using.

REALISTIC LOOK

No Formula For Marriage

TORONTO (AP) — There's no cut and dried formula for a successful marriage, but a realistic look at the practicalities, responsibilities and necessary adjustments will help.

This is the feeling of the Social Planning Council of Metropolitan Toronto which is conducting an experimental community-wide non-denominational marriage education program for those "just married" or "thinking about it."

HAROLD C. KNIGHT, in charge of the program, says he is amazed at the number of first year marriages "that go on the rocks because people have no idea of what they are getting into."

The six-session course includes discussion by experts of the social changes affecting marriage today, the relationship of the family in the community, personality, emotions, finances and home management as well as medical knowledge.

BARBARA CHISHOLM, a Toronto social worker participating in the program, described the period before and in the early months of marriage as "a very vulnerable time at which it not easy to sit back and coolly analyze."

Yet that is the very time a couple should decide exactly what they expect from their new relationship and whether or not this agrees with what they expect from life in general, she said.

"OUR SOCIETY has oversold romance frightfully—taken it out of balance. Marriage takes work, not romance."

Many young girls who complain they are bored and have lost interest in their marriage are just hiding the fact that they don't have the practical skills, such as knowing how to wax floors and make casseroles, Miss Chisholm has discovered through her work.

SHE ALSO SAID "marriage is not postponed for economic reasons the way it once was." Young couples feel they have to have everything—furniture, car and all the other things which make life easy—right away, and the pressure from this feeling often leads to trouble in early marriage.

Mary Jury, a social worker with Toronto's Family Service Assn., has found that "because there are so many intercultural, religious and racial marriages today, young couples often cannot use their parents' marriages, no matter how happy, as a pattern for their own."

Mr. And Mrs. Poetz Entertain At Dinner For Philadelphians

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Bernhardt Poetz of Del Mesa entertained at a dinner party Tuesday night honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Bayer of Erie, Pa. It was given at the World Trade Club in San Francisco. All of the 16 guests were from San Francisco where Mr. and Mrs. Poetz lived before they came to Marin. Monday night Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson (Bettye Poetz) and her husband entertained at a dinner honoring her father, Mr. Poetz on his seventy-seventh birthday. The dinner, at the Ferguson home in Kent Woodlands, was attended by family members and a few long time friends. Mr. Poetz is a retired real estate broker.

A couple, belonging to widely known Marin families, are giving a reception for their recently married daughter and husband tomorrow. Entertaining are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Cartamo (Phyllis Steele) who now live in Concord. Their daughter, Janet Allene Cartamo was married Saturday to Robert Och Jr., who is stationed at Travis Air Force Base. The ceremony took place at Park Wedding Chapel in Reno. The senior Mr. and Mrs. Robert Och live in Arroyo Grande, Calif. Janet is the granddaughter of Mrs. George Steele of San Rafael and the late Mr. Steele and Mr. and Mrs. John Cartamo fo Fairfax.

About 50 relatives and friends have been invited to the reception.

ENJOYING Easter week on the ski slopes at Sugar Bowl is Nancy Appel of Mill Valley, a student at San Francisco State College. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Appel.

Arnold J. Oehler has just returned to Mill Valley from a cruise on the President Polk that took him to many colorful ports of the world.

He left on Jan. 10 and returned last week to the Oehlers' home, "Blithe Hill."

One of his experiences of interest to many people in Marin was a visit with Dr. and Mrs. John Milton Kelly in Bangkok. Doctor Kelly was formerly head of the department of sacred music at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. He is now music consultant for the Churches of Christ of Southeast Asia. "The Kellys seem very happy," Mr. Oehler said, "for the people take to music avidly and Dr. Kelly has a large chorus.

"Bangkok was exceptionally colorful because everything was decorated for the visit of the King and Queen of Greece, something the way we do for Christmas.

"Another highlight of my trip was seeing a Japanese wedding party in elaborate dress being photographed at a park in Kioto, Japan, one of the few bright scenes as at that time of year in Japan no flowers were in bloom nor trees in leaf.

"Still another was attending the funeral of a millionaire on Penang Island. It was like a county fair with big tents containing 30 to 40-foot long tables loaded with food.

"It was explained that the millionaire had three children and 100 grandchildren. Only two of the widows were legitimate. The funeral ended with a big procession."

On the ship Mr. Oehler was elected and served throughout the voyage as tournament chairman for deck and indoor sports.

Other ports of call included Honolulu, Yokohama, Saigon, Singapore, Cochin, Bombay, Suez, Alexandria, Naples, Marseilles, Nice and Geneva. At several ports he disembarked for sightseeing trips.

After leaving Leghorn, Italy, Mr. Oehler went to New York and spent some time there before taking the train to the West Coast.

Newlyweds Residing In Mill Valley

Joanne Marie Terry and Gordon Ronald Kiefer were married Saturday at the Golden Chapel in Reno.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 9 p.m. with a large number of the couple's relatives attending.

Accompanying them were the bride's parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Terry and Michael Terry; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Zarucchi—all of Mill Valley—and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jarcik and children, Terry, Blair and Dawn, of Corte Madera.

Also present were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Richard Kiefer of Corte Madera, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Falconi of San Francisco.

Joanne recited her vows wearing a white chiffon dress and veil.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was held at a restaurant in Sparks, Nev. The young couple is living in Mill Valley.

The new Mrs. Kiefer is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and is in her second year at the College of Marin. Her husband was graduated from Balboa High School in San Francisco and the College of Marin and is continuing part-time study at the college while he is employed full time as an electronic technician at Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. in San Rafael. He has one sister, Judy Kiefer of Corte Madera.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"Sorry to look so unkempt—but I'm doing a shaving commercial on television tonight."

Royal Dutch Treat Coming For Visit

THE HAGUE (AP)—The princess will be different on this visit to the United States.

Four years ago Crown Princess Beatrix confessed to newsmen during a tour of New York: "My hands tremble when I read a speech."

NOW she's a self-confident, poised young woman. Outwardly at least, there is nothing jittery these days about the future Dutch queen when she makes public appearances.

On this trip she'll visit Japan, stop briefly at Hawaii, and then go on to the United States and Canada. She's resuming a trip cut short last year by the death of her grandmother, the late Queen Wilhelmina.

BEATRIX is keenly interested in foreign lands and peoples, and like her father, Prince Bernhard, she loves to travel.

On the eve of her departure, she ordered a briefing at her home for a small group accompanying her to Japan and astounded them with her knowledge of the history, culture and religions of this country.

She takes pain in studying the problems of developing countries and sponsors European youth groups which prepare for work in the newly independent countries of Asia and Africa.

APART from a luncheon with President Kennedy in Washington on April 18, she will devote much time in the capital studying the set-up of the American Peace Corps.

Since she successfully completed her law studies at Leyden University 1½ years ago, Beatrix has shown great interest in European institutions and made working visits to the European Parliament in Strassbourg, NATO headquarters in Paris, European Common Market headquarters in Brussels and the coal and steel community in Luxembourg.

EARLY this year the princess moved from the royal palace of her parents into her private 1,250 acre property, an enchanting octangular castle, called "Drakestein" (Dragonstone). It is surrounded by a moat and Holland's greenest parks. She runs her own modest royal household but drops in occasionally at her former home, the nearby Soestdyk Royal Palace.

Two weeks ago Holland's blue-eyed "Princess Smile" was hostess at a house-warming party for some 20 good friends. She showed herself disarmingly proud of her own home which she furnished entirely to her own taste, antique hunting whenever she found time.

IF THERE is any romance in her life, it is deeply shrouded. A romance with a fellow-student, commoner Bob Steensma, reportedly died a quiet death.

STEENSMA, son of a notary public in Eindhoven, dated the princess for some time. About the prospect of their marrying, government officials pronounced: "Princess Beatrix knows better."

A few years before while on a tour of the United States, Prince Bernhard told American reporters that his daughter could marry any man she loved so long as he was a decent person and she was really in love with him.

BEATRIX is described by those close to her, as a practical, enterprising young woman who efficiently divides her interests between fun and work. She likes sailing in her yacht "Groene Draeck" (Green Dragon), is a fair skier and horsewoman but drives her Swedish Saab car very fast.

In Japan the princess will be received by Emperor Hirohito and tour the country for 10 days. Her main interest will be in the life of Japanese youth and students.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

MRS. ALMA DENNY

Wife Should Accept With Grace Husband's Offer To Decorate Home

OSCAR H.—She won't let me say a thing about furniture.

MARIAN H.—I've put more thought into it than he. He should trust me.

OSCAR H.—We're married 11 years and are about to tap our savings for a complete refurnishing binge of every room except our son's. It will be a joy to get rid of the odds and ends and make-shifts we brought into our home when we started out. I want to get into the act now but Marian says leave it all to her. I don't have time to do all the shopping, but I have my own taste and I want to use it.

MARIAN H. — Fortunately Oscar isn't arguing with me about the costs. We've both worked to build up a fund for this purpose and he knows I'll keep within it. But he wants a man's house, with leather chairs and hunting-prints and that sort of thing. I've been dreaming of dainty French Provincial, white carpeting, tole lamps—something that can suit us both. Decorating is the woman's province. He should leave it to me.

THE COUNCIL: On the carpet, we have Marian. Look here, girl. There's not better interior decoration for any home than a man in it! Start with that. Further, think how much worse off you'd be if you were married to one of the many male members of the A.I.D. (the decorators' elite). You'd need (and probably could afford) at least two homes to get a chance to give any of your own ideas free play.

Be grateful for present blessings—a man who has a few modest decorating yens of his own, and those yens in the bank to implement a his-hers-our blending of decor, instead of bemoaning Oscar's interest as intrustion in a woman's domain (bosh!).

She should be glad that he doesn't leave it all up to her. Alone, "all" is too much. As to "a man's house," we pass along Glenn Ford's tip that there's where a woman looks best. He likes to set a wraith of a female, he says, against a stone fireplace with a hunting-trophy above.

Cropped Hair-Dos Belong On Poodles

NEW YORK (AP)—"We have never admired the layered haircuts given to children in orphanages who could do nothing about it, so why is the Oliver haircut promoted for American women?" asks veteran hairdresser John Bernard of New York.

"Cropped and chopped hairdos should never be worn by a well-groomed woman," he says, "even though she is told she can look elegant in the evening by adding some silly spiral hairpiece. The result is a soaring hairdo of some sort that looks like a cartoon.

"A woman's hair should be shaped to reveal the contours that are most flattering to her, particularly the nape of the neck. It should be swept to the side or softened across the head in some way," he says.

"Shape and contour are the most important things in styling hair. A haircut can be designed for madame, madamoiselle, and the jeune fille. You should not have to change it morning, noon and night," he says. "The hair should be from ½ to 2½ inches at the nape."

His favorite cut has an unlayered top with large sweeps of soft hair and revealing an ear lobe. "It is an ideal style for hats, and jewelry," he says, and besides "it is correct and feminine."

Other styles that have been around—straight bangs and straight hair can make a pretty woman look hideous, he says.

"The Cleopatra look should not be worn by women in their 40s," Bernard points out. "It will age them. And they should particularly avoid the hard makeup that goes with it, such as the black eyebrows and white pasty skin. And the brown tones in makeup are utterly ridiculous. It even makes the teeth look yellow.

Masque Unit To Present Indian Story

Ceremonial dances and drums, teepees and chants will be parts of "Better Than A Boy", a play about a mythical Indian tribe presented by Junior Theatre of Marin. It will be produced by the Masque Unit of Junior Theatre, on April 20, at 10 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. at the San Rafael High School. The show is the final one of the winter season of five professional plays brought to Marin by Junior Theatre.

The colorful play, full of dance and music and bright costumes and sets has a cast of fourteen with 11 assistants. It is directed by Mrs. Woodward Melone of Novato, who directed last year's play, and Mrs. Gordon Dunn of San Rafael.

The play is adapted from an original by Mrs. Phyllis McCullum, the same author who wrote last year's winter season, "The Pale Pink Dragon". Mrs. McCullum will come from her home at Manhattan Beach to see the premiere of her play.

"BETTER THAN A BOY" is about two Indians born about the same time, one a boy and one a girl. Indians always want their first child to be a boy, so the girl in this play is called "Wrong One". However, "Wrong One" soon proves she is "better than a boy" by learning both to cook and sew and to hunt and trap.

Costumes adapted from Indian histories were designed by Mrs. Kirk Frederick of San Rafael. Much of the costuming and sets were suggested from books used by the Boy Scouts of America and follow the detail of the originals, the committee announced.

Sets were designed and executed by Mrs. James Heynemann assisted by Preston Jones and Mrs. Richard Bettini.

Special assignments were completed by Mrs. Paul Atkins, prompter; Mrs. John B Wilcutt Jr. and Mrs. Edward French, makeup and wigs; Mrs. R. J. MacLaury, music; Mrs. Frederick, costumes.

In the cast of 14 are Mrs. John Bridgman of Corinthian Island, as Thunderhead, the adult male lead; Mrs. Donald Westerbeke of Mill Valley, Big Medicine; Mrs. George Stevenson of Mill Valley, Meadow Flower; Mrs. George Caldwalader of Belvedere, Swift Arrow; Miss Nancy Majors of Belvedere, Wrong One; Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of San Rafael, All Thumbs; Mrs. E. S. Kilgore Jr. of Tiburon, Tom Foolery; Mrs. Richard Casey of Ross, Annie Lou; Mrs. Theodore Theiss of Mill Valley, Bear; Mrs. L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of San Rafael, Eagle; Mrs. Jules Becker of Ross, and Mrs. Charles D. McPherson of San Rafael, Squaws; Mrs. Henry B. Grandin Jr. of Ross, and Mrs. Richard Beamish of Fairfax, Warriors.

Members of the cast have backgrounds related to theater work, speech, writing, directing, acting, fashion modeling or television work.

Co-director Mrs. Dunn, a speech major at Northwestern who was active throughout college in all phases of theater work. She is presently president of the Loch Lomond Guild of Sunny Hills and is associated with the American Assn. of University Women. Mrs. Caldwalader had her own radio show on CBS for two years in Alaska and she has acted in little theater.

Mrs. Casey was in college at Borat at Lake Forest, Ill. She was a speech major and has since taught dramatics at Sacred Heart Convent here. She has done summer stock comedy work in Indiana. The mother of five children, Mrs. Casey has done numerous television commercials.

MISS MAJORS has been in little theater work in Los Angeles, with the Pasadena Playhouse in lead parts and the Little Children's Theatre of Los Angeles. She attended Pine Manor Junior College in Wellsley and the University of California, majoring in English. Miss Majors is a fashion model and photographic model. In New York she was an assistant fashion buyer, was merchandising editor on Vogue magazine, was accounting executive with a fashion agency and later was public relations director for a community apartment in San Francisco. She has written, produced and commentated fashion shows here and in New York.

Mrs. Bridgman, author of "Love Is a Place," has also written numerous short stories published in leading national magazines.

The group has been rehearsing twice a week, not without incident. They were burned out of their rehearsal hall, Brown's Hall, and had to move to Scout Hall, San Rafael.

Officers of The Masque Unit are Mrs. McPherson, president, Mrs. Stevenson, vice president, Mrs. Grandin, treasurer and Mrs. Paul Atkins, Larkspur, secretary. Mrs. Duane Beeson is publicity chairman.

TERRIBLE DANGER threatens Annie Lou (Mrs. Richard Casey) and Tom Foolery (Mrs. E. S. Kilgore Jr.) as Swift Arrow (Mrs. George Cadwalader) runs true to his name and Thunderhead (Mrs. John Bridgman) beats an awesome pair of tom-toms. But it's all in fun, that is, until the performance of the play "Better Than A Boy" which the Masque Unit will present for youngsters April 20 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. (Independent-Journal photo)

Dominic Bobbio Plans Speech To Awareness Group

Dominic Bobbio, principal of Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School, will be the speaker at Monday's luncheon meeting of the Awareness Group in the home of Mrs. Edmond Gross.

Following a sandwich luncheon starting at 11:30 a.m., Bobbio will speak on changes to be mad next year in the school's program. These will be concerned, he said, with "retreat from over-departmentalization to the block system in the language arts and social studies area so that a child will feel more secure through being with one teacher for a longer part of the day."

He will also discuss plans for some relaxation of homogeneous ability grouping.

Newest Coiffure

The hair stylist who often does Mrs. John F. Kennedy's coiffure says his newest trim is the shell. Kenneth Battelle observed that he'd found a new beauty spot for American women—the back of the neck. He's eliminated the elaborate bouffant, and shaped the hair, shell-fashion, in against the head and back of the neck. The Syracuse-born hairdresser who often travels to Washington to do the First Lady's brunette locks has just opened his own house of beauty in New York. He formerly was with Lilly Dache.

Plea For Helicopter Link In Marin Merits Support

Proposals for a helicopter link between the San Rafael area and the sprawling San Francisco airport would seem to make sense, and merit the support of forward looking civic groups.

With the importance of air travel in our economy gaining momentum almost daily, and with rapid transportation a vital factor in the growth of every community, there is reason to believe that a large number of Marinites would welcome the projected service.

The sponsors, SFO Helicopters, Inc., had their day in court this week, in a formal hearing before the Civil Aeronautics board on the application for federal certification of the service.

Helicopter service has been effectively operated in several major cities of the nation. It could be a boon to air travelers of Marin County, who almost daily, embark on flights to Seattle, Los Angeles, the East Coast, and many foreign cities.

It would provide Marin business men with fast, safe and comfortable travel between a Marin heliport and the international airport south of San Francisco. The cost of the service should be no barrier to air travelers. Considering the cost and time involved in driving to the San Francisco International Airport, and storing the auto, the whirly-bird commuters would about break even. Major airlines would certainly absorb part of the 'copter commuter cost, as they now do for travelers using the service from Berkeley and Oakland to the airport.

Further, the 'copter link could meet the needs of Marin air travelers until such time as an airfield site could be selected, and an adequate operating plant built, which will have to be done before too many years.

Meanwhile, a heliport could be operated on a small piece of land—possibly an acre or so, and facilities erected for as little as $10,000—just a small fraction of cost of a modern airfield.

Further evidence of the value of such service would extend to Marin residents is the fact that a number of people are driving to Berkeley to board the 'copter for the S.F. International Airport. And, after taking 15 or 20 minutes on the trek to Berkeley, they are reaching the big peninsula airfield in much less time than it would take to drive through San Francisco to the airfield at the height of traffic.

We believe the project is sound, and hope that it will receive the blessing, and a green-light from Uncle Sam.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HELP YOURSELF BY HELPING OTHERS

An airborne traveler came to a lady's rescue during a snowstorm last winter in Wyoming.

The woman's automobile had bogged down in a deep snow drift. She was doing her best to shovel her way out when she heard the roar of an airplane engine.

The pilot, spotting her while flying his light plane, landed on a bare stretch of ground near the car. He took over the shovel and soon the grateful motorist was on her way.

Be ever on the lookout for opportunities to be of service to others and you will add a new dimension to your own life.

By the very nature God has given you, you live a fuller, more meaningful life if you try to share the problems of others rather than avoid them.

This is a difficult lesson for human beings to learn because they do not understand the paradox of love; i.e., that one enriches his own life by enriching those of others.

"The Son of Man has not come to be served but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many." (Matthew 20:28)

Allow me to be Your instrument, O divine Savior, in communicating Your love to countless persons.

Women May Be Smoking More —But Men Enjoying It Less

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals for the American male is the problem of taking care of the lady smoker.

It isn't enough today, in a woman's world, that a man open doors for the ladies, doff his bonnet in an elevator to them, give up his seat in a bus to them, and bring his paycheck home in his mouth to the fairest of them all.

No, indeed. One of the fringe benefits of manhood—and the sternest test of gallantry — is the privilege of helping the girls through the ceremonial rites of the nicotine habit.

Here are some types of lady smokers familiar to most men:

"Sandra Showoff" — This female powerhouse likes ostentation as well as attention. She waits until she's at the far corner of the room before pulling out her cigarette, thus forcing you to gallop over before everybody to ignite it.

"Golddigger Gertie" — No matter where you meet her, whether at a cocktail party or atop the Statue of Liberty, the cigarette she pulls out is always her very last one. Somehow, somewhere, you have to manage to get her another pack immediately — if you're any kind of man at all.

"Thelma Twitchy" — The gabby type. Keeps talking as you try to light her up, and the cigarette bobs around in all directions like a weathervane. When the match finally burns your fingers and you cry "Ouch!", she asks loudly, "What's the matter? Got the shakes again? Maybe you'd better lay off the stuff for a while."

"Exotic Erica"—Can't stand anything except highly perfumed Oriental cigarettes which she puffs from the near end of a two-foot black and silver holder. After half an hour by her, you reel away smelling like an old Chinese temple.

"Bertha Beatnik" — She's the Bohemian type. Thinks cigarettes are strictly for the cowbirds at the party. Prefers an imitation corncob pipe encrusted with rhinestones. Gets ashes on rug by knocking pipe against her shoe heel. One nice thing about Bertha: Your wife never invites her back again.

"Smudge-Pot Nell" — This human chimney is a chain smoker who feels socially insecure unless she has at least three cigarettes going for her at all times. A man really needs a blow torch to keep her lit up.

"Independent Inez"—Ruggedly self-reliant. Waits until a man gets his lighter out, then chills his chivalry with the cold remark, "Oh, I'm a big girl now. I'm quite able to light my own cigarette." The man, crestfallen, withdraws his lighter, silently wishing he could cram it down her proud throat.

"Critical Kitty"—She blows smoke rings in your face for an hour. But when you light up a cigar yourself in self-defense, she wails, "Please put it out, won't you? I simply can't stand the smell of those awful things."

Dames like these are enough to give any fellow nicotine narcosis. They help explain why women may be smoking more today — but men are enjoying it less.

Internal Disputes Grip Rival Political Parties

By DE VAN L. SHUMWAY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's major political conventions, now part of the record book for 1963, showed one thing clearly: both Republicans and Democrats have their interparty troubles.

With the Republicans, the fight lines up party regulars against the conservatives.

For the Democrats, it's the professionals versus the volunteers.

One other obvious fact: The climb upward already is beginning in both major parties for a successor to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, especially if he does not run for re-election in 1966.

Looking ahead only one year, this is the presidential situation:

The Republicans have a number of likely candidates —New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton and Michigan Gov. George Romney.

WITHIN THE Republican Party, supporters of Rockefeller and Goldwater already are trying to test the sentiment. In the two major rounds already fought—in the Young Republicans organization and at the state central committee—it was a standoff, with each side winning a victory.

A Goldwater for President group has begun moving around the state trying to get signatures on a petition to show the Arizona senator how much grassroots support he can expect should he bid for President.

Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight opened a Rockefeller headquarters in Los Angeles but closed it within a couple of days at the request of the New York governor. State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael also has left no doubt that he's a Rockefeller supporter and hopes eventually to speak for the governor in California.

ON THE BASIS of statements from party leaders, both on and off the record, the 1966 governorship race in California lines up like this:

—If Governor Brown tries for a third term — and no Democrat has ever been elected three times—he could very well have opposition within his own party in the Primary Election.

—If Brown does not bid for another term, and many Democrats think he will not, there could very well be a bitter primary fight. It might be a four-way battle between Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, Controller Alan Cranston, Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson and, possibly, Atty. Gen. Stanley A. Mosk. But there are persistent rumors that Mosk will be appointed to the State Supreme Court.

—THE REPUBLICANS hope during the next four years to develop a candidate for governor on their own side of the aisle. Sources looking over the field come up with nearly a blank so far.

But a few names have been tossed around — Former Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, McCarthy and Casper W. Weinberger, a former assemblyman who now is the party's central committee head.

At the most recent convention, the California Democratic Council in Bakersfield, there was one startling development: a denunciation of Unruh.

The next political convention is months away — the Democratic Central Committee in August. Unruh claims far more backers on this group.

Woman Questions Teacher Firing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have read with dismay several I-J articles . . . relative to the dismissal of two teachers in the Sausalito schools . . . Could it not be that the management there may be at fault since one of your first articles indicated that still a third teacher had been dismissed from that very same area last year?

This letter is prompted by the fact that only a year ago, while on an outing in Tomales Bay with my family, we had the pleasure of meeting one of these teachers with a group of his pupils. They were having a delightful time and we were struck by the teacher's interest and sincerity with these children. He told us that he did this on the weekends, giving all of the pupils a turn. My husband and I commented at the time on how wonderful it was to know that this type of teacher still existed.

And now we read he is being dismissed! What is going on? Is this how we destroy incentive in our dedicated teachers?

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A backwoods circuit rider in Kentucky had one vanity: a spirited, superb horse on which he made all his rounds. One morning a follower asked him jovially, "Parson, no offense, but how come your horse's coat always looks so much better than yours?"

"That's an easy one," shot back the circuit rider. "You see, I take care of my horse; my congregation takes care om me!"

Three short shorts from Minneapolis' jokester laureate, Mox Lindquist:

1. "This coffee," a waitress explained to a customer born in Sweden, "comes here from a place even further away than Sweden. It is imported from Brazil." "What do you know?" marveled the Swede. "It's still warm!"

2. A very stout lady at a seaside resort noticed a weighing machine with a sign attached proclaiming, "I speak your weight." She put a nickel in the slot and stepped on the platform. Sure enough, a voice spoke up: "One at a time, please!"

3. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Borge met Sonja Henie, the retired skating queen, at a party recently. "My!" whispered Mrs. Borge. "Doesn't she look young?" "Why not?" countered Victor. "She's been on ice most of her life."

Marin's Muggsy Spanier Hits Jazz High Mark In New Album

SO MANY Marin residents have asked what's new with Muggsy Spanier that I am happy to report his new Ava album, "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," is a rollicking package of big-band jazz.

Before my I-J Marin Magazine profile on the master jazzman a lot of people didn't realize he'd been a Sausalito resident since 1957; the profile brought good words from numerous, including County Administrator Alan Bruce, who went out of his way to comment, and Corte Madera Councilman Norm Barnett.

Arthur Godfrey reviewed the profile on his national radio show and reported happy anticipation for Muggsy's album.

So it's a pleasure to report it's a thoroughly enjoyable collection of jazz numbers. Old time fans probably will particularly enjoy "The Lonesome Road," a 6.21-minute track of a tune long associated with Muggsy, "I'm Coming, Virginia" and "Blues in the Night," all featuring his biting plunger mute.

BUT THERE are other swinging numbers, such as the title tune, which Deane Kincaide scored for Muggsy the day after Pearl Harbor, and "You Are My Sunshine," a chestnut brought here to surprising life. Also "Royal Garden Blues," which will compete with anybody's version, and a stirring "Blue Skies."

Muggsy's wife Ruth says trumpeter Shorty Sherock was anchor man of the big band but the stars I enjoy most besides Muggsy are tenorist Eddie Miller and trombonist Moe Schneider.

Bud Oden, proprietor of Marin Triumph, Inc., San Rafael, reports Arthur Godfrey quoted the I-J again last week, reading from my column on past nudism in Marin. Here's inviting Monsoor Godfrey, if he visits Marin, to join me in hunting nudists and digging Muggsy's music.

THE LARKSPUR City Council is at it again, though its meeting last week ran only three hours and 20 minutes contrasted to the Corte Madera Town Council session two nights earlier of four and one-half hours. I covered both.

Councilmen Lesly A. Daveler and Robert J. Smith now are split with the others over a Larkspur retirement plan. Daveler says he feels employees "adequately taken care of" though Councilmen Daniel Allen, Neil R. Brixon and James J. Lienkaemper hold pay is about the lowest in Marin, and Larkspur and Belvedere are the only cities without a plan.

Smith says he doesn't want it to cover service before the plan starts. City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper says the state plan, which is favored, requires coverage for prior service. Passage requires four votes.

Allen said angrily, "We're only talking about one man" (who has heavy prior service). After the meeting I learned he means Police Chief Howard Clark—of 22 years service. Old timers say Clark has turned down better offers to stay in Larkspur.

Allen said the council suffers from "commuters" (Daveler and Smith, who work in San Francisco) who don't know as he does how employees serve "beyond the call of duty."

Daveler takes over as mayor next Wednesday. Larkspur's struggles will be interesting—if painful—to watch.

Forecast On End Of State's Government in U. S. Questioned

WASHINGTON — In his new book, "The Coming World Transformation," Prof. Ferdinand Lundberg of New York University, makes a forsecast which will startle and dismay most people.

He sees the total disappearance of state government.

"Government in the United States," he says, "will be completely centralized at the expense of local and state governments; each state will become an administrative department of Washington's."

Ouch!

We know, of course, that for the past 30 years — from F.D.R. to J.F.K.—there has been a massive flow of political power to the Federal government. But Prof. Lundberg is the first to foresee complete federalization, though most of us will not be around to check up on him. He gives his predictions a time span of 25 to 150 years to mature.

Prof. Lunberg may not be wrong.

THE TREND, which began by popular demand in the terrible years of the depression, has continued almost unabated under both Democratic and Republican Presidents.

It has continued for two reasons:

Because in our complex industrial society, many new social and economic problems have arisen which could only be met on a national basis.

Because the state governments failed to perform needed and popularly demanded public services, and the voters turned to Washington.

THE FIRST cause for the decline of state governments is a valid one. The second is reparable.

I suggest that if there is to be any fair chance of averting Prof. Lunberg's forecast, the governments of our 50 states must put themselves in a better position to perform better services to their people than they are now doing.

Fortunately, the foremost ingredients for creating animate, activist, responsive state governments is at hand —and already at work. This ingredient is the accelerated re-districting of the state legislatures to remove the grievous descrimination against urban voters. This was required by a Supreme Court decision little more than a year ago and recently reaffirmed in a ruling upsetting the county-unit system of counting votes in Georgia in statewide Democratic primaries.

ELECTIONS OR primaries, the principle is the same. The right to vote carries with it the right to have your vote count equally with every other vote. When it takes ten times as many voters to nominate or elect a candidate in Atlanta as it does in one of the rural Georgia counties, that is denying the right to vote by diluting it.

In varying degrees this condition has prevailed in every state for many years. Most state constitutions provide for redistricting the legislature every ten years in order to reflect changes in population and its distribution. Most of the legislatures have ignored this requirement.

How can the citizens of Burlington or Atlanta, or Los Angeles, or any biy city refrain from turning to Washington for some recognition of their needs when their state legislatures are stacked against them?

Through the impact of the Supreme Court decision, 15 state legislatures have been reapportioned in one year; 17 others are at the point of reapportionment.

When state legislatures again become responsive instruments of government, there will be a declining incentive—and need—for voters to turn to Washington because their votes aren't being counted in their own states.

Try Today's Hand And You Won't Be Scornful Of Queens

Do you know the difference between one queen and another? "It doesn't matter except to a king," you think.

Try today's hand, and you won't be so scornful of queens.

Opening lead — ♣ K

The opening lead puts you in dummy with the ace of clubs. You plan to return a red card from dummy, finessing with a red queen from your hand. But which red queen?

LEAD HEART

The correct play is to lead a heart from dummy. When you win with the queen, lead a spade to dummy and repeat the finesse. Now you can draw trumps, giving up one trump trick in the process.

This is all you lose, and your slam is safe.

You go down if you rely on the queen of diamonds instead of the queen of hearts. After you have taken two successful finesses you still have to give up a diamond trick; you have done all your work for nothing.

TWO REASONS

What's more, you can reach dummy only once for a heart finesse and you wind up losing tricks to both red kings.

William Root, who presented this hand in the recent Intercollegiate Bridge Championships, gives two reasons for preferring the heart finesse:

1. If the heart finesse works the contract is made. If the trump finesse works, the trumps must divide favorably as well.

2. West might well hold off with the king of diamonds (if he had it) to induce South to waste an entry on a losing finesse.

West would have to be clairvoyant to hold off with the king of hearts since South might have started with only two hearts, and West would then never get a trick with his king.

In short, heart tricks are more permanent than diamond tricks and you're less likely to be deceived by a tricky opponent.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, April 11, the 101st day of 1963.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1814, French Emperor Napoleon decided to abdicate and signed a proclamation to that effect.

In 1947, infielder Jackie Robinson of the Old Brooklyn Dodgers became the first Negro to play major league baseball.

A thought for the day—Mark Twain said: "Soap and education are not as sudden as a massacre, but they are more deadly in the long run."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Emotional Conflicts Can Do More Damage To Person Than Anything

VAN DELLEN

Emotional conflicts can disrupt life more completely than can many organic diseases. What are the most frequent causes of anxiety, frustration, and other forms of nervousness? A little insight along this line goes a long way in the prevention and understanding of these psychiatric problems.

Most of the origins of psychic upsets center about daily living. The individual often knows what is bothering him but he won't recognize it or be overcompensates for his problem.

WHEN WE MARRY, we promise to love and honor, but a good many spouses don't like each other after a year or two of marital bliss. But they stick together for various reasons. A man may be in constant torture when at home with his wife yet tells everyone how he adores her and how talented she is. This is overcompensation and, under hypnosis or the truth serum, he will admit it. But the majority bear their fate with resignation or develop symptoms of tension.

Three is a crowd is another factor. Many of the men and women who are involved in a love triangle suffer from feelings of guilt. Sexual frustration is another cause of tension, provided it bothers the individual. Sex has been emphasized beyond reason by our entertainment media, so that many people become unhappy about their humdrum lot.

FINANCIAL PROBLEMS are a well known source of mental unrest because of the tendency to keep up with the Joneses. Children can be devastating to peace of mind when they rule the roost. Many parents hesitate to exert their authority and become disturbed when they must discipline their youngsters.

Family dominance by the husband may upset the wife and vice versa. This includes the little whining woman who is full of hostility and the wife beater who rules by sheer force. Business dominance also is a factor, particularly when the man dislikes his work or his boss. But he cannot quit because he is hog-tied by company benefits or fears that he cannot get another job.

Overdependence on others also can be frustrating, especially in people who don't like to make decisions for themselves. Religion usually is a source of help but not when the person becomes a fanatic in an attempt to cover up his fears. This makes him a nuisance to himself and everyone else.

Easter In Greece Is Most Colorful

By PHILIP DOPOULOS

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Easter is the most colorful of Greek holidays. And the Lenten season that precedes it opens new vistas for gourmets.

This year Greeks will celebrate their Orthodox Easter April 14, the same Sunday as the rest of the Christian world. Normally they lag by several weeks.

Through the 48 days of Lent there is fasting.

For the monks of Mount Athos and other monasteries that dot this Mediterranean country, it means a diet of hardly anything but boiled dandelions and wild mountain grass.

For others there are gastronomic delights.

A typical menu for fasting Greeks for Clean Monday, as the first day of Lent is called, consists of dishes fully approved by the 12-member Holy Synod, ruling body of the Greek Orthodox Church.

The dishes are usually cold and can easily be packed into a picnic basket for the family sortie into the countryside. They must consist of plants or bloodless creatures. This excludes fish as well as meat, poultry and eggs.

A Frenchman, hearing this while visiting Greece at the beginning of Lent, frowned and prepared himself for the worst.

His Greek host served him vine leaves stuffed with rice, black and green olives, caviar, boiled crab and lobster and oysters and clams. This was followed by octopus a la marsala, baby squid fried in olive oil, hearts of lettuce and spring onions and fish roe paste to be eaten with crisp, brown unleavened bread named lagana.

Chilled white wine was served, and to top the meal, there was dessert consisting of halvah with almonds, raisins and shaltsounia — crescent-shaped concoctions of mashed almonds and sugar sprinkled with rosewater and powdered with sugar icing.

After gorging themselves on the opening of Lent, the Greeks generally eat no meat on Wednesdays and Fridays and the religious fast seriously during the Holy Week. Most Greeks eat nothing on Good Friday.

The evening of Good Friday there are religious processions from every parish church. The parish priest, attired in robes and mitre, is followed by a gilded, flower-bedecked cupola under which lies a white cloth, embroidered with the body of Christ in gold.

The most colorful of these processions takes place in Athens, when members of the Greek royal family, Greek government leaders and diplomatic corps, attend services at the cathedral with the Orthodox prelate presiding. Street lamps are shrouded in black veils as a sign of mourning for the Saviour. A band plays a funeral march.

Churches throughout the land are packed with worshippers for Easter services.

Easter Sunday the country is covered by a pall of smoke which might perplex travelers sailing along the coast. It is the cumulative effect of tens of thousands of baby lambs on a spit slowly roasting over open charcoal fires in almost every back yard and village square.

Nuclear, Space Age Spawn New Type Of Officer In Blue

By LOU ARMIJO

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The nuclear and space ages have spawned a new breed of Air Force officers who man laboratories instead of warplanes.

Seventy per cent of the Air Force's Nuclear Effects Research Laboratory staff of 200 is in uniform and half of those hold masters' degrees or doctorates in several fields of physics.

The nuclear laboratory at Kirkland Air Force Base also is brand new. The lab is expected to produce answers to such questions as what effect a nuclear explosion has on a rocket warhead in space; how vulnerable U.S. underground and above ground rocket launching sites are and what can be done to protect personnel.

The lab now has 2.5 million dollars' worth of equipment to simulate nuclear shock and blast and more will be added.

The man who keeps the lab well stocked with brain power is Col. David Jones, a veteran flyer with a scientific background which gives him an edge when recruiting newly graduated scientists.

Jones, chief of the physics division at Kirkland, says a large share of his "blue suiters"— phrase applied to the entire Air Force program for science specialists — come into the Air Force through college reserve officer training programs. Others are professional Air Force officers with enough promise to be sent back to school for advanced training. Still others are young men wooed and won in competition with business and other government laboratories.

The average age of the blue suiters at Kirkland is 27.

"Operationally oriented research," Jones says, is the aim of the Air Force in creating a place for research scientists. That means the researchers will work on problems of urgent interest to the military and with a military point of view.

Most of the blue suiters will spend only three years in the service. While the Air Force would like to keep many longer, perhaps as career officers, the three years is usually enough to produce useful research, Jones says.

"The Air Force research problems are attractive to newly graduated scientists," Jones says. Most can be solved within three years and a civilian core in the laboratory provides for continuity on some projects that take more time.

In the Air Force, Jones says, the research personnel can expect to be given much more responsibility than their beginner civilian counterparts.

To make the Air Force more attractive as a career field the attitude toward specialists is changing, Jones says. In the past there was little room for the specialist on the promotion ladder. He was confined to his specialty and within that specialty there was room for only so many generals, colonels and other ranks.

"In the past an officer was expected to be qualified for any job," Jones said. "But with warfare and weapons becoming more and more complex, that can't be true any more."

They Went To The Horses For Wigs

Wigs may be all the rage, but when producers of the Tamalpais Valley "Rhubarb Revue" found them to be above their budget they turned to horses' tails.

Director Laurie Tusup said human hair was found too expensive for wigs for the comedy show's eight beautiful models.

"My kids were collecting horsehair off fences but they couldn't get enough. So, we hopped into the car and went to a pet food place in Santa Rosa. Actually, we ended up at a slaughterhouse.

"We paid $1.25 for four horsetails, then we washed them in salt water and cut the bones out of them. Then they were washed in hot, soapy water and hung outside in the sun for two weeks.

"My mother (Leonora Jones) and Ollie Smith constructed the wigs, putting them on frames made of wire and buckram, and sewed them with strong thread. Then they sprayed them. We've been knee-deep in horsehair for weeks. But," she continued, "they don't smell any more. They're delightful."

Mrs. Tusup said her mother once made wigs in her native New Zealand but not professionally.

Mrs. Tusup will direct the ninth annual Rhubarb, "Showbiz Daze," to open April 19 and run for three weekends at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Clubhouse. It is Mrs. Tusup's seventh year as director.

Co-managers are Robert Glessner and Dare Royce; Shirley Taldo is in charge of choreography; Nancy and William Bott, set designers; Gene Taldo, stage manager, and Don Ricketts, refreshments.

Esther Allen, Fran Crebassa, Jack Adams, Don Cantin and Glassner wrote the comedy skits; Cheryl Bock plays piano; Art Crebassa and Clyde Preble are music arrangers; Midge Hamburg, business manager and a combo is made up of Ray Truman, Dick and Paul Dunn.

On April 17 the club will be host to the San Rafael Chapter of the Indoor Sports Club.

Proceeds go toward the club's building fund. Tickets are available through Mrs. Robert Glessner, 42 Live Oak Drive.

THREE WITH A DERBY—Donning golden derbies for the ninth annual Rhubarb Revue in Tamalpais Valley are Fran Crebassa (left), Shirley Taldo and Benita Truman. The show will play April 19, 20, 26, 27 and May 3 and 4 at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club on Maple Street. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Sea Launching For Satellite?

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Navy is studying feasibility of launching military satellites from shipboard. Sea launches would provide flexibility, possibility of increased payload and tactical advantage.

Many satellites fired from Cape Canaveral must sacrifice payload weight in favor of added guidance equipment to steer the rocket to a precise position for the desired orbit. If this position were above an ocean area, a ship stationed beneath it could launch the rocket onto the intended trajectory without first dog-legging or otherwise jockeying it on course.

Dormitory Life Can Be Exciting

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Six Defiance College men get their quarters free and are paid a dollar a night besides. They're serving as night firemen and living in the city's fire stations.

But it also means an extra class. The six must attend a regular Monday evening class for all firemen.

One of the six, John Fetter of Napoleon, Ohio, says the job is as exciting as playing football or going to a prom "especially when you tumble out of bed to go to a fire and it's below zero."

Future Park Is Not Dump

MILFORD, Conn. (AP)—Don't call it a dump, George C. Lay, executive secretary of the Milford Planning and Zoning board, warned Mayor Charles R. Iovino.

Lay wrote Iovino that any plans to use low lands first as dumps and later to develop them as parks should be labeled "parks under construction."

"This problem has been pointed out many times during the past 10 years," he wrote. "Several land-acquisition proposals were presented, but the mention of the word dump seems to put a dead stop to any consideration of any new site."

IN PLAYHOUSE ROLE — Donna Pittsey of San Rafael is playing the role of Marie Rose, one of Alfie Nathan's girl friends in the California playhouse production of "A Family Affair," now playing on weekends until June 29 in Oakland.

Word 'Tourism' Called Bad Form

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — "Tourism," the word generally used for the business of selling services and commodities to tourists, ought to be replaced.

That's the opinion of Larry Monthey, recreation industries specialist with the University of Wisconsin.

"All 'ism' words have gained a derogatory connotation, like fascism or momism," Monthey says.

He has started a campaign to revive usage of a word recognized by Webster: "touristry."

Dairy Consumption

NEW YORK (UPI)—Americans rank 16th in per capita consumption of milk and cream among the 17 major producers of these products. We are eleventh in consumption of cheese. The Finns drink the most milk and cream and the Italians eat the most cheese.

Hotel Service

NEW YORK (UPI)—Guests of a Park Avenue hotel are met at the airport by a chauffeured Rolls-Royce equipped with a bar and other appurtenances.

Outside Help To Put On Play

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Small theaters often need outside help to put on plays. The Pittsburgh Playhouse certainly had it for its production of "Anna Kleiber."

Dania Talborg, who had the title role, is from Latvia. Another actor, Laszlo Bogi, was born in Hungary and a third, Ralph Scarpino, is from Italy. Tom Peacock, the director, is a native of Canada.

The play, which takes place in Spain, France and Germany, was written by Alfonso Sastre, a Spaniard, and was first produced in Greece.

White Duck Has Dark Time

Three days later, Voegtli heard a scratching in the exhaust pipe leading from the oil furnace to the chimney.

A plumber opened the pipe and found Mummy—now black and hot.

Less Forest Fires

NEW YORK (UPI) — Forest fires burned less than 3 million acres of national, state and private timberlands last year, government figures showed. This was the lowest toll on record and far below the 47.7 million peak acreage blackened in 1936.

3 New Cherry Varieties Told

BERKELEY (AP)—Three new cherry varieties were released by the University of California for commercial propagation.

Grown in San Joaquin County test plots for 10 years, they were given numbers instead of names until they are approved.

Farm adviser Fred Charles said U.S. 26-15, an excellent dark red cherry, may replace Bing. U.C. 23A-3a is a beautiful cream colored Royal Ann and U.C. 30-9a is considered a black Tartarian replacement.

Penguins Are Everywhere

Marble, wood, iron, tin and glass penguins in assorted colors and sizes roost on dressers and tables and stand on the floor in Dr. Gonzalo Jose Gallegos' seventh floor hotel room on Biscayne Boulevard.

"Every time I pass a curio shop, I browse for new penguins," said Dr. Gallegos, who came to Miami from his native Costa Rica 30 years ago.

Maeanne Jackson of San Rafael, a sophomore at St. Mary of the Plains College at Dodge City, will play the role of Maud Dunlap in the college's production of "The Music Man," to be staged April 26 in the Dodge City Municipal Auditorium.

World War I Vets To Hold Pension Rally

The Veterans of World War I will hold a rally Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Painters Hall, 701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, to support pending legislation to grant pensions to World War I veterans.

Roy Partridge of Larkspur, judge advocate of the veterans' organization, said the rally is not limited to members.

The pension bill, which is in the House Veterans Affairs Committee, would grant $100 a month to World War I veterans whose income is less than $2,400 a year, or $3,600 a year if they have dependents. The California Assembly recently adopted a resolution in support of the federal measure.

Movies At College

Mill Valley artist and traveler Helen Gapen Oehler will show movies and talk about her recent 24,000-mile tour of the South Pacific and Australia at 8 p.m. April 19 at a meeting of the Garden Society of Marin in the chemistry room of College of Marin, Kentfield.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

For every action there is an opposite reaction. This has proved true in urban growth and retail business development where complications of downtown traffic and parking have given rise to the erection of huge shopping centers in areas removed from these problems.

It doesn't necessarily follow that "downtown" then automatically goes out of business. Actually it would be difficult to find a place today where such a thing has taken place unless other factors were involved. The process of action and counteraction continues. When traffic stresses are eased, a measure of patronage flows back and somewhere a "balance" is struck.

DOWNTOWN San Rafael is no different in this respect than any other growing city that has had to face the same problem, and its merchants should not panic with thoughts of Northgate Shopping Center making it a ghost town. Stonestown did not scuttle San Francisco, and though the Emporium built a new store in one it also started to negotiate renewal of its lease with the Parrott Estate in the other long before the expiration date.

It was the observation of an executive of one incoming Northgate firm that the major occupants of the Stanford Shopping Center in Palo Alto should be looked upon as representing potential tenants at Northgate. It's logical to assume, therefore, that such names as Roos-Atkins, Hastings, I. Magnin, Joseph Magnin, Macy's, Lerner and others are on the probability list.

But University Avenue in Palo Alto (though wider than San Rafael's Fourth Street) is still a busy thoroughfare and certainly devoid of neither shopping opportunities nor customers.

In spite of all its drawbacks, downtown San Rafael is still a habit and convenience spot for many Marinites. Merchants should not be complacent about it and the competitive challenge from Northgate may be just what is needed. It's still possible to hold on to a good share of the retail business when thousands of people walk by their stores everyday by making values and buying attractive to them.

SURFWOOD ESTATES, a 640-acre area south of Russian Gulf State Park and fronting on the Mendocino County coast is being developed in one-acre residental sites by a Marin group made up of Leslie Hood, David Van Pelt, Felix Warburg, Francis Newton, John Rockwell, Leslie Smith, Joseph Burton and H. Nicholas Cam.

The property, purchased around the first of the year, consists of 400 to 500 acres of level ground suitable for homesites and the balance is forest. The group is setting aside a large parcel along the scenic ocean front for recreational development, restaurant and inn and possible future quasi-commercial use. A water system is now being developed from a creek on which water rights are owned. Construction on a dam may follow later. About 32 lots are already laid out and approved; another 23 will be ready in the next few months.

Early pilgrims in Asia may have "invented" felt. Using sheep's wool to line their hide shoes, pilgrims on long treks created enough pressure in the shoe to cause the fibers to interlock and become felt.
